Broadway East Plan Has 'Go Ahead' for Hearing

NEWS CAR BURNED BY STUDENTS—Firemen douse flames of newsmen's auto turned over and burned during racial demonstration at the New Stanton High School in Jacksonville, Fla. Car was driven by newsmen of the Jacksonville Journal. Flames and gunfire crackled in sections of this tense seaport for the second night, harshly punctuating racial violence which has killed one person and injured a dozen others. Fires broke out Tuesday night in several Negro areas. Shotgun charges splattered a school building and a police car. Rocks and bottles struck several autos, injuring at least one motorist. 19 Measures Acted Upon

Bill Freeing Doctors Ready for Signature

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—It was up to Gov. Rockefeller today to decide whether he should sign into law the so-called "Good Samaritan" bill, designed to encourage doctors to give emergency treatment at scenes of accidents.

The measure won final legislative approval Tuesday night in the Asssembly. The vote was 104-36.

The bill frees physicians from liability—except for gross negligence—in the event of injury or death of a patient they voluntarily treat in an emergency. Rockefeller has vetoed similar bills in the last two years.

The 1964 Legislature drove toward scheduled adjournment today.

Other legislative activity Tuesday included:

Fair Sabbath—The Assembly passed, 120-25, and sent to the Senate a state-wide Fair Sabbath bill. The measure would permit, without local option, persons who kept a day of the week other than Sunday as their sabbath to keep open their businesses on Sunday.

Estate Taxes — The Senate passed, 49-8, the administration-sponsored bill to eliminate the present 5 per cent discount for payment of estate taxes within six months. The change would yield an additional $5 million in revenue during the new fiscal year. The measure was sent to the Assembly.

Tax Advance — Rockefeller signed a bill to advance payment dates of business and bank taxes, which he had requested. The measure will enable the state to collect $175 million in revenue during the new fiscal year.

Fair Trade — The Assembly turned down a bill designed to prevent cut-price sales of brand-name merchandise.

Firemen's Pay — The Assembly voted final legislative approval for a bill setting at $3,600 a year the minimum salary for permanent, paid firemen in municipalities.

Welfare Workers—The Senate passed and routed to the Assembly a bill that would set a minimum annual salary of $4,500 for welfare case workers throughout the state. Sen. Henry A. Wise, R-Watertown, said the measure was pointed at Albany County, which now has a minimum of $3,000. Most other communities already pay nearly $4,500, Wise said.

School District Reorganization — Assembly Republicans approved and sent to the Senate a measure that would provide inducements for school districts to centralize in accordance with the State Education Department's master plan. Earlier this year, the Assembly passed a bill to repeal a section of the education law that permits the department to withhold aid to districts if it finds that the aid would impede centralization. The bill approved Tuesday would replace the section the earlier bill was designed to repeal.

State Aid—The Assembly approved a bill to extend for one year the life of the Temporary State Commission on Per Capita Aid. It was sent to the Senate. The measure also would change the organization's name to the Commission on State-Local Fiscal Relations. The Assembly also passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would provide $8.2 million in new aid recommended by the commission for those portions of towns which are outside villages.

Public Utilities — The Asssembly rejected a measure that would have eliminated mandatory public hearings by the Public Service Commission on proposed construction of gas or electric plants by public utilities. The bill had gained Senate passage earlier.

School Accounting — The Assembly defeated a bill that would have postponed for one year—to July 1, 1965—the effective date of a law to require school districts to institute a uniform accounting system.

Graduate Study—The Assembly approved and sent to the governor a bill to establish 100 new Regents fellowships for graduate study in the arts, sciences and engineering and 100 other fellowships for part-time graduate study in engineering and science. The bill would appropriate $293,500 for the fellowships.

Narcotics—The Senate passed two bills, sponsored by the Legislature's GOP leaders, to increase jail terms for persons who persistently use narcotics and to mandate prison sen-

GEORGE A. BECK

Chairman Elected By New Zoning Board of Appeals

Attorney George A. Beck was elected chairman of the Kingston Zoning Board of Appeals at its recent organizational meeting.

The only other officer on the board is a clerk and Building Inspector Joseph F. Smith serves in that capacity.

Under provisions of the recently enacted new zoning ordinance the board has five members. The old board had three.

Attorney Beck had served as chairman of the other board since his appointment in 1958. He was recently reappointed by Mayor John J. Schwenk, and is the only member of the former board serving on the new one.

New Members Listed

Newly appointed members of the board attending their first meeting were: Henry Millonig, of 89 Clinton Avenue, state engineer; Mrs. Berkley Murphy, of 48 Van Buren Street, housewife, mother and a secretary at the Kingston IBM plant; Thomas M. Davitt, 25 Charlotte Street, insurance representative, and Charles J. Turck, of 185 Main Street, real estate broker and insurance representative.

Mrs. Murphy is the first woman to serve on the board.

Hearing Tonight

The board's first public hearing is scheduled for 8 p. m., this date, in the city court room, City Hall. Two complaints, a petition for a zoning change, and a request to erect a sign are to be aired.

The board asks interested citizens to attend the meeting "to gain first-hand knowledge of provisions of the new zoning ordinance, and to acquaint themselves with the board's operation".

Wilson in Assembly Booster Group

Carlino Scheme Could Help Him

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock has been named to head an eight-county area Republican campaign committee to stimulate the election of GOP assemblymen in counties which have produced low GOP majorities.

Wilson, Ulster County GOP chairman, said today he had made no plans as yet toward an organization in the area.

The purpose of the campaign committees named throughout the state is to stimulate political activity in the counties where in the past few years Republicans have been elected by five per cent or less majority.

To Confer Today

Wilson, who has served in the Assembly since 1953, was named by Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino to head Region VII embracing Ulster, Otsego, Schoharie, Delaware, Greene, Columbia Dutchess, and Sullivan Counties. It was reported today that Wilson would confer with Speaker Carlino with a view of being relieved of the County of Otsego because of its distance from Ulster.

Wilson, a member of the powerful ways and means committee which handles finances of the state, also serves as a member and chairman of the penal institutions committee; general laws committee, and the insurance commiittee.

Could Be Machine

The Associated Press reported that Speaker Carlino, whose goal is the governor's chair, has established what could be the nucleus of his own state-wide, political organization.

The 46-year-old speaker announced Tuesday the formation of a statewide Assembly Republican campaign committee.

He named as chairman of the campaign unit Assemblyman Perry B. Duryea Jr., who was Carlino's choice for Republican state chairman a year ago. That post went to Judge Fred A. Young.

To Boost Influence

Carlino's efforts to put Duryea in the job were seen as a move by the speaker toward greater influence statewide in the party.

The official purpose of the committee will be to help elect Republican assemblymen this year in districts where the GOP margin has ebbed to less than 5 per cent majority.

Although a gubernatorial election is not scheduled until 1966, maneuvering for the Republican nomination is well under way.

For purposes of the Assembly campaign, the state has been divided into nine regions, each with a regional chairman who will coordinate operations with the central office in Albany.

Regions Listed

These are the nine campaign regions, with the chairman and his home county listed first:

Region I, James F. Hastings — Cattaraugus, Erie, Niagara, Orleans, Chautauqua, Wyoming and Genessee.

Region II, Paul R. Taylor — Yates, Monroe, Livingston, Ontario, Wayne, Seneca and Cayuga.

Region III, Charles D. Henderson—Steuben, Allegany, Chemung, Tioga, Tompkins and Schuyler.

Region IV, John H. Terry — Onondaga, Oswego, Cortland, Broome, Chenango, Madison and Oneida.

Region V, Grant W. Johnson —Essex, Clinton, Franklin, St. Lawrence, Jefferson, Lewis, Herkimer, Hamilton and Fulton.

Region VI, Richard J. Bartlett—Warren, Washington, Saratoga, Schenectady, Montgomery, Region VII, Kenneth L. Wilson—Ulster, Otsego, Schoharie, Delaware, Greene, Columbia, Dutchess and Sullivan.

Region VIII, Daniel Becker—Orange, Putnam, Westchester and Rockland.

Region IX, Edwin J. Fehrenbach—New York City and Long Island.

Will Pursue New Lines of Defense As Ruby Lawyer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, college professor who is Jack Ruby's new head legal counsel, indicates he will pursue new lines of defense in seeking to reverse Ruby's death sentence.

Smith, 56, director of the University of Texas Law School's Law-Science Institute, was introduced Tuesday night as chief defense lawyer by Eva Grant, Ruby's sister.

To Serve Without Fee

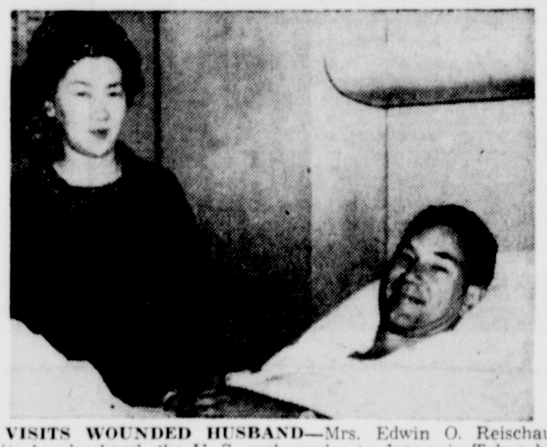
A graduate of Harvard's law and medical schools, Smith said he entered the case, without fee, to see that every relevant issue of the Ruby case was examind scientifically by "the best medical and legal aid available."

He met Ruby for the first time Tuesday but said he had kept up with the trial through another defense lawyer, Joe Tonahill. Ruby was convicted March 14 of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald, President John F. Kennedy's accused assassin, and sentenced to death after a month-long trial.

Ruby's family dismissed Melvin M. Belli of San Francisco, their chief lawyer after his criticism of Dallas and the verdict. A Houston lawyer, Percy Foreman, accepted the case but quit four days later after what he called differences of opinion between himself and the Ruby family.

Cites Venue Basis

Smith, who grew up in Dallas, said he would ask a new trial on the basis Judge Joe B. Brown erred in not transferring the Ruby trial outside of Dallas. Smith said the Dallas jurors "in some degree expressed the community sentiment" of what he called "gloom and dishonor" from President Kennedy's assassination. He said Ruby could have gotten a "less dispassionate" trial elsewhere.



VISITS WOUNDED HUSBAND—Mrs. Edwin O. Reischauer visits her husband, the U. S. ambassador to Japan, in Tokyo hospital after he underwent surgery to repair injury suffered when an assailant plunged a knife into his thigh. Reischauer, 53, is expected to recover within two weeks, according to doctors. His 19-year-old attacker, Norikazu Shiotani, is said to be deranged. (AP Wirephoto)

Army Nearly Operational

Name Ex-Finn Premier As Cyprus Mediator

GENEVA (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant today appointed former Premier Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland as mediator in the Cyprus dispute.

Tuomioja, 52, politician and diplomat, said he would take up his work in the strife-torn east Mediterranean island by the middle of next week.

Cypriots Approve

His appointment was approved Tuesday by Greece, Turkey, Britain and the island's two feuding communities.

Tuomioja, who has been Finland's ambassador to Sweden, said he would fly to New York Sunday for further consultations with Thant.

Tuomioja's mission is to try to bring a permanent peace between the feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities.

He said the Finnish government had given him a six months leave of absence, but "nobody can tell how long it will take." The mediator's mandate from the Security Council is for only three months, but it undoubtedly would be extended if factions and nations involved desired it.

Ready for 2-Fold Task

With Tuomioja's appointment, the United Nations was almost ready to begin its two-fold task of enforcing a peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots and trying to mediate their bloody communal dispute.

Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani, Indian commander of the U.N. peacekeeping force for the island, arrived back in Cyprus and said the international army may be operational by the end of the week. He had been in Geneva for two days of talks with Thant.

The Security Council's March 4 resolution authorized appointment of a neutral negotiator to seek a solution of the three-month-old conflict over the Cyprus constitution. The council also approved sending a peace force to Cyprus for three months while the mediator seeks a permanent accord.

Thant needed the assent of the Greek and Turkish Cypriots as well as Britain, Greece and Turkey, coguarantors of Cyprus' 1960 independence from Britain, before naming Tuomioja as mediator.

Cyprus Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou, a Greek Cypriot, said at U.N. headquarters Tuesday night he had notified the U.N. secretariat that President Makarios of Cypus, who heads the island's Greek majority, had approved Tuomioja.

In Nicosia, the Cypriot capital, Vice President Fazil Kuchuk said he welcomed the nomination. Kuchuk is leader of the Turkish Cypriot faction, which is outnumbered 4 to 1 by islanders of Greek descent.

The British, Greek and Turkish governments advised Thant Tuesday that they approved Tuomioja, who is serving as Finnish ambassador to Sweden.

No Idea of Plan

There was no indication how the Finn would attempt to bring the rival sides together. They are deadlocked over Makarios' desire to amend the Cyprus constitution to remove the veto power which the Turkish minority has over major legislation.

April 8th Date of Session

Starting of Work Eagerly Awaited

Kingston has received "informal approval" of its Part 1 application for the Broadway East urban renewal project, and the "go ahead" for scheduling a first public hearing April 8, Mayor John J. Schwenk reported today.

Urban Renewal Adviser Alexander Yosman, the mayor said, recently received a letter from Housing and Home Finance Agency Regional Director Charles J. Horan, advising that "you should receive formal notice of approval of Part 1 in a few day," and, it said, "we have no objections to your scheduling a public hearing on your urban renewal plan" for the downtown project.

Aim to Avoid Delay

The mayor noted that Yosman had requested permission to schedule public hearings to avoid unnecessary delay while awaiting formal approval of this city's plan for Broadway East.

"I have advised Planning Board Chairman John Salapatis of this action to move the program ahead at full speed," the mayor said, and Salapatis said he would schedule the planning board hearing for April 8 in the Common Council chamber, City Hall.

The purpose of the hearing is "to determine whether the Broadway East plan conforms with the city's Comprehensive Master Plan."

Can Set May Hearing

Holding of the planning board hearing "will permit the Common Council to schedule its public hearing on the plan for sometime in May."

"Once these plans have been completed," the mayor said, "and approved by the planning board and council, the city will enter into a contract with federal and state governments to proceed with the Broadway East project."

Registration Is Set April 17-18 For School Vote

A Board of Registration for registration of qualified voters in the Kingston School District Consolidated has been named by the Board of Education. Appointed to the registration board were Mrs. Virginia Myers, 408 Foxhall Avenue, and Mrs. Elizabeth Keller Sr., of 18 Hanratty Street.

They will sit at the Municipal Auditorium on Broadway Friday, April 17, and Saturday,

How Major Issues Fared During 1964 Legislature

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—This is what happened to the top issues during the 1964 session of the Legislature: (S-Indicates signed by governor.)

Budget—A record, $2.92-billion budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1, up $131 million over the current year, with most of the increase going to education at all levels.

School Aid—A $25-million increase in state aid to public school districts for the next school year in addition to the $1.05 billion originally provided in the budget.

Housing—A plan to authorize, subject to voter approval in November, a $165-milllion bond issue to extend state low-income housing; includes plan to subsidize low-income families in middle-income housing.

Ethics—A compromise bill to tighten the state code of ethics; tighten the ban on accepting gifts and broaden a requirement for disclosing financial interest in state-regulated business; allows lawyer-legislators to continue to practice before state agencies and the Court of Claims.

State Employes — A $40-million-a-year pay raise for the state's 120,000 employes, with a first installment of $12 million in the new budget.

Sunday—To allow athletic and entertainment events to begin at 1:05 p.m. on Sunday, instead of 2 p.m. (S).

Crime— Permits law-enforcement officers to execute search warrants without knocking if, in the opinion of a court, the customary notice would allow de-

Johnson Hopeful on Action For SS Health Care of Aged

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was described today as very hopeful that Congress will act this year on legislation to provide health care for the elderly, financed through Social Security.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, said in an interview that Johnson had canvassed the prospects for the program at a White House meeting with Democratic congressional chieftains Tuesday.

"The President is very interested in getting action on this matter and intends to press for it," Humphrey said.

Johnson told the United Automobile Workers convention in Atlantic City, N.J., Monday: "We are going to pass a medical assistance bill for the aged no matter how many months it takes. The sensible and prudent and lasting way to do this is through the Social Security System."

This pledge was open to at least two different interpretations. Most members of Congress seemed to think the President was conceding that "many months" — stretching into next year—would be required to get a bill passed. Others thought he meant he wanted Congress to stay on this year to get the job done.

Humphrey sided with the latter interpretation. He said he thinks there is a good possibility that some arrangements can be made to get House action on the health care issue.

"I understand some changes in the Social Security laws are

Hail Suppression Program For Valley Is Considered

Members of the Hudson Valley Crop Service Cooperative Inc., with a home office at Poughkeepsie, are now in the process of determining whether it will establish a cloud-seeding project for the protection of fruit and other area farm crops.

Hail suppression would be a main objective and the enrollment goal requires support of enough orchardmen and farmers to bring the total acreage to 15,000.

Elmore Fraleigh, of Red Hook, secretary of the cooperative, meanwhile, announced that "We have just achieved the first important step toward a long-sought goal—to combine hail suppression activities with indemnification against hail loss."

This year, he said, "for the first time, acreage enrolled in the hail suppression program is more than a certain minimum amount of hail damage, and the indemnity is backed by insurance from the Insurance Company of North America."

The next important step, he noted, is 'to make available exclusively to hail-suppression enrollees, indemnification in any desired amount to full crop value at a cost that recognizes your contribution toward hail damage reduction. According to the present outlook, this will give substantial economic and practical benefits to those who enroll as members."

"The program for 1964, embracing drought alleviation and special weather forecasts, along with improved hail suppression," Fraleigh said, "is a better program than ever before. With your (members) early support,

Housing Discrimination Is Reported at Military Bases

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pentagon-ordered survey showed there was housing discrimination against Negro servicemen near 90 per cent of the military bases in the United States, it was disclosed today.

Alfred B. Fitt, deputy assistant secretary of defense for civil rights, told The Associated Press that housing "clearly is the most unyielding" of the various forms of racial bias facing Negroes in uniform.

This discrimination, Fitt said, exists in Northern base areas as well as in the South. Only 31 of 305 bases studied were given a clean bill on this count. Fitts declined to name the 31.

The Pentagon's civil rights chief indicated that by the process of "negotiation and conciliation" base commanders had made progress in easing discrimination against Negro servicemen and their families in off-base schooling, transportation and use of such public facilities as parks and libraries.

"I'm sure that since last fall commanders have secured changes on behalf of their men," Fitt said.

Among other things, base commanders had been told to report whether the "treatment accorded Negro military personnel by the local police (is) in any way different from that accorded white military personnel."

The findings, Fitt said: "No case of significant difference in law enforcement between white and Negro servicemen."

The survey was ordered last September. Its basic objective,

Southern California Has Double Share of Disasters

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Natural disasters? Southern California has had its share, and more, of late.

You name it: Reservoir collapse, flooding, wind, fires and mud.

One observer, pondering recent catastrophes, asked: "'Is this really the land of milk and honey—or of ashes and mud?"

Take the early afternoon of last Dec. 14, a Saturday. The radio began broadcasting bulletins that residents below the Baldwin Hills Reservoir should get out. The reservoir had sprung a leak.

At 3:38 p.m. it broke.

Three hundred million gallons of water cascaded down on houses, apartments, cars and people in a pleasant, comparatively new part of town.

Five lives were lost. Several homes were swept away; some were reduced to kindling. Firemen removed about 2,000 people—in some cases with lifelines, ladders or helicopters.

Damage was estimated at $13 million—about $1 million of it to automobiles. Cleanup and repair are still going on.

While this unwanted gush soaked one area, one of Los Angeles' worst droughts continued, drying brush to tinder.

A week ago Sunday night, warm winds off the Mojave Desert howled through canyons at 90 miles per hour, blew down thousands of trees and unroofed several houses.

The winds broke scores of windows, caused power failures lasting hours and toppled a tree that killed a man. An agency representing 380 insurance companies estimated the windstorm and business buildings at a losss of more than $2 million.

That was only part of it. The wind knocked down power lines whose sparks started fires in parched brush. Flames charred 11,600 acres. Firemen said 20 homes were destroyed in two fires in the Glendale-Burbank area, just 12 miles north of downtown Los Angeles. The insurance agency put the count at 30 homes and the loss at perhaps $2 million more.

The fires, in turn, set the stage for fresh disaster Monday—a sea of oozy mud from flame-denuded watershed.

"All we heard was a great big whooshing sound. And then it was on top of us," said Ralph Johnson after a wall of mud smashed out a sliding glass door and covered every room in his house with four feet of soupy mud.

Other residents reported similar misfortune.

The picture isn't all muddy black.

The more than one inch of rain is a blessing for growers of dry-farmed crops — barley, wheat, hay, beans.

Model Planes Banned

PERRY, Ga. (AP) — Model airplane flyers may no longer use the airport at Perry — the Federal Aviation Agency says they are endangering regular aircraft.

City Council notified Police Chief J.B. Hawkins this week to keep model plane flyers off the runways of Myrtle Field after the FAA formally complained.

Real Road Hogs

They Like the Clink

Dirth of Silver Dollars to Hurt Nevada Casinos

RENO, Nev. (AP)—The gray-haired lady in a turquoise print dress flitted from one gleaming slot machine to the next in the big Reno gambling casino, plunking in silver dollars.

"I like the clink and the way they feel," she said. "Chips or slugs just wouldn't be the same."

Veteran Nevada casino operators concur.

"It's going to hurt us if we don't get more silver dollars," said Raymond I. (Pappy) Smith spry, 76-year-old cofounder of famed Harolds Club in Reno. "It's going to cost this club more than $100,000 a year."

The Treasury's supply of silver dollars, more than 900 million at the start of 1963, has shrunk to fewer than 17 million, and those aren't expected to last long. The House Appropriations Committee has rejected legislation to pay for minting 150 million new silver dollars.

Collectors and speculators have gobbled up many of the Treasury's reserve dollars.

The silver dollar is a tradition in the daily commerce of some Western states. But nowhere do the cartwheels flow in such streams as across Nevada's legal gambling tables and into the gulping slot machines.

The lady in the turquoise dress played as many as five machines at once.

"I like the big payoff," she said, after feeding the machines 50 coins in less than three minutes.

Greenwich Village Places to Close, Honky-Tonks Out

By MALCOLM STEPHENSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The cook will have to hang up his apron at the Four Winds, which advertises a "creepy kitchen, mangy menu, despicable doorman, horrible host, wretched waitress, awful owner and malicious manager."

Gone forever, perhaps, is "another world not unlike the Arabian Nights" — the description emblazoned on a sign over the entrance of the Club Bizarre.

The boss at the Feenjon Restaurant will have to lay aside that eagle feather he uses to strum on an oud — the Near Eastern instrument that sounds like a guitar and looks like a watermelon cut in half.

The dire news spread quickly Tuesday through the narrow, crooked streets of Greenwich Village.

The City Buildings Department ordered 11 coffeehouses and four open-front stores to discontinue operations on the ground they "contribute to a honky-tonk atmosphere" that violates a new zoning resolution.

The four-block area affected is bounded by streets whose names are familiar to every bohemian everywhere — Macdougal, West Third, Sullivan and Bleecker.

Buildings Commissioner Harold Birns said the area has been zoned for limited local retail use and the coffee houses, which provide entertainment, are not permitted in such districts.

Thus ended another battle in the city's war on coffee houses —many of which have brought complaints from neighbors.

Fumes Fatal to One

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Gas escaping at a broken connection in an ammonia line killed one man and overcame five others Tuesday at the Blue Ribbon Packing Co.

Cordell McGee, 30, died before firemen wearing gas masks could carry him and a second worker from the loading area where the accident happened. The ammonia is used as a refrigerant at the plant and in the firm's trucks.

ADN said the delegation was coming at the invitation of the East German Communist party but did not give the exact date of the visit.

Scholarship Is Awarded Local Biology Teacher

It has been announced that Robert Fitzmaurice, local biology teacher, has been awarded a National Science Foundation Scholarship for this summer and the following academic year at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.

Fitzmaurice received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Biology from Central Connecticut State College in 1959 and will receive his Masters of Science Degree from the State University College of Education at New Paltz, New York this June. Credits earned at Temple will be applicable to an additional advanced degree.

The National Science Foundation, an independent agency of the Federal Government, pays for all instructions and tuitional fees as well as additional support in the form of a stipend and dependency allowances. The program is directed toward secondary school science teachers because of their vital role in the national effort to improve the understanding and mastery of science in the United States.

ROBERT FITZMAURICE

Besides teaching biology for the past five years, Fitzmaurice was Junior Class Advisor for three years. This past fall he coached cross country and this spring will assist in track. He is married to the former Mercedes Dillion of Lakeville, Connecticut. They have three children and reside at 54 Linderman Avenue, Kingston.

In releasing the announcement, Robert A. Boyle Jr., chairman of the Science Department, says the Kingston Consolidated School System and the Science Department in particular, are extremely proud to have one of its teachers a recipient of such a grant.

Many From Here Attend Workshop Of Library Group

More than 60 area librarians and library board members attended an all day workshop last week at the headquarters of Mid-Hudson Libraries, 105 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, five-county public library system.

The workshop was conducted by Miss Martha Dykes and Miss Juliette Bryson, consultants with Mid-Hudson Libraries.

Extending public library service to community groups, including both adults and children, was emphasized. The use of exhibits, work with community organizations, book talks, story hours, incentive reading programs, and school visits were among the topics discussed in the morning session. New adult and juvenile books for spring were presented at the afternoon session.

Newlywed Is Excused By News, Bible Verse

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A newspaper clipping and a Bible verse got a newlywed excused from a week's jury duty Tuesday.

Clyde Nathan Williams approached Judge Arnold Krichamer and handed him two pieces of paper.

One was a news clipping telling of his marriage to Miss Glenda Cone March 7.

On the other piece of paper, Williams had copied the fifth verse of the 24th chapter of Deuteronomy:

"When a man hath taken a wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business: but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken."

The judge checked the passage in a Bible he keeps on his desk and sent Williams home.

Original Scroll Of Hardenbergh Grant Discovered

The original document of the Hardenbergh or Great Patent may soon become the property of the Sullivan County Historical Society, President Bert S. Felman of Mangaup Valley, disclosed at the regular March meeting.

This document, signed by Queen Anne of Britain, early in the 18th century, granted to the manor lord, Robert R. Livingston, and about a dozen others, the largest area ever bestowed by a monarch in the state. In actuality it gave Johannis Hardenbergh, a Hurley farmer, and the others exclusive rights to purchase title from the Indians.

However, as usual, the original owners, the redskins, were cheated for neither had Queen Anne intended to give so much nor did the Indians expect to sell so much. The grantees acquired title eventually to most of what we know as Sullivan, half of Ulster, all of Delaware and part of Greene Counties.

President Felman, without revealing the exact location of this crucial document, said to be the number one copy, has disclosed that Acting State Historian, William G. Tyrrell, expects to check its validity with other experts of the New York State Education Department.

Without question the document, which will be given with the signet ring used by the Queen, will be the most valuable single acquisition of the educational society.

President Feldman said he hopes it can be displayed in the rotunda of the Sullivan County Court House.

Civil Service Exam

The U.S. Civil Service Commission has announced a new examination for Medical Technologist for duty in the Veterans Administration installations in the United States (except Hawaii and Alaska) and in Puerto Rico. Medical Technologists perform a variety of professional duties in clinical and research laboratories throughout the Veterans Administration's nationwide network of hospitals and clinics. The salaries range from $4,690 to $8,410 a year. Appropriate academic training is required for the entrance level positions with additional training or prefessional experience for the higher levels. Applications will be accepted until further notice. Civil Service announcements and application forms may be obtained from Leo W. Darwak, examiner in charge, Central Post Office, Kingston.

Ski Invitation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, sent Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy a telegram Tuesday inviting the attorney general and his family to come skiing in Utah Easter weekend.

Moss said he had read that the attorney general and other members of the Kennedy family had been unable to get reservations at Sun Valley, Idaho.

"Invite all the Kennedys to come to Utah," Moss said. "Our snow exceeds 100 inches in depth, topped by new powder. Can assure excellent accommodations in Salt Lake City."

EDUCATION COSTS SPIRAL

The high cost of education is no news to parents with a son or daughter in college, or planning to go to college.

Contrary to what they might think, however, this involves more than just generally rising prices for goods and services. To an increasing extent, it is a reflection of a fundamental change in our society — the demand for quality and complexity, both in tools and in knowledge.

Rutgers University, for example, notes a surge in its operating costs from 11.5 million in 1953 to nearly $28 million in 1963 and gives a few reasons why. A list of recently installed equipment includes:

An electron microcope for the College of Engineering—$35,000.

A nuclear magnetic resonance spectrometer for the School of Chemistry—$27,000.

A bubble chamber computer for the Department of Physics—$180,000.

A supersonic wind tunnel for the Engineering Center — $20,000; auxiliary equipment—$7,000.

An analog computer and associated equipment—$50,000.

A cup-size platinum crucible for the School of Ceramics—$500.

Nor is this "knowledge inflation" confined to the science schools. All other departments offer similar, if less spectacular, examples. Simple growth of the student body, staff and physical plant is no negligible factor, either.

The university has had to expand its telephone switchboard to a capacity rivaling that of many nearby communities, and set up a Department of Parking and Transportation and a 24-hour-a-day radio car patrol on the campus.

This is what is known as higher—and higher—education.

A $10,000-a-year pay raise is a substantial one, but most congressmen don't regard it as anything to talk about—at least not for the record.

ALAS FOR SUPERSTITION

The fruits of superstitution just don't seem to be as juicy as they once were. It used to be that now and then there would be a news story about a supersitition borne out by experience. Lately the trend appears to be in the other direction.

Consider what happened to an investment group — one of those clubs that take occasional flyers in stock — on that recent Friday the 13th. It happened that the club had 13 members, one with a birthday on that day. They found a local company (on 13th street, no less) whose stock was selling at 13. It seemed like a natural, so they bought —whereupon the stock, instead of shooting up phenomenally, also closed at 13.

Consider further a recent incident at University College in London. A coven of professed witches assembled to give the evil eye to a lecturer who delivered a paper denying the reality of witchcraft and said that legendary gatherings of witches "existed solely in the mind and remained a fabrication of the mind."

And did the listening witches fix the lecturer with baleful glances and turn him into a toad or a newt? Alas, no. It seems a pity, but superstition just isn't what it used to be.

Scranton declares he would accept a "sincere and honest draft" for the vice presidential nomination. That all but blows his hat into the presidential ring.

PHONY DAMAGE SUITS

The charge that America is in a moral decline is heard with disturbing frequency. This is not necessarily true. But there are discouraging trends. Vandalism, juvenile delinquency, petty crimes are on the upgrade.

Some tend to blame it all on "this obstreporous younger generation." But it would not hurt to look a little closer to home. Too many adults seem to be trying to pervert our system of judicial redress into legalized blackmail. We refer to the rising number of suits for damages, and to the increase in the amounts sought.

Consider what happened on a single recent day in one city. While the court was throwing out one $50,000 suit by a woman who fell after stepping on a lettuce leaf in a supermarket, another similar action was being filed against another supermarket. In the second suit, the plaintiff sought $100,000.

Many damage suits are legitimate, to be sure. But if there is any sound way to avoid it, phony suits should not be allowed to clog trial dockets at the public's expense. Maybe the taxpayers should be awarded damages against those who plainly make a racket of the practice.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

WHEN THE MARCHING IS DONE

When the marching and demonstrating are all done, and the Negro has been accorded the full protection of the Bill of Rights, what then? He will have to face up to the problem that is everybody's — the old, old problem of wresting a living for himself in a world that still pays its most deferential respect to that ancient folk wisdom, "the Lord helps those who help themselves."

In the current superheated climate of opinion, it is hard to get this idea across without incurring the suspicion of CORE and other fighting Negro organizations that one is a supporter of what is contemptuously dismissed as "Uncle Tomism." But this is an unjust conclusion, for I think the Negro ought to go all out to compel the trade unions which persistently discriminate against him to open their doors to all comers.

Beyond this, the happiest thing that any Negro can do is to support the evidence that his particular ethnic group is just as capable of creative development as any other minority that has made a place for itself in the American world. In the rise of the Irish, a money-making Joseph P. Kennedy had to come before a John F. Kennedy. Fortunately for the Negro's future beyond the civil rights watershed, some Negroes are proving the case for their creativity at the very moment.

I think, for one instance, of Mallie Robinson, the mother of Jackie Robinson, the epoch-making athlete who was chosen by that practical evangelist, Branch Rickey, to break the color line in major league baseball. Mallie is a great woman. She is currently engaged in pomoting a centennial celebration of the birth of George Washington Carver, the Negro genius whose work with plants and oils created the strange new science that goes by the name of chemurgy. Carver was born a slave in Missouri toward the end of the Civil War. Somehow he got an education and a degree of Master of Science. Without any millions to back his research, he learned how to turn peanuts into such things as plastics, synthetic coffee, paper, and insulating materials. He devised formulas for making paving blocks out of cotton, breakfast foods out of the sweet potato, face powders out of common clays. He made billions of dollars for other people, but nothing much for himself. Thomas A. Edison tried to hire him at a big salary, but George Washington Carver preferred to stick to his homemade laboratory in the South.

It might have been better if George Washington Carver had been more mercenary: he could have taken the fees offered to him and plowed them back into productive businesses for his race. What the Negro needs today is more millionaires with a will to deploy their capital constructively. He needs men like S. B. Fuller, who was once a Chicago soap salesman. Thirty years ago Mr. Fuller had nothing save his energy, which he applied to door to door marketing. Today he has nine cosmetic companies, which have an interracial personnel and interracial sales. Some 3,000 people do door to door selling for him, and of these 500 are white. Ironically, the clamor for further integration of the Fuller companies comes from the whites. The Fuller Products Company recently bought a million dollar building in Chicago which it plans to turn into a great modernized shopping center.

Mr. Fuller thinks it strange that Negroes will invest money in church property but not generally in businesses. He points out that Negro purchasing power adds up to some twenty billion dollars a year. Rightly directed, this could create a capital of a couple of billion dollars for Negro businesses. This wouldn't be Black Muslinism, for, like Mr. Fuller, the new Negro commercial enterprises could also hire white people and sell to white people.

Coming back to Mallie Robinson and her George Washington Carver centennial, it is noteworthy that Negroes own a New York City banking chain with assets of $25 million. It is called the Carver Federal Savings and Loan Association. Thus the image of George Washington Carver leaps from the world of peanuts and sweet potatoes to bless a Negro enterprise devoted to the amassing of productive capital for many other things.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Plasma Expanders Are Doing Medical Miracles

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The astronomers say that the universe is expanding. Your doctor, with his sights closer to earth, is content to find a useful plasma expander. This is a substance that is cheap and can be used instead of a transfusion of human whole blood or plasma in treating shock or hemorrhage.

One of the most useful of the plasma expanders that has been found to date is known as dextran, which is a high molecular weight glucose.

Now a new type of dextran with a low molecular weight, LMD, first made in England but now available in this country, has been discovered. It has been found to have uses far beyond the treatment of shock and hemorrhage due to its ability to prevent the clumping together or "sludging" of red blood cells in the smaller blood vessels.

It was used, for example, to treat a 16-year-old girl who had extensive burns and severe fractures of both legs. After her wounds had been treated and shock had been controlled, the circulation in both her feet was found to be failing and her toes showed early signs of gangrene.

It was believed that the toes would have to be amputated when the local counterpart of Dr. Casey suggested a transfusion using LMD. Within an hour after this was started the circulation began to return to both feet. Soon thereafter the young woman was able to move her toes and to feel pin pricks—neither of which she could do before.

An older woman who had Raynaud's disease had beginning gangrene of the tip of one finger. She was given LMD on three successive days. Again within one hour after starting the first transfusion the pain in her finger disappeared and the finger, formerly cold and blue, became pink and warm.

Another woman with a clot in the large femoral artery in her left thigh complained of severe pain. Her leg below the clot was cold and blue and no pulse could be felt in the leg. Within an hour after starting a transfusion of LMD her pain was subsiding and the circulation had returned to her leg.

This is the kind of scientific breakthrough man has waited thousands of years for. More can be expected in the future.

Washington News

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — Congress is working hard this year at getting a new image for itself. The best evidence is the way it is shoving the big money bills along.

Most of the lawmakers were pretty unhappy over the endless volleys of criticism which came their way in 1963. These added up to saying they either would not or could not take care of the people's business within reasonable bounds of time. The cry for reform was loud.

There is no sign of real reform on the 1964 horizon. But, at least in the appropriations field, there is a sharp change of mood and a new sense of purpose.

Two appropriations bills, governing the Interior Department and the District of Columbia, already have been banged out of the House Appropriations Committee. By the time this appears, another bill, covering Treasury and Post Office, probably will be reported.

Four other major money bills, including the one for defense, are nearing this stage and should be ready for reporting soon after the Easter recess.

HOUSE COMMITTEE OFFICIALS SAY this first wave of appropriations measures is right on schedule—a very tight schedule that, hopefully, would bring out the last bill, on foreign aid, by June 5.

A similarly stiff schedule is being kept thus far in the Senate. There, of course, the natural threat to a steady pace is the prospect of a protracted civil rights debate.

Should the 1964 chedules somehow be maintained, both houses might sweep the boards clean of appropriations bills by the time Republicans gather in San Francisco July 13 for their national convention.

Says a Senate official wistfully: "We might get a summer vacation for the first time in years."

LAST YEAR THE FINAL MONEY MEASURES did not clear Congress until Dec. 19 21. For a time it appeared they would go over into 1964.

June 30 is supposed to be the deadline for these bills, since the new fiscal year starts July 1 and the money should be available then. Congress has not met that deadline for years. But the delays of 1963 were the final embarrassment.

When critics shouted that Congress had become a "roadblock to needed legislation," some legislators simply hollered back that they were under no compulsion to pass administration proposals they considered bad for the country. Doing nothing, they argued, could be a positive thing.

Yet they could not explain delays of three to six months in accomplishing what is supposed to be routine business—providing government with the money to run.

Smarting under well-deserved censure on this score, key lawmakers determinedly set out to make 1964 a new ball game.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON GAINED much public credit for applying financial spurs to Congress as the new year dawned. House sources say, however, that men on the Hill let him know in advance that they wanted it this way. They were fed up with the indefensible stretch-out of congressional effort.

The 1963 stretch-out did, in the end, produce a $6.5 billion slash below the late President Kennedy's last budget estimates. The cut was not wholly realistic. Some of that money will be restored in the pending $2.22 billion supplemental appropriation bill. The reduction nevertheless was impressive.

House appropriations experts began this year by slicing $24.5 million off Interior Department budget estimates for 1965. But Congress will be hard pressed to match its 1963 cuts. That $6.5 billion figure has been equalled or surpassed only twice in history.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

March 25, 1944 — Newburgh was due to test use of fluorine in its water supply with Kingston as the test control, or abstaining city, in an experiment of several years under state health department control.

Dame Rumor, Kingston High School paper, won a first prize in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's competition in New York City.

John J. Fisher, who had lived 22 years in Stony Hollow, died.

The Red Cross set up a "Pioneer of War" display at the L.S. Winne store, Wall Street.

March 25, 1954 — Razing of buildings in the downtown "clearance" area, designated in conjunction with the Colonial Gardens housing project, was due to start within two years.

William C. Kingman, 83, of Highland Avenue, many years treasurer and general manager of the Canfield Supply Co., died.

An attendance of 2,600 was reported at the Lions Club exposition on its second night.

The Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association planned to honor Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, of Kingston, at a May 25 banquet.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

High Point, N. C. — The car stops beside the little house. The County Extension Agent, tall and thin, gets out in sections. He looks across the backyard to where the tobacco farmer sits at a paint-chipped table and he says "Hi." Jesse Columbus East, a stout man who talks in purring growls, looks up and says "Hi." He knows that Willard Kimrey, the agent, has no good news.

Kimrey slings his leg across the bench. He sits, looking at the farm with the squint of an expert. He sees the barn with the new calves, the curing sheds, the isolated pin oaks, and the leanto where East's big son Darryl is welding tobacco frames with blue lightning. "How many acres you putting in tobacco?" Kimrey says.

East looks up briefly, and smiles a crooked smile. His big stubby fingers are chipping the paint off the picnic table. He has been growing tobacco all his life. His father grew it. So did his grandfather. Now Jesse East is 65 years old and the government tells him that his tobacco gives people cancer.

"About 20," East says. "We gonna put 25 acres in small grain and maybe 20 in corn and hay." He lifts a pack of Tareytons from his breast pocket and taps one on the table. He says he smokes a pack and a half, but it's closer to two. The sun brightens his pearl gray fedora, and he says he thinks this stuff about cancer will pass away. "It's going to be tough for a little while," he says, "and then it will go away."

It won't. Not this time. The Surgeon General's Report is pulling the rug from under Mr East and 3,700 other tobacco farmers in Guilford County. "What will you do," Kimrey says, watching a stray dog approach the table timidly, "if it don't go away." Mr. East requires time to answer. The blue smoke curls from his nostrils in breathing wisps.

"Don't know," he says softly. "I just don't know." In this, he speaks for scores of thousands of other tobacco farmers. 'In three states, they raise enough tobacco for 530,000,000,000 cigarettes, not counting leaf for cigars and snuff. East can't raise vegetables. He tried it and found that Alabama farmers can raise the stuff and sell it here in North Carolina cheaper than his cost price.

The farmers plant their tobacco in May and reap in late July or early August. They hang the leaves on racks in curing sheds and light oil burners under them. The leaves are dry in six days, and are under the autioneer's hammer by autumn. The government has 154 separate grades of tobacco. The top grade is A.1.F. and commands a support price of 84 cents a pound. The cheapest is N.I.G.G. and gets 24 cents. Jesse East grows a good grade of flue-cured bright leaf. It is worth 56 cents a pound.

If the buyers offer him 57 cents or better, he sells. If not, he gives it to the government for the 56 cents price support price. Last year, he got 1,900 pounds out of each acre he planted. He planted 20. It was a good year and he got 61 cents a pound. That comes to $23,180. He fed the corn and hay to his 24 head of black angus cattle, and sold three for $1,000. He sold his 25 acres of small grain for $1,562.50.

Mr. East's income was $25,742.50. Some of it was used to keep his family. Some was used for Darryl's family. Some was used to buy seed. Some went for three tractors he uses. A little went to the bank. It's a poor return on 65 acres.

"A man has to take in a right smart bit of money," Jesse East said. Like all farmers, he lives and dies with the weather. He scans the sky at all hours, because the sky is a fortune teller. He could probably sell his farm for $500 or better an acre, and get another ten thousand for the bungalow. This would come to $42,500, but he wouldn't know what to do with his hands.

He watched a gray squirrel under the hickory tree, cracking nuts. Mr. East nodded approvingly. "He works hard for what he gets," he said. Willard Kimrey stood up and stretched his long arms. "Nothing is easy," he said, saying nothing and committing himself to nothing. "In this county we have 9,000 acres in tobacco.

The acetylene torch died off in the lean-to and Darryl took the square mask off. "How's them frames comin'?" Jesse East yelled. His son nodded. Darryl is 28, broad-beamed and stubby fingered like his father. "It's going to be a bad row," Jesse said, as Kimrey walked off.

"Nobody ever writes anything about the farmer's side," said the County Agent. "I wouldn't know what to tell you to plant instead of tobacco." He pointed vaguely to the little houses in the distance. "Broometown has always been good tobacco," he said.

Jesse East picked his frame off the bench. "Nobody ever helped us before," he said, and the cautious grin was on again. "Don't need it now, neither. I just wish people wouldn't go out of their way to hurt us."...

Handling of Baker Case Is Leaving Mountains of Doubt

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—There is a right way and a wrong way to handle the so-called Bobby Baker case. A Senate committee has taken the wrong course by virtually shutting off the investigation of the former secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate. This means that the battle of innuendoes will continue, and the American people will get the impression that something is being hushed up and the truth concealed about a matter that concerns the conduct of a prominent employe of the upper house of Congress.

The right way to dispose of the matter—and it still can be done—would be for the Senate committee to choose a commission of five or more outstanding citizens, either retired judges or other distinguished lawyers, to examine all the evidence and give the American people an impartial report. Testimony could be taken in public or in private, with the objective of getting at the truth and stating it authoritatively, together with recommended courses of action governing the future conduct not only of employes of members of Congress but of Senators and Representatives themselves.

Such national commissions are used in Great Britain and Canada, and they help to keep an issue from becoming a political football while the investigation itself is being carried on. The commissions are empowered to subpoena witnesses and to hear them in closed session or in public. Testimony is given under oath, and the laws with respect to perjury govern.

The trouble with the way the Bobby Baker case has been handled is that the Democrats may have unwittingly conveyed the idea that they want to hide something. The Republicans, on the other hand, have been pointing the finger of suspicion at the handling of the case by the Democratic majority on the committee.

This is no unusual behavior on the part of politicians. If the Republicans were in the majority today, the Democrats would be quick to use the same tactics to expose any suspected wrongdoing by any one in the opposite party. But the country is getting the wrong impression about the integrity of the Senate itself. People are being led to believe that behind the scenes there are undisclosed scandals.

Because some of the persons mentioned in the Bobby Baker case are closely identified with the Johnson administration, the Republicans naturally are no at all hesitant to let it be inferred that the Democratic Administration itself is somehow responsible for wrongdoing.

What has actually happened probably is not much different from what has occurred in previous Administrations. Two wrongs, however, do not make a single right. There centainly were indiscretions and improprieties and unethical conduct involved in the Bobby Baker case, and there should be a complete exposure of the transaction themselves. Whether or not these include the breaking of any law on the part of anybody, they nevertheless convey to the public impressions of improper behavior by some employes of the Congress.

There is no doubt that Bobby Baker, while secretary of the Democratic majority in the Senate, carried on a lot of big transactions in business and finance. Did those who participated with him on the outside have the feeling that they were going to be able to avail themselves of some kind of political pressure or influence in official circles? Was Bobby Baker trading on his position, or was he merely engaging in the same kind of business transactions he would have been carrying on if he had not been employed by the Senate?

The problem really concerns the propriety of the private transactions not only of employes but of members of Congress themselves. They cannot, of course, be expected to give up all the rights normally granted to citizens to engage in business or finance. But the phrase "conflict of interest" has been prominent in the news in recent years, and a growing consensus has approved the principle that persons employed by the government must make sacrifices and not involve themselves in any transaction that could raise a question of impropriety or lack of ethics.

Certainly the government of the United States has a right to expect its employes to give their whole time and attention to their jobs and not to be engaged in side businesses while they are in government employ. If those businesses are in any way related to pending legislation of to action by government agencies, prompt disclosure of any such conflict of interest is obviously necessary. But until some impartial and objective body like a national commission tackles the subject and produces some feasible plan for the handling of these ticklish questions, there will be a constant recurrence of suspicion and charges and counter-charges.

There is no reason why the Commission's report could not be completed in less than three months. Then, if there were a campaign issue in it, the public would be able to judge exactly what is the responsibility of the incumbent Administration or of the particular members of Congress whose names have been mentioned in the course of the inquiry.

A Good Talking Point Though

Both Sides Say All-Out War Unthinkable---Is It Truth?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hereafter all-out war is unthinkable. President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev are agreed on that. But saying so doesn't make it a fact, although it is a good talking point.

Both sides have been talking about it since the first of the year.

The Johnson administration apparently has adopted a policy of preaching it. Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, made a big pitch on it two nights ago. Johnson followed up Tuesday.

Khrushchev had so much to say about it at the start of 1964 that his few thousand well-chosen words took up almost a whole newspaper page.

Last New Year's Eve he told every country with which the Soviet Union has diplomatic relations that no one but a madman could think of all-out war anymore.

He proposed an international agreement renouncing the use of force in settling international disputes.

Time Ripe: Johnson

Not to be outdone in this "peace offensive," Johnson answered him the very next day, saying "the time for simply talking about peace has passed—1964 should be a year in which we take further steps toward that goal."

At that time Johnson didn't answer directly some of the points raised by the Russian. The State Department had to do some thinking about it first. But meanwhile, in his Jan. 8 State of the Union message, Johnson said: "Our ultimate goal is world without war."

Then, as if to reassure anyone who might fear he could be gulled by Russian soft-talk, Johnson said "we must be constantly prepared for the worst, constantly acting for the best."

No Meeting of Minds

Ten days later he answered Khrushchev's New Year's Eve message directly but hardly with optimism. If it showed anything, it showed a meeting of the minds wasn't close.

For instance: in his message to Johnson, among other things he wanted to see cleared up in various places, things that conflicted with Russian interests or desires, Khrushchev said that Formosa belongs to Red China and the United States should back off it and away, which would mean abandoning the American ally, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Naturally, from the American view, Johnson wouldn't buy any of that. And, while he agreed with Khrushchev's central theme of peace, he outlined some areas where he wanted the Russians to lay off.

No Agreement Yet

Three days later, Jan. 21, the United States went Khrushchev one better by proposing the big powers freeze the numbers and types of their big nuclear weapons. There has been no agreement on that, either.

On Monday night Stevenson at Princeton suggested "the central trend of our times is the emergence of what, for lack of a better label, might be called a policy of cease-fire and peaceful change.

"I would suggest we may be approaching something close to a world consensus on such a policy. We may have slipped imperceptibly into an era of peaceful settlement of disputes."

Eye to Eye on All-Out War

Right behind him came Johnson Tuesday in a talk to an AFL-CIO group in Washington. He suddenly departed from his prepared speech—all about his hopes at home—to talk about peace and foreign affairs.

He said: "The world as it was and the world as it is are not the same anymore. Once upon a time even large-scale wars could be waged without risking the end of civilization but what was once upon a time is no longer so—because general war is impossible.

This is just about what Khrushchev said: No one but a madman could think of all-out war anymore. Johnson and Khrushchev are agreed on that. Trouble is, they haven't agreed on how to make sure.

Tax Cut a Help

Easter Buying Appears Headed For New Record

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Easter buying appears headed for a record, helped by a boost from the income tax cut.

Merchants say most of the effect of the tax reduction is psychological because taxpayers haven't realized much as yet in the way of savings.

Shopping got off to a rather fast start because Easter falls so early this year, and was reported picking up steam as the holiday appproached.

In New York, J. Gordon Dakins, executive secretary of the National Retail Merchants Association, said reports from around the country indicated a 5 per cent gain over last year although snows, floods and tornadoes hampered shopping in some areas.

Dakins said the tax cut was one element making it possible to sell more goods. People have fewer worries and more confidence in the future, he said, and are spending accordingly.

Most of the money, as usual, is going into apparel for the Easter parades.

An Associated Press survey of major cities indicated the buying trend is up in most areas.

"On a day for day basis we are beating sales recorded the same number of days before Easter last year," said Geofffrey Swaebe, president of the May Co. department stores of Los Angeles. "We are looking forward to the impact of the tax cut being very good."

Circus Launches Stand at Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—A smiling young man tamed eight snarling tigers. A beautiful blonde girl did 100 body flips hanging by one arm. Hannibal crossed the Alps with 50 girls in short lavender togas and red-plumed gold helmets.

It was the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Cricus, opening a 48-day stand in Madison Square Garden Tuesday night.

Garden Half Filled

The crowd, which little more than half filled the 15,000-seat hall, consisted mostly of adults, some in evening dress.

For most of three hours all three rings were busy with clowns, acrobats, aerialists or "super-spectacles."

But for tiger tamer Charly Baumann, a one-time German movie actor, the spotlights converged on his circular cage in the center ring and his eight big tigers.

Without any protection from the beasts, he put them through their paces, moving the furniture himself between tricks. One playful tiger frequently grabbed him by the neck as he passed, and licked his head affectionately.

Other Crowd Pleasers

Other crowd pleasers were La Toria, who did the body flips in the air; Chrystine Holt, who juggled three dumbbells while hanging by her hair from a rope that lifted her to the ceiling, and the Great Doval, who skipped rope on a high wire.

Midgets were fired from cannons, a clown removed an endless sweater, a woman was shrunk in a washing machine.

Dogs did the hula, the highland fling, the Irish jig, ballet in a tutu, and the American flag march—all on their hind legs in time to solid band music.

Camels walked on their knees, llamas jumped hurdles, people juggled and did handstands on unicycles, swinging trapezes and ladders.

94th Annual Tour

George Hanneford Jr. did a backward somersault from one running horse to another, then rolled out of the ring knocking over a passing cotton-candy salesman, who in turn was chased out the door by a rampaging bulldog.

The circus set out Jan. 16 from Miami Beach, Fla., on its 94th annual tour. It winds up back in Florida in mid-November after playing arenas in most major cities in the country.

Gov. Rockefeller Struggles On Liquor-Pricing Bill As Adjournment Is Near

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller struggled fiercely behind the scenes to rescue his liquor - pricing bill from the brink of defeat as the 1964 Legislature ground toward adjournment today.

Rockefeller's political strategists feared failure would tarnish his national "image" as a leader and thus impair his drive for the Republican presidential nomination.

The official closing of the 1964 session was set for 2 p.m. But the dramatic battle over the liquor measure and pending action on an array of minor measures indicated the session would run into the night.

The custom is to stop the clocks in the Senate and Assembly chambers while debate continues. Both houses worked into the early morning hours today.

Rockefeller poured pressure onto rank-and-file Republican lawmakers Tuesday after GOP legislative leaders reported his liquor bill had run into heavy opposition.

A 'Must' He Says

The measure, tabbed as a "must" by Rockefeller, would repeal a state law that guarantees minimum retail liquor prices set by distillers. Advocates of the bill say the move would cut the price to consumers by about $1 a bottle.

But the liquor industry, especially owners of small package-stores firmly opposed the measure. A large body of liquor lobbyists swarmed through the Capitol in an effort to line up legislators.

Rockefeller fought back with his own pressure corps, including GOP State Chairman Fred A. Young, Lt. Gov. Malcolm Wilson, Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz and assorted gubernatorial aides.

The message they bore to rank - and - file lawmakers was generally the same—patronage, that is appointments sought for constituents, would be cut off unless the recalcitrants fell into line.

Hold Firm in Senate

The opposition, at least in the Senate, appeared to hold firm, however. Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney called his GOP senators into a late Tuesday evening conference and reported afterwards that the picture was unchanged — "considerable opposition" to the governor's bill was still manifest.

In the Assembly, the situation was substantially the same.

Both houses had scheduled votes on the bill Tuesday but decided to put off action until today.

Other Action

Meanwhile, in other developments:

— Rockefeller sustained a minor setback in another area of his legislative program when the Assembly rejected his bill to set minimum standards for recruits to local police forces. The measure, also among Rockefeller's "musts", was defeated by a show of hands.

— The Assembly again deferred action on a bill sought by Rockefeller to repeal the railroad full-crew laws, and it appeared the measure would be allowed to die. Organized labor has opposed the bill militantly.

Agree on Jury Reports

Another Rockefeller program measure appeared headed for passage, however. Senate and Assembly Republicans agreed on a compromise bill to restore to grand juries the power to issue "presentment" — reports that criticize public officials for misconduct that falls short of crime. The bill was ticketed for passage today.

Rockefeller had insisted that at least three of the liquor bills recommended by his Moreland Commission should be brought to a vote. He appointed the commission to re-examine the liquor laws after a grand jury investigation alleged corruption in operations of the State Liquor Authority.

The price - control measure was his major objective and by far the most controversial of the three.

Less Opposition

There was less opposition to the other two bills. One would end the requirement that taverns must serve food as well as liquor. The other would rescind a law that sets minimum distances between package stores.

Mahoney and Assembly Speaker Joseph F. Carlino appeared equally reluctant to bring the pricing bill to a vote in their respective houses for fear it would be voted down. Neither wished to bear the onus of spiking a prime measure in Rockefeller's program.

There apppeared to be some kind of informal understanding that the Senate would act first. If the bill were to be killed in the Senate, then Assembly action would be unnecessary.

A source close to the governor said the bill appeared to have a better chance of passage in the Senate. The Assembly, he said, was "completely unpredictable" on the issue.

Part of Cancer Society's Role

School Children Are Alerted On Cigarettes, Hazards

More than half of the nation's secondary schools have received American Cancer Society material on the health hazards of cigarette smoking, according to the Society's Annual Report issued today.

The report, according to Mrs. Arthur E. Freeman, Volunteer Director Ulster County Unit of the American Cancer Society, says that more than 7,000,000 copies of the leaflet "Shall I Smoke" have been distributed to teen-agers since 1960. As part of the educational program among teen-agers the report cites "Athletes Against Cancer" in which basketball star Bob Cousy has been filmed for a television spot on the harmful effects of cigarette smoking on health. Other athletes whose statements for TV, radio or in ads have been used in this educational project include Bob Mathias, twice Olympic Decathlon champion; Bart Starr, football hero, and pitcher, Whitey Ford.

(The anti-smoking educational program has been one of the major projects of the New York State Division of the Society and its Units in the 54 upstate counties.)

280,000 Deaths in 1963

Last year cancer "caused the deaths of some 280,000 Americans," the report points out, adding: "It took the lives of more school children and more young mothers than any other disease. For the last 10 years, cancer has been the chief disease cause of death in women from 15 to 54 years of age."

On the hopeful side the report noted that "mortality from cancer of the uterus has dropped 50 per cent in a generation." Contributing largely to this has been wider utilization of the "Pap" smear test.

"The Society is widely recognized for its role in winning acceptance for the 'Pap' smear and for helping establish and warn of the casual link between cigarettes and lung cancer, for helping move the public's attitude toward cancer from blind terror to conservative hope, for stimulating support for a huge research program, a part of which we finance ourselves," the Society's Board Chairman, Francis J. Wilcox, said.

Wilcox said that the Society shares with physicians, scientists, government and medical organizations "credit for the remarkable fact that more than 1,200,000 persons cured of cancer are alive today, and for reducing the mortality rate from one in five a generation ago to one in three."

Attack Lacks Support

The Executive Vice President of the Society, Lane W. Adams, said in his section of the report that: "The attack against cancer is impeded because of inadequate support from government as well as private sources. If, in an earthquake we were to lose 280,000 lives—wiping out a city like El Paso, or Jersey City, or Tampa — we would call it a national catastrophe and bend all our energies in relief and in saving life."

With more than one third of its funds devoted to research — $13,382,458. in 1963—the report highlighted the distinctive contributions of the Society's research program. (More than $700,000 in American Cancer Society research funds are at work at institutions in the New York State Division.)

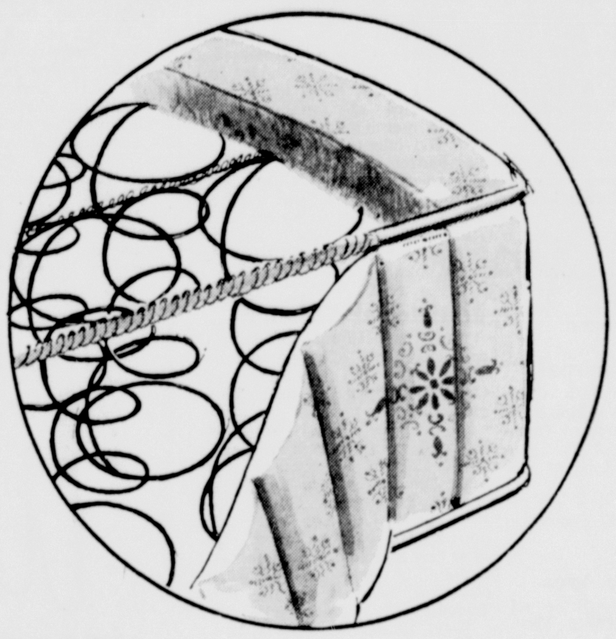
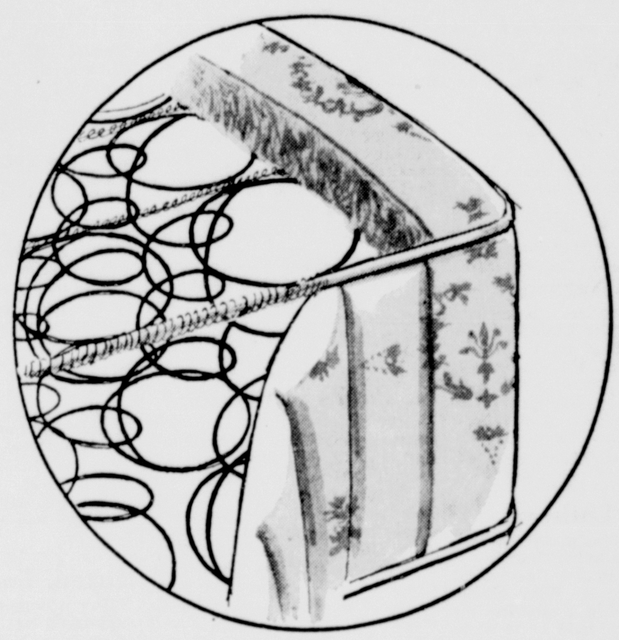
KAPLAN'S

This nationally advertised mattress sells for $79.50 everywhere.

This Simcopedic by famous Simmons sells for $49.50 at KAPLAN'S





We Guarantee that the Simcopedic is equal in Quality and Comfort...and it's $30 less at KAPLAN'S

That's a strong statement . . . it's a true statement! We can make it because we had cut open both the nationally advertised $79.50 mattress and the $49.50 Simmons Simcopedic mattress. We had the construction of each carefully checked. In so doing we found that feature for feature both mattresses were equal in quality and comfort. There was one difference between them, a major difference, that $30 difference in price!

We have on our floor a sample of both these mattresses. You are cordially invited to come in to see and compare them for yourself. Maybe you'll find the quality and comfort you want and save $30.00 too!

Fair St. Reformed

Maundy Thursday there will be two services at the Fair Street Reformed Church, one at 9:30 a. m. and the other at 7:30 p. m.

The first gathering will be that of the ladies of the community for Fair Street's third annual White Breakfast and service. Women from the Council of United Church Women and Reformed Churches in the Classis of Ulster have been invited. Some 200 reservations have been made to date. A light breakfast served in the parish room, will be followed by a service in the sanctuary. The Mmes. Floyd Ellsworth, John Alley, Edna Coles, Emerson Lynn, Harold Osterhoudt, Raymond Ransom, William Richardson and Edwin Coon will participate in the service. Mrs. William E. Rylance will be at the organ console. Mrs. Elmor Nathan will sing the solo. Mrs. Percy Krom and Mrs. Paul Stevenson will sing a duet. Baby-sitting is provided during the breakfast and service.

At 7:30 p. m. the congregation will gather for the Service of the Last Supper and the Office of Tenebrae. Following Holy Communion, elders of the church will extinguish the candles in the chancel, symbolizing the desertion of the disciples during those hours immediately before Christ's crucifixion. The candle symbolizing Jesus is never extinguished but is carried from the church. During the service the choir will sing appropriate Lenten music. This service was written before 350 AD for use in the Primitive Church. The community is invited to attend this service.

Selling Confederate Bricks for Memorial

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—If the United Daughters of the Confederacy wants bricks, it shall have bricks, says Gov. Carl E. Sanders.

The bricks are special. They come from the Old Soldiers Home in Atlanta which recently was torn down when the last resident moved out.

The UDC wants the bricks to sell to finance a memorial at Stone Mountain Park to honor the Confederate dead.

State Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook says the state constitution forbids the state to make even so small a donation, but Sanders said Tuesday the UDC would get the bricks "if I have to pay for them out of my own pocket."

Two Big Cities Offsetting Each Other

Keating and Dirksen Report On Mail About Civil Rights

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citizens who write their senators or congressman could wonder today just how much influence they are exerting on the passage of legislation.

Based on the reports on their civil rights mail by two Republican senators from states which include the nation's two largest cities, the answer seemed to be probably not much, because they may be offsetting each other.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., told the Senate Tuesday that for the first time in two weeks his New York State mail reflected a majority of expressions in favor of the House-passed civil rights bill now before the Senate.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois reported at a news conference, however, that his mail is running 9 to 1 against the bill.

Keating has intensified his vocal support of the measure during the last two weeks, when he said he was astounded to find that those who wrote him were about equally opposed to and in favor of the House bill.

With a sigh of satisfaction, however, he announced a "breakthrough" had been achieved in the previous day's mail. Of 1,179 letters from New York, Keating said that 840 favored the bill and 239 were against it.

Dirksen, who is proposing changes in the bill, said he is getting 1,000 letters a day. He said they are running 9-1 against the measure in its present form.

Asked what he thought such a preponderance of opposition meant, he replied, "I just don't know."

He did volunteeer at another point that he thinks people are getting worked up because they are finding out how the legislation might affect them.

Most of Wales' 2,600,000 people tend to cling to their country's distinctive character and customs, and one quarter of them speak Welsh.

Stores Its Own

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A cornstalk is like a camel in one way—it stores its own food. This report comes from University of Kentucky agronomists Bill Duncan and Al Hatfield. They say an experiment shows that corn stores sugar, which then keeps it growing at an even rate.

The agricultural researchers label as unfounded a belief among farmers that the final yeild of the corn depends on the number of "good growing days" in a season.

EQUIPMENT ON JOB—The Peckham Road Construction Company is moving equipment on the site for construction of the Lucas Turnpike between High Falls and Route 209 near Accord. Target date for completion of the five-mile reconstruction project is November 1964. Work on reconstructing the route, known as County Road No. 58, is being carried out under provisions of the Secondary Federal Aid Project plan and the contract to Peckham company was in excess of $1,000,000. Shown is equipment of the contractor being assembled at the Lucas Turnpike and Kyserike road intersection.

LUCAS TURNPIKE NEW ALIGNMENT—Equipment of the Peckham Road Construction Company (indicated by arrow) is shown clearing new alignment for construction of new bridge over Pompey's Cave Creek near Benton Bar Cemetery Road for reconstruction of Lucas Turnpike. Much of the new road will be on new alignment to provide better sight-distance over the five-mile stretch of the new road, The new pavement will be 24 feet in width with eight-foot shoulders.

AT STUDENT COUNCIL ASSEMBLY—Officers of the Student Council of Sophie G. Finn School greet honored guest Frank Ratcliff, former principal at special spring assembly. The student council conducted the two assemblies for upper and lower grades. Program included plays, glee club selections, choral readings and songs and was highlighted by an Easter bonnet parade. With the guest of honor are (l-r) Joyce Zebree, treasurer; Miss Mary Polhemus, principal; John Gilday, vice president; John Bowens, president and Judy Lawrence, secretary.

Vols Are Busy With Brush Fires

Volunteer firemen in 14 districts in Ulster County were kept busy Tuesday battling brisk grass or brush fires, some of which reportedly burned close to frame buildings, according to the County Fire Control Center.

Fires were reported as follows: Glasco, Kerhonkson, Walker Valley, two; Marlboro, two; Wallkill, two; Milton, Olive, Highland, New Paltz, Port Ewen, Stone Ridge and West Hurley. Plattekill volunteers reported two grass and brush fires in their district.

A dispatcher at the fire control center reported one grass and brush fire in West Hurley. Ellenville firemen responded to a house fire at 3:20 Tuesday.

Family Wedding Day

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—February 13 was a red letter day for the G. E. Alexander family. The Alexanders celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. A daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hughes of Paso Robles, Calif., observed their 23rd anniversary. And, a grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Pruitt, celebrated their 11th.

THE 'LANDWALKER'—Like a giant beetle, the Landwalker soon will undergo tests by U.S. Army for use as a personnel and cargo carrier over obstructed terrain.

Reconstruction Is Started on Lucas Turnpike Section

Work has been started on reconstruction of Lucas Turnpike from the High Falls four-corners southerly to Route 209 near Accord. The new 24-foot macadam highway with eight foot shoulders will be built largely on new alignment to provide better sight-distance and will eliminate many of the existing sharp curves.

The contract, in excess of $1,000,000, was recently awarded to the Peckham Road Construction Company and the contractor has set a target date of November 1964 for completion of the project.

The road will be constructed with federal and state funds as a federal aid project. After completion of the job the road will be turned back to become part of the Ulster County road system for maintenance and is known as County Road No. 58. Ulster County Highway Department did the engineering work for the project and the county also acquired the rights of way necessary for the new alignments on the five-mile route.

A new bridge is to be built over Pompey's Cave brook and there will be numerous eliminations of curves to improve sight distances.

In the process of reconstructing Lucas Turnpike an opportunity is being afforded public utility companies to improve service and place lines in underground conduits. The New York Telephone Company is placing its facilities underground and Central Hudson will also take advantage of the project to protect its facilities.

The northern section of Lucas Turnpike from the City of Kingston line to High Falls was improved some time ago. Completion of the route from High Falls to near Accord will provide a through improved route parallel to Route 209 through a widely settled area adjacent to the Rondout Creek valley.

Williams Is Given Clinton Term in Migrant's Death

John Williams, 46, also known as Meade Rose Williams, was sentenced to a term of from 2½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton Prison at Dannemora today by County Judge Raymond J. Mino following a plea of guilty to third degree manslaughter.

Williams was indicted for first degree manslaughter growing out of the death of another migrant worker, 58-year-old Edith Greenwood, also known as Edith Jones, last December.

Because of the circumstances surrounding the crime, Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torraca said the plea to the lesser charge was acceptable.

It was alleged that Williams, a migrant worker on the Greiner farm at Marlboro, and deceased had engaged in a drinking bout in a shack on the premises. During the time they became engaged in an altercation and she was struck on the head with a blunt instrument. Williams then left the shack which was constructed of an abandoned truck body, and was apprehended in Newburgh two or three days later. The victim was found dead by Herbert Ellis, also a migrant worker, and Williams was apprehended December 4 in Newburgh. Miss Greenwood was known to have been ill and in a plea for leniency Charles Gaffney, who had been assigned as defense counsel, told the court had she been given medical treatment immediately she probably would have survived. However, she was abandoned by Williams in the shack. The attack is alleged to have taken place on November 30.

After disposing of the Williams case, Judge Mino adjourned to chambers to dispose of a Youthful Offender calendar.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband and father, Walter Harbeck, who passed away eight years ago, March 25, 1956.

When a husband and father breathes his last farewell,
The stroke means more than tongue can tell.
The world seems quite another place
Without this smile of his face
And while he lies in peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.

Loving,
WIFE AND DAUGHTER

Woman, 64, Faces Charge of Thefts In Local Stores

A 64-year-old New York woman was booked here early this afternoon on three petit larceny counts for alleged shoplifting in three uptown stores.

She gave her name as Anna Ottel of 201 East 87th Street, New York. Police said she is charged with taking, a dress, curtains, bed clothing and other items. It is claimed she took articles valued at $26.95 from Woolworth's, others valued at $18.52 from Grant's and $8.46 worth from Newberry's. She is due for city court hearing Thursday.

Human Trials Are Planned on Drugs For Breast Cancer

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen new and potentially valuable drugs against female breast cancer—uncovered by a new radioactive screening technique — are soon to undergo extensive human trials, it was reported today.

"We are awaiting the results with considerable excitement," said Dr. Ralph I. Dorfman of Shrewsbury, Mass., one of a team of scientists who developed the new drug screening method and also submitted the new drugs to early preliminary trials.

Dr. Dorfman, of the Worcester (Mass.) Foundation for Experimental Biology, told about the new developments at the sixth annual seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Asserting that the new drugs are all synthetic preparations chemically related to the male sex hormone testosterons—the first hormone used in treating female breast cancer—the scientist said:

—Two of the drugs, as indicated by early animal and human trials, are as good or better than the best hormone now available for clinical use against breast cancer.

—Six others possess antitumor activity of "the same order" as the best previously available material of this class; and seven others possess "considerable activity."

The scientist indicated, however, that none of the new drugs was expected to cure a cancer —though some might extend the survival times beyond present limits in cases not curable by surgery or radiation.

He said the results have been so promising that the compounds soon are to be subjected to widescale human testing at at least six centers in the national network of hospitals participating in a government-backed program for evaluating various anticancer drugs.

Lustrous leathers and beautiful pastel colors will turn up in the new shoes for spring. You'll find shoes to match or contrast with every costume, from rose to pale turquoise.

CHANGING PLAYTIME—Sharp design has entered the field of children's playhouses. From the popular type, left, has grown the modernized version, right. A scaled-down model of an A-frame vacation cabin, the up-to-the-minute playhouse was built by its owner in Seattle, Wash., for about $200.

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, March 25, 1964. There are 281 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1911, 147 persons were killed when the Triangle Waist Co., building was destroyed by fire in New York City. Many young women garment workers were trapped by staircases cluttered with rubbish, locked doors and inadequate elevators. Public indignation led to widespread reforms in laws governing factory working conditions.

On this date:

In 17776, the Congressional Medal Award — forerunner of the Congressional Medal of Honor — was awarded to George Washington.

In 1939, Adolf Hitler vowed the German people would stand shoulder to shoulder with the battle-proved Italian nation.

In 1942, Japanese bombers attacked Bataan and Corregidor.

Ten years ago — The New York State Civil Service Commission listed the Communist party as subversive under the state's security risk law.

Five years ago — The Tibetan Cabinet was reported to have denounced the 1951 treaty under which Red China took control of Tibet's foreign and military affairs but guaranteed Tibetan autonomy.

One year ago — The Supreme Court ruled that Communist-hunting legislators cannot dig deeply into the affairs of groups not linked clearly with "subversive or other illegal or improper activities."

Will Supervise Power Systems At 3 IBM Plants

The promotion of John M. Roberts of Red Hook to senior engineer and power systems development manager has been announced by Maurice A. Every, manager of the IBM Data Systems Division development laboratory at Kingston.

In his new assignment, Roberts will be responsible for power systems development activities at Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Endicott. He also will be responsible for liaison with other company locations on matters pertaining to power systems.

Roberts joined IBM in October, 1950, as a customer engineer and was assigned to the Mansfield, O., office. In July, 1954, he was transferred to Poughkeepsie as a technical engineer and in October, 1955, he was promoted to associate engineer in Kingston. One year later, he was promoted to project engineer in power design and to a development engineer in that area in 1960, a post he has held until his present promotion.

JOHN M. ROBERTS

Roberts is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers. He attended Marshall College and received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from West Virginia University.

Roberts, his wife Barbara and children John Jr., 18; Daniel, 15; Ted. 12; Arthur, 10; Rebecca, 6; and Barbara, 2; reside on Kelly Road, Red Hook.

Nixon in Pakistan

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) —Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon arrived in the Pakistani capital today and said he brought a special message from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower to Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

Nixon is on a round-the-world tour for clients of his law firm and is also interviewing leading officials at his various stops.

New Production Records Made by Area Holsteins

Several registered Holstein cows in this area have established new production records, according to a special report from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America that showed the following recently completed official lactation summaries.

Rondout Mutual Fetura 4465922, a six-year-old, produced 19,060 lbs. milk and 677 lbs. butterfat in 305 days. Rondout Imperial Deleria 3960770, an eight-year-old, had 15,390 lbs. milk and 563 lbs. butterfat in 305 days. Both are owned by Philip H. Davis, Kerhonkson.

Altraver Imperial Escehilda 3666204, a 10-year-old, produced 24,970 lbs. milk and 853 lbs. butterfat in 305 days. Jaway Clothilde Dorothea Jodie 5033773, a four-year-old, had 19,000 lbs. milk and 678 lbs. butterfat in 305 days. Jaway Alice Ann J 4719607, a four-year-old, had 18,480 lbs. milk and 601 lbs. butterfat in 303 days. All are owned by Franklin S. Kelder, Jaway Farms, Accord.

Armagh Mutual Sensation 4618508, a four-year-old owned by Joseph McAnlis, New Paltz., produced 14,587 lbs. milk and 576 lbs. butterfat in 305 days.

Ridgely Schoolmaster Dora 4770464, a four-year-old, produced 22,515 lbs. milk and 818 lbs. butterfat in 345 days. Ernell Dora Progressor 4960081, a three-year-old, had 17,515 lbs. milk and 669 lbs. butterfat in 365 days. U M Schoolmaster G Florette 4859662, a four-year-old, had 16,937 lbs. milk and 601 lbs. butterfat in 281 days. All are owned by Ridgely Farms, Stone Ridge.

These new production figures may be compared to the annual output of 7,211 lbs. of milk and 270 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.

Cornell University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.

25 Killed in Clash

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Twenty-four Pakistanis were killed in a border clash near Uti, 50 miles west of Srinagar, capital of disputed Kashmir, official sources said Tuesday.

They claimed that Pakistani volunteers penetrated a mile and a half across the Indian side of the cease-fire line in Kashmir Monday night and opened fire on Indian border patrols.

At one time Japanese Akita dogs were owned only by royalty and each dog was served by special attendants who treated its training and feeding with great ceremony.

Courteous and Dependable Service

To the one man in 15 who will need a Water Heater this year...

There are many ways of heating water. The question is, which one will do the best job — which water heating service will, over the years, give you the most for your money?

•Hot-Water Output -- Some water heaters will give you plenty of hot water in a short period of time — much more than you can use; in fact, more than five families can use — but in doing this job the heat output is so great that the life of the water heater is shortened, which means early replacement. Now there IS a water heater which gives you all the hot water you need WHEN you need it — an electric water heater.

•Safety -- What can be safer than a tank with the heating unit right in the water itself? An Electric Water Heater is the only type that's built this way.

•Dependability -- Is your present means of heating water giving you occasional trouble? There are certain types of water heaters that are more prone to trouble than others. With an electric water heater there are no motors, blowers, nozzles, fire walls, mixers, etc., just clean electric heat bathed right in the water itself. What's there to go wrong with an electric water heater?

•Convenience -- All other types of heaters have to be connected to some kind of flue. Sometimes this is convenient. More often it isn't. Anywhere you can run a wire you can put an electric water heater. Closet, bathroom, kitchen (under counter, if you'd like).

•Equipment Life -- Motors burn out, bearings give up, moving parts in general break down, intense local heat corrodes, destroys, and creates chemical deposits. You don't have any of these problems with an electric water heater.

•Economy -- For the actual fuel cost to heat a gallon of water, electricity costs less than some methods and a bit more than others. Why hide it? But for overall service we think that electricity offers enough other advantages — some you can measure in dollars and cents, such as no repairs, no cleaning, no replacement and lowest original cost, to equalize the long-range cost of water heating. Of course, there are other electric advantages too, such as convenience of installation, dependable service and your family's safety, which are hard to measure.

Give it some thought. We think you'll come to the same conclusion 20,000 other Mid-Hudson families have . . . for safe, dependable economical Water Heating, Electricity gives you the most for your money.

Call us for complete information on buying (or renting) an electric water heater, or send in this coupon.

Friends of Turnau Opera Start Membership Drive for $3,500

"Opera cannot survive without substantial financial support — that is an economic fact of life," according to Mrs. Yehudi Wyner, chairman of the Friends of the Turnau Opera Association.

With this in mind, the Friends of Turnau are presently engaged in their annual membership drive. Last year the Friends raised a total of $4,000 for the opera, which helped create a superb season, including an entirely new production of "The Rape of Lucretia," financed entirely by funds raised by the Friends.

This year's goal is $6,000 of which the present membership drive must provide $3,500. A brochure is being mailed to present and potential members, inviting support for the coming season. A cover drawing by well-known Woodstock artist Robert Angeloch sets the theme, while the inside tells in words and pictures of Turnau's past achievements and future plans.

The tentative schedule reveals no less than three new productions — The Medium by Menotti; Coronation of Poppea by Monteverdi; and A Turk in Italy by Rossini, as well as past successes such as Mozart's Abduction From the Sergalio; Verdi's Rigoletto, La Boheme by Puccini. A map of how to get to the Byrdcliffe Theatre is included as an added convenience.

In Tenth Season

The executive board of the Friends of the Turnau Opera urges all music lovers to join and give as generously as possible to insure a successful season for one of the area's outstanding attractions.

Contributions may be sent to the Friends of the Turnau Opera Association, P.O. Box 664, Woodstock.

Mrs. Yehudi Wyner, wife of the well known musician, composer and critic, heads the Friends of Turnau as the organization launches its 10th season in the Byrdcliffe Theatre. Peter W. Rakov is vice chairman.

Mrs. Milton Axel is treasurer and Mrs. Charles Jennings is secretary. Other members of the executive board are: Mrs. Frank Alexander, Miss Cay Conway, William Davenport, Mrs. Roland Galen, Richard Langham, Salvador Ley, Mrs. Raymond Rignall, Elbert Varney.

Members of the honorary committee are: Leon Barzin, Miss Rosa Bok, Henry Cowell, Miss Vivian Fine, Norbert Heermann, Murray Hoffman, Miss Jacqueline Marcault, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maust, Claude Monteux, Mr. and Mrs. Tomas Penning, Lacklan Pitcairn, H. A. Schimmerling, Alexander Semmler and Peter Whitehead.

Overlook Church News and Notes

"Resurrection Religion" will be the Rev. James Cook's sermon topic for the Easter Sunday 11 a. m. worship service in Overlook Methodist Church. A nursery will be provided for all pre-school children.

Sunday School for all classes will be at 9:45 a. m. The Primary through Adult classes will see the Easter film "Gates of Glory." Parents are invited to accompany their children to see the film. A film strip about Easter and a flannelgraph story presented by Mrs. John Franz will be the program for the Beginner and Kindergarten children.

The Easter Sunrise Service will be held at the Shady Methodist Church at 6:30 a. m. with the Rev. Mr. Cook as the guest speaker. The sermon topic will be "The Garden of Light."

The Maundy Thursday service during which Holy Communion will be given will be held at 8 p. m. on March 26, 1964. The Pastor's Membership Class members that joined the church on Palm Sunday will take their first Holy Communion as a group with their parents at this service.

Decorate Sanctuary

The church sanctuary for the Palm Sunday service was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Elizabeth Clough and Mrs. Richard Drake. The palm crosses given to the congregation and Sunday School were made by Mrs. Hannah Dock and Mrs. Lillian Augner.

The members of the Pastor's Membership Class were received into the membership of the Overlook Methodist Church during the Palm Sunday worship service. They were each presented a copy of the New English Translation of the Bible by John Franz, Chairman of the Commission on Membership and Evangelism. Joining were: Cynthia Haner, Roger Jones, Deborah Spanhake, and Jeffrey Vredenburg. Also received into the membership was Mrs. William Spanhake.

Baptised during the Palm Sunday service were Charles Randall Spence, his mother, Mrs. Charles A. Spence, and Deborah Spanhake.

The Snow Queen Slated to Show At Onteora CS

The Merry-Go-Rounders, today's leading dance theatre company for children, will perform their new full-length work, The Snow Queen, in the auditorium of the Onteora Central school on Wednesday, April 1, at 2:30 p. m.

This company presents theatre for children in the fullest sense, with dance, music, narration and audience participation, and their new production of The Snow Queen is one of the most exciting and unique children's productions to come out in recent years.

Although the story remains true to the original Hans Christian Anderson classic, a few changes have been made in this dance theatre adaptation. Children who have not felt particularly warmly about the Goblin in the original story may find the Goblin, who does the narration in this production, a most amusing and likeable character indeed. With great verve and devilishness, he first shows the audience the young boy Kay and his friend Gerda in their home village. Then the Snow Queen appears and lures Ken away to the land of the Ice Palace, where she freezes his heart and makes him forget all human feelings. Gerda, distraught at the loss of her good friend, sets out to find him. The Goblin takes the audience through all of her adventures and with her on her long journey to the land of the North, where she finally finds Kay.

Expert Choreography

The story of The Snow Queen has intrigued Sophie Maslow, the choreographer, for many years. Some time ago she choreographed a work for adults based on the story, and though it met with great enthusiasm in New York, she was never really satisfied with the work. Now, in this new version for children, she feels that the true nature of the story itself, as well as its full beauty and variety, are more completely and meaningfully brought out.

Miss Maslow is one of the country's leading modern dance choreographers, teachers, and performers. She was originally a star performer with the Martha Graham company, and her own company has performed through the United States and in New York City consistently for many years. She has taught at many leading colleges and universities and is a member of the Board of the New Dance Group in N.Y.C. Hers was one of the companies selected to perform at the Delacort Theatre in Central Park (N.Y.C.) this past summer.

The performance has been made possible partly through the support of our New York State Council on the Arts. Established by the Legislature and the Governor in 1960, the Council has since carried out a broad experiment towards encouraging participation in and appreciation of the arts.

Through the educational program thousands of school children have seen live theatre, opera and dance and heard live music, many for the first time.

The Merry-Go-Rounders was the first children's theatre company to be subsidized by the N.Y.S. Council on the Arts for a two-week tour through New York this past spring.

Bernard Tunnel Links Italy and Swiss Borders

March 19, 1964, could be called a milestone in the history of communications. Shrinking distances are sympomatic for our era. This time it was Italy and Switzerland that were brought closer together and with it, of course, northern and southern Europe."

On March 19, the Great St. Bernard Road Tunnel was opened to traffic. It is the first highway piercing the Alps. Up to this time, this was a privilege for railroads only, such as Simplon, the St. Gotthard and others.

Thus, the magnificent road leading across the Great St. Bernard, snowbound during eight or nine months of the year, becomes obsolete.

On top of this mighty mountain range, there was in olden times a temple to Jupiter. Hence the mauntain was called Mons Jovis by the Romans. Later, Bernard of Menthon founded the famous monastery, the St. Bernard Hospice, in an altitude of about 7600 feet. Many travelers throughout the centuries, marooned, exhausted and injured by the treacherous way and weather conditions, owed their survival to the Brethern of St. Bernard who made it their primary duty to save the wanderers. This was done with the help of dogs which subsequently were named "Bernardiners."

Used By Romans

In times of antiquity, Roman generals several time led their armies across the St. Bernard range. For a time historians believed that Hannibal for his famous invasion of Italy from the north used the St. Bernard. But later indications revealed that he came across either the "Little St. Bernard" or the Mt. Cenis. There is no doubt that Napoleon Bonaparte made his daring crossing in May 1800 on the road across the Great St. Bernard against the odds or seemingly unsurmountable obstacles and with inhuman loss of life. He erected a monument to his general, Desaix, in the chapel of the monastery. The inscription on a black marble sign tell us the story of this event.

Only a few people still use the picturesque road across the mountain between the beginning of June and the end of August. Even this small number will dwindle now and only the genuine lover of nature will prefer the open air way instead of the safe all-year round way which is a technical marvel of its kind.

Five Years to Build

It took five years to build the tunnel. Technique once again predominates. Those who believe in comfort and speed will pay between $2.00 and $4.60, the tunnel toll, according to the weight of the cars. Motorists will enter the tunnel in St. Remy, Italy and emerge in no time in Bourg St. Pierre, Switzerland or vice versa.

The construction work was a perfectly scheduled and well timed job since the superb Swiss National Exposition in Lausanne will open on April 30, a competition enterprise to our own New York World's Fair. But there is plenty of time to see both. H. A. SCHIMMERLING.

Werbalowsky Is Speaker for GOP

Seymour Werbalowsky, well known Kingston attorney, will be the guest speaker at the Woodstock Republican Club's monthly meeting, Thursday, March 26, at 8 p. m. in Deanie's. He will speak on the topic: "Functions Of A Political Party At The Grassroots Level."

Attorney Werbalowsky is well qualified to present this subject having been Commissioner of the Board of Elections for over 10 years. He has held many offices and belongs to the Ulster County and New York State Bar Association. He attended and graduated from New York University, Pennsylvania State, Princeton and Albany Law School.

This is a subject of vital interest to all citizens and will be a most informative meeting.

Coins in Big Demand

BOSTON (AP) — One million John F. Kennedy half-dollars were placed in circulation in New England Tuesday and Federal Reserve officials said they were snatched up as fast as bank tellers could distribute them.

At the First National Bank in Boston, 10 tellers were given 400 coins each and within 20 minutes all 4,000 were gone, on a one to a customer basis.

NEW FACE—The Times Tower, focal point of New York's Times Square since it was built in 1904, has been stripped of its concrete skin and is awaiting a new face and a new owner. Allied Chemical is paying for the refurbishing. And, yes, the wraparound news bulletin system which once captured the eye of the tourist, will return.

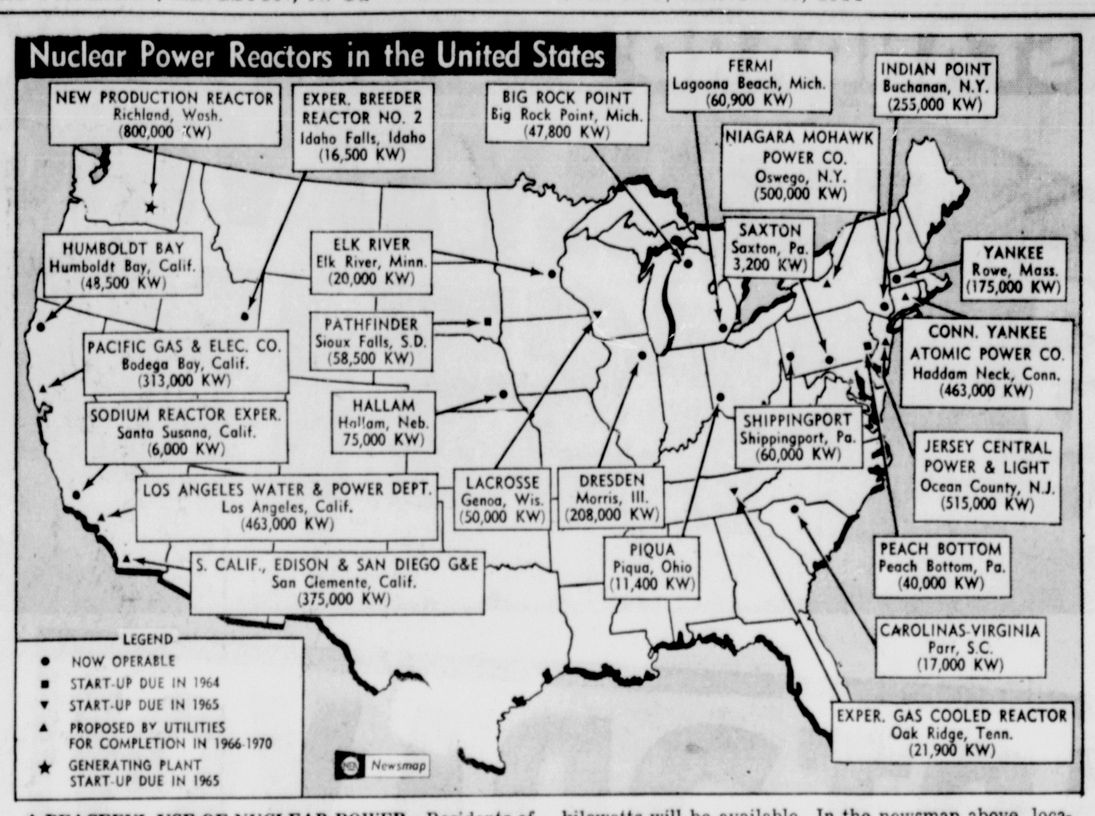
Troop 62 Stages Its Second Hike

Two hikes in two weeks are now a matter of record for Boy Scout Troop 62 of Lake Hill, sponsored by Woodstock Fire Company No. 3.

Scoutmaster Arthur Smith led the troop on a Sunday hike on the Harry Ostrander farm, in Willow. One purpose of this event was to study the land for the purpose of establishing a campsite for the troop. Compass and map reading were also a part of this hike.

Assistant Scoutmaster Douglas Eighmey took the troop on a hike up Mt. Guardian in Shady. The boys and leader tramped to the top of the mountain, ate lunch, and descended to the MacDaniel Road down into the Shady valley.

Troop meetings are held every Monday evening from 7 to 9 p. m. at the firehouse in Lake Hill. Any boy between the ages of 11 and 16 years who desires to become a boy scout is invited to attend a troop meeting any Monday evening.



A PEACEFUL USE OF NUCLEAR POWER—Residents of 14 areas in the United States are now using power created by nuclear methods. Twelve more nuclear power reactors—to serve 12 additional areas—will be operational by 1970, according to the Atomic Energy Commission. Today, the nuclear reactors have a capacity of more than 1 million kilowatts; by 1970, about 4 million additional kilowatts will be available. In the newsmap above, locations of the plants in operation and the proposed plants are pinpointed. The United States recently announced it will permit international inspection of the Yankee reactor at Rowe, Mass., and challenged the Soviet Union to reciprocate. Russia called it a western scheme to get a close-up look at its nuclear plants.

Aircraft Tycoon Buys Johnsons' Washington Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson have sold their former Washington home, The Elms, to a Miami, businessman, the Washington Post reported today.

The newspaper said Luther B. Smith, a major stockholder in some 25 corporations largely in the aircraft industry, signed a sales contract arranged by the American Security Corp.

Smith, who has homes in Miami and Reno, Neb., is chairman of the board of the Aerodex Corp., and also is president of L. B. Smith, a heavy construction equipment company with offices in Harrisburg, Pa., and Baltimore, Md.

The Post said Smith bought the house as a surprise for his wife. Mrs. Smith had seen the house several years ago when the couple were guests at a party given by the former owner, Perle Mesta.

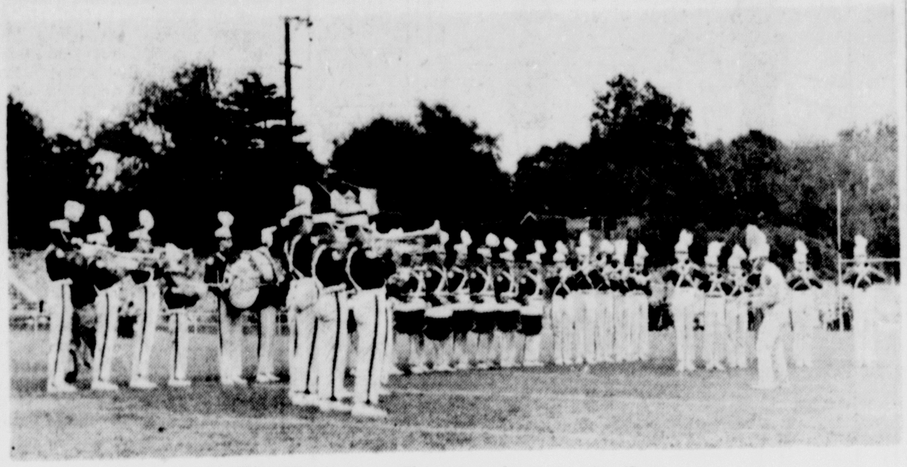
St. Remy Firemen Have Resuscitator Available

A resuscitator for emergencies is now available in St. Remy Fire District, it was announced this week by Robert F. Ennis, chief of St. Remy Fire Department.

The new equipment was first used late in February on a local woman who suffered a heart seizure. She is now recuperating at her home, the chief said.



The Kingsmen will appear here on April 4

List Three Units To Compete Here In Corps Concert

Three drum corps were named today to appear in the Preview of Corps Sounds to be held April 4 at Kingston High School auditorium under the sponsorship of Boy Scout Troop 12 Drum Corps.

Scheduled on the program will be The Paulettes, All-Girl Corps of New York City; The Kingsmen of the Bronx, and the Danbury Drum Corps of Danbury, Conn.

Proceeds for Appearances

Proceeds from the concert will be used to defray expenses of Troop 12 Indians this summer for appearances at the Worlds Fair and the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

The "Paulettes" Girls Drum Corps was organized in 1958 by the Church of Saint Paul The Apostle of New York City. Since then, this corps has participated in more than 200 parades throughout New York, New Jersey and Connecticut.

They have also played many exhibitions for drum corps competitions and for the Miller High Life Beer Company which sponsors a World Series of baseball throughout the United States.

This unit, a drum and glockenspeil corps is unique in that it is the only one of its kind around, and has the ability of playing all types of music.

Has 45 Members

The corps this year has 45 active members.

Instructors are William Mackay and John Grada, and directors are Mrs. Margaret Grada, and Anthony J. Piro of 50 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, who is publicity manager. Spiritual director is the Rev. Joseph Troy, CSP.

The Kingsmen Drum and Bugle Corps was organized by the William E. Irwin, Jr. Post 774 of the American Legion in 1945 and quickly became an outstanding concert and parade corps.

In 1952 the corps became the New York State American Legion Marching and Maneuvering Drum Corps Champions in the Jr. Class. The corps won with a tribute to George Gershwins music. In 1955 the Kingsmen were disbanded.

Reorganized in 1958

After a three year lapse the corps was reorganized in August 1958, and after spending a year as a parade and concert corps, the Kingsmen again turned to marching and maneuvering.

The corps has traveled extensively representing the Bronx and have been designated by Joseph Periconi, Bronx borough president, as "Bronx Ambassadors of Goodwill." In addition they have been designated by the American Legion of Bronx County as "The Pride of the Bronx." New York State's Legionnaires declared them New York's "Downstate Champions," as they ranked highest of all Metropolitan area corps at the 1963 state competition.

The corps also finds sponsorship under the banners of Local 32E of the Building Service Employees Union and the Deegan Hill Athletic and Social Club Inc.

In 1963 the Kingsmen broke into big-time when they won five competitions within their circuit, the biggest win record in the association. They appeared at the Drum Corps News World Open Competition and came in eighth at the preliminaries and ninth in the finals.

Instructors for this top-notch outfit include George Rodriquez and Hyman Dreitzer on horns, Bobby Thompson on drums, and Joseph Mason on drill. Equipment manager is Joseph Vollo; public relations manager is Harvey Berish, and the founder, director, manager is William J. Hickey Jr.

30 Years Experience

The Danbury Drum Corps, organized well over 30 years, has continually grown in prestige not only in their own community, but throughout Connecticut and New York as well. Though not a drill corps, the Danbury musicians participate in over 30 parades and competitions each season, winning high honors for their fine military appearance and excellent music.

The corps has won the Connecticut Fifers and Drummers Championship, North Eastern States Championship and the Hudson Valley Championship many times. Top honors also have been taken consistently by the corps' 12-man color guard.

Numbering 55 members at the present time, the corps is also unique by being a self-supporting group, owning their own building and equipment.

Instruction is under the direction of three men, Sam Melillo, director; Al Dennis, assistant; and Earl Sturtze, drums. The corps is led by Harry Miller, drum major and John Hancock, color guard captain.

Rogers Still Winning the West

King of Cowboys Making His Million by Telephones

By DAVE SMITH

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The queen of the West was at the hairdresser's, explained the king of the cowboys, thrashing wildly about on his exercising machine.

Looks About Same

With a flick of a switch the thrashing stopped and the king of the cowboys dismounted. On foot again, Roy Rogers looked about the same as when he thundered over the purple sage—tall, dark, slim and trim—but with a touch of angina.

"My sawbones thinks it might be tension," he says. "I get all knotted up, hard as rock right back here"—he gives himself a poke between the shoulder-blades—"and the doc thinks that may be contracting the main artery to my heart.

"So I ride this thing twice a day and just take it easier than I used to. I've been lucky so far—never have had a heart attack—but if I tried to run from here to the barn I'd keel over before I got 25 feet.'"

By taking it easier, the 52-year-old Rogers means he makes his millions these days by firing phone calls from a swivel chair. But he's still winning the West, by buying and selling big chunks of it in King Midas-type real estate deals.

His 138-acre RR-Bar ranch in Chatsworth, for instance. He bought it nine years ago for $120,000 and sold 131 acres to a subdivider last year for $1.3 million plus part of the gross. "And I kept the seven best acres for myself," he says. "Pretty good, huh, for a hick from Duck Run, Ohio?"

His ranch house office — he calls it "The Boar's Nest"—is filled with pictures of his wife and leading lady, Dale Evans, and various of their eight children and 10 grandchildren. Only a devoted family man could take it easy with that many kids whooping through the house.

Then you hop in his small foreign car for a brisk canter out to his latest love—the new RR-Bar ranch in Hidden Valley.

Rogers' new ranch is a place of rocks, live-oak, scrub brush and solitude. Here, he contends, the deer and the antelope will play and never will be heard the discouraging word of the subdividers.

First Love—Trigger

Then he takes you down to a nearby pasture for a look at his first love.

It isn't Dale, fresh from the hairdresser's.

It's Trigger, fresh from a bath, gleaming gold and white in the sun.

The famed palomino turned 31 this month and is in excellent health, Rogers says. Trigger Jr. who is 21, handles occasional acting chores for Rogers-Evans television specials. The original Trigger, retired from the screen just loafs around the RR-Bar on his laurels.

Science Often Is Good Sense

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Science is a fine thing for scientists. Usually it is a fine thing for bridge players, but on occasion the most scientific way to bid a hand is to slam-bang your way into a slam.

When the student held the North hand in the weekly duplicate he bid as shown in the box and was very proud of his accomplishment. His bid of three clubs followed by the jump to five spades had clearly told South to go to six with second round heart control and has suggested seven if South could handle the first heart lead.

It had also told West exactly what suit to open and West's heart opening had given the defense two tricks.

The student wasn't so proud of his bidding when he noted that the professor's partner had played six spades and made seven.

"How did you get to six?" asked the student. "And how did you stop a heart lead?"

"It was easy enough to get to six," replied the professor. "I opened one diamond. My partner responded one spade. I jumped to six."

He continued with: "I did nothing to encourage or discourage a heart lead. Instead, I gave West full freedom of choice. He was just as likely to open a club as a heart and might even have led a diamond or a trump. Actually he had a rather normal club opening and made it.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange is busily tidying up its rules and practices in preparation for what some are billing as a showdown fight with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

But the exchange seems to have its eye on public opinion as much as on the threatened crackdown by the SEC. And that may be very much on the minds of exchange president Keith Funston and other exchange officials as they talk today to President Johnson.

Wall Street is well aware that there still is a great deal of popular suspicion as to what really goes on there. And SEC charges of unfair privileges enjoyed by floor traders — members who buy or sell for themselves rather than as brokers for the public—are likely to get more public credence than are denials by exchange officials.

A battle for a better public image may well accompany any fight with the SEC over tougher regulations. Exchange officials are aware that changing the ideas most Americans have of some stock market proceedings will be hard.

But to that end the exchange is suggesting changes in floor trading rules which may remove some of the public's suspicions, although the proposals seem unlikely to satisfy SEC demands for either a stringent curtailing of floor trading or ending it altogether.

The exchange's board of governors also has just voted to raise standards for original listing of common stocks for trading and to tighten standards for continued listing.

The board further just proposed a plan to make it possible to halt trading in national emergencies much faster than the 27 minutes that elapsed between first news of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy and the exchange's closing. The 27 minutes saw some of the wildest trading in recent years. The new plan would allow a three - man committee to act rather than a seven - member quorum of the entire board.

New rules for listing require a company to have 600,000 common shares outstanding, rather than the present 500,000, with a market value of $10 million for the publicly held shares, and earning power of at least $2 million a year before taxes, rather than $1 million after taxes.

The SEC has attacked floor trading as giving the exchange the atmosphere of a private club.

The exchange defends floor trading as adding to the market's liquidity, defined as the ability of a particular stock to absorb reasonable amounts of buying or selling at reasonable price changes.

The new rules proposed by exchange officials would stress floor trading action that would stabilize a fluctuating market and would keep such traders from dominating the market for a particular stock.

Bruck Funeral Home Continues in Order

The Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith Avenue, is continuing for the sixth consecutive year its affiliation with the Order of the Golden Rule.

This is announced in an advertisement appearing in this issue of The Freeman, stressing that funeral director-members are pledged to serve always to the best of their ability, regardless of financial consideration and to maintain facilities and equipment that fully meets the needs of families requiring a funeral director's service.

According to the statement issued by the order's headquarters in Springfield, Ill., continued membership depends on ethical standards and service to the community being observed.

This organization represented on five continents is the largest controlled-membership order of funeral directors in the world. Its slogan: "Service measured not by gold, but by the Golden Rule."

SHOKAN NEWS

SHOKAN — New Jersey people in town Sunday included John M. Ratcliff former councilman and mayor of Wayne, a retired businessman who has two sons, a doctor and a pharmacist. He has seen his town grow in the past 34 years from a population of 6,000 to 35,000. He describes himself as being "not only the oldest but the fastest prescription delivery boy." Ratcliffe while here acquired one of the scarce old hand-powered farm corn-shellers.

Also calling in the village was Thomas Faulkner of Old Mountain Road, Upper Nyack.

Out of town followers of Izaak Walton are beginning to come around to see about reservoir fishing licenses and pick up a likely spot to tie their boats for the season. With both basins of the Ashokan reportedly filled to near capacity, the fishing ought to be good at the Ashokan this spring and summer. Then there will be the usual long line of parked cars along Route 213 on the north side of the dividing weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee were recent dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bush, Kelly Corners. The occasion was in celebration of Lee's 75th birthday and that of Bush who was 71 on March 12.

Harrison Gridley, Glenford, was a caller at the home of Clyde Winchell in the village center. Gridley taught school in northern Ulster townships for 55 years previous to retirement. His first teaching position was at Boiceville when the building was on the west side of Esopus Creek, near the farmhouse of Millard Davis Sr. He taught the Ashokan school 15 years and during that time he also worked as evening clerk in Winchell's Store here. He sold his home and antique shop near the old mill at Shady last year.

James O'Leary of Massena was a local caller recently. He is currently staying at Saugerties while canvassing this area for magazine subscriptions to buy another wheel chair for Olive Post, American Legion.

Local jottings of March 15 Years Ago: Hewitt Osborn, Athens resident who was born and brought up here, observed his 80th birthday recently. Among those who called on the Olive and Hurley O. S. Church board member were Mr. and Mrs. Orville Winchell and Elder Amasa Slauson, all of Kingston . . . Edwin Swenson, formerly of Locust Valley, L. I., is a new pupil at the Shokan School. He is now staying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Markle Sr., of Twin Maples . . . Wolfgang Adels is a new member of the Reformed Church choir of which his mother, Mrs. John Adels, is soloist. The young war veteran has a pleasing tenor voice.

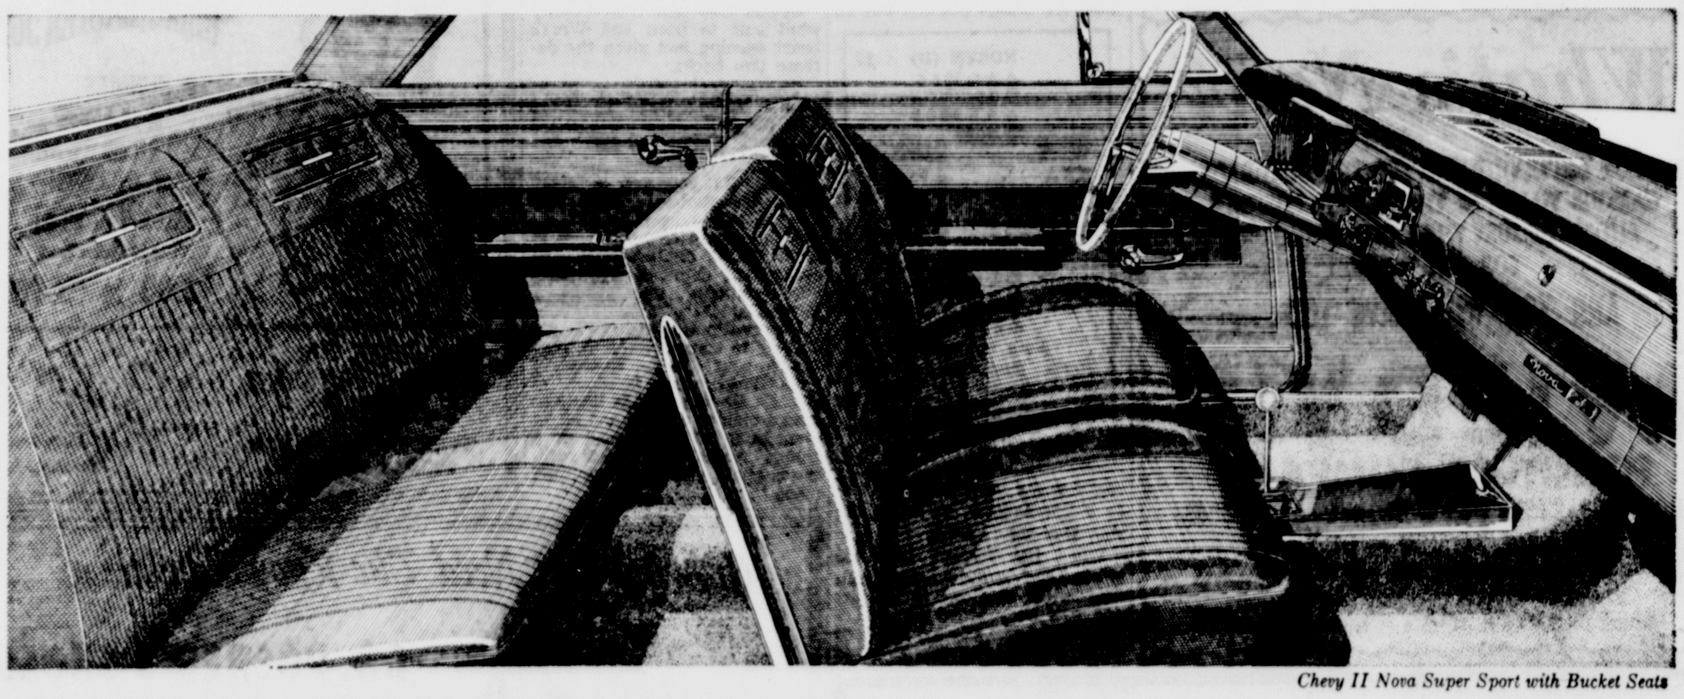
'64 Chevy II Super Sport with V8 power

...and just the place to enjoy it



Chevy II Nova Super Sport with Bucket Seats

Find out for yourself what this Chevy II can really do. If there are hills nearby, let it give them a good going-over. Then see how quickly it gives slow-moving trucks the run-around. With its new extra-cost V8 all you ever have to do is give the accelerator an inch, and this Chevy II Super Sport Coupe will take a mile.

And this great highway performer looks the part it plays so well. A glance at its all-vinyl interior will tell you that. Those inviting bucket seats are made of ultra-soft foam cushioning. The door-to-door carpeting is so thick you can feel it through your shoes. There's your choice of either the floor-mounted Powerglide or Four-Speed Synchro-Mesh transmission. Both are optional at extra cost, along with a Positraction rear axle, simulated wire wheel covers, AM-FM radio and a host of other accessories.

And for all its new power, Chevy II rides so softly it seems to glide along the highway. That's because it has high-mounted independent coil springs in the front and Mono-Plate single-leaf springs in the rear. Its unitized well-insulated Body by Fisher shuts vibrations out and keeps road noise down to a whisper.

With everything Chevy II Super Sport has going for it, it's no surprise your Chevrolet dealer is anxious to show you its price tag. Because that's the only thing about it that isn't super.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

The other day Jack Curran of 294 Broadway stopped in to talk about Castle Point Veterans Administration Hospital, near Beacon on which staff he was for many years before he retired from that work. I had made mention of Glory Hole, which a geologist visiting here asked about, also fossils. Mr. Curran said, he was interested in fossils some 30 years ago, and used to read all the books in the Kingston library on them. One day he found a number of fossils around the High Road rocks in Rondout, and brought them in a box to the library. Perhaps our local schools study rocks and rock formations of local stone, we didn't, but of course, our modern schools are so much more advanced I understand. They might know about fossils.

Mr. Curran also told me that his half brother, Jake Saurs, who lived in Rosendale some 60 years ago, and was a blasting expert, used to talk about the Glory Hole in connection with LeFevre Falls, and Rock Lock in Rosendale. Perhaps the Rosendale Cement Co. might have further information on it, he suggested. He also spoke about the caves in Wilbur.

Mrs. Alfred (Virginia) Mannello, a nurse's aid at one of the local sanitariums told me how she often takes care of Mrs. Julian Burroughs, daughter-in-law of the famous John Burroughs. For that reason she enjoys mention of items on the Burroughs family, as Mrs. Burroughs often tells her about trips they took in a homemade boat many years ago with the famous naturalist. Mrs. Delia Shaw of New Paltz sent me several newspaper clippings on the Burroughs family. One dated March, 1917, which covered the passing of Ursula Burroughs, wife of John Burroughs, who died at her home at West Park.

As the years go by, the life and family of John Burroughs take on more interest. In 1917 it was written, that Ursula Burroughs was born Jan. 3, 1836, at Olive, and was the daughter of Uriah North and Lydia Winchell North of that village. She left a sister, Amanda North, of Cohoes, and husband, John Burroughs and son Julian Burroughs of West Park. Mrs. Mannello now often takes care of Mrs. Julian Burroughs, who she thinks is in her eighties.

In the 1917 item it states, that Mr. and Mrs. John Burroughs both became seriously ill in January 1916, while visiting friends in Georgia, and it was not until mid-April that Mrs. Burroughs was able to make the journey home. Since that time she had been in a precarious condition, but it had only been for a few days that death seemed imminent, item explained.

It further went to say that Mrs. Burroughs was of strong physique and of remarkable physical and mental vigor for one of her advanced years until her comparatively recent illness. She was a woman of marked individuality, possessing great decision and determination, and many sterling traits of character. Her tastes were simple, she shunned publicity and found her chief pleasure in the "trivial round, the common task" of a quiet domesticity. The funeral was held from "Riverby" West Park, Thursday at 11 a. m. The Rev. P. N. Chase officiating.

The other item which was sent to me by Mrs. Shaw tells about a "Wedding at Slabsides" at the little rustic cabin in the wooded hills back of the Hudson at West Park. Admiring friends of John Burroughs, Miss Adella Pepper of Lawrence, Kansas became the wife of John P. Shea." More on the wedding later. I wonder where they are now, and what their future held for them.

To Join Liberty Firm April 1

DAVID T. TRAURIG

It was announced this week, that David T. Traurig, who resigned from his position as convention manager of The Grossinger Hotel, will assume the post of executive coordinator for The Ross Company, Liberty. Traurig, a former resident of Brookline, Mass., now resides in Liberty with his wife and two-year-old son. He is a graduate of Boston University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree.

In making this announcement, Brotman, vice-president of the Ross Company, said that "We are pleased to add to our executive staff, a gentleman with the background and insight of the advertising industry such as Mr. Traurig has."

Brotman continued, "Ours is a small company with a history of minor successes. With the addition of Mr. Traurig we hope to gain even greater prominence in the advertising industry."

Traurig will assume his post on April 1. His responsibilities will be those of coordinating the firms advertising and of recruiting salesmen. At the present time the Ross Company has 500 dealer salesmen in 42 states. With the present expansion program, the firm has set a target date of 1970 for the expansion to 4,000 salesmen.

Scout Pack 19 Presents Awards At Dinner Meet

Cub Pack 19, sponsored by the VFW held its annual blue and gold banquet at the VFW Home recently. The cubs, their parents and guests were welcomed by Cubmaster Theodore Barten.

Following the opening ceremonies, a baked ham supper was served. Assistant District Commissioner Robert Tremper gave the blessing for the meal.

Barten introduced the guests for the evening, Gilbert Williams, VFW Post commander, and his family; James D. DeVine, institutional representative, guest speaker Tremper, and family.

Tremper spoke to the boys on the importance of scouting and the enjoyment they will find while taking an active part in the pack activities. He also stressed the role of the parent in helping the boy to achieve these goals.

The following awards were presented by Cubmaster Barten:

Bobcat Pins to Raymond Glass and Peter Naccarato.

Wolf Badges to Jeffrey Lowe, Charles VanGasbeck, James Boughton, and Kevin Cahill.

Wolf Badge with Gold Arrow to Timothy Broadhead.

Denner stripes were received by Peter Woodworth and Timothy Broadhead; assistant denner stripes by David Kordzikowski and William Martin.

Arrows were presented to the following: Silver arrow under Lion Badge, Peter Woodworth and David Kordzikowski; silver arrow under Bear Badge, Dennis Stokes.

Gold arrow under Wolf Badge, William Radcliffe, Thomas Long, Samuel DeCicco and John Longendyke; silver arrow under Wolf Badge, William Martin.

Den mothers are: Mrs. Jean Long, Mrs. William Radcliffe, Mrs. Marie Stokes and Mrs. Jean Matthews.

The den chiefs served the denners. They are: George Long, William Reynolds, Edward Markles and S. Marks.

Committeemen for the pack are: Richard Matthews, William Ralff and Louis LaConture.

Claude Kelderhouse is assistant cubmaster.

The highlight of the evening's program was the running of the space derby. First place went to William Radcliffe with Richard Matthews taking second.

Dear Abby . . .

No Grounds for Revival!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who used to arrive on my doorstep daily for a two-hour coffee break. I finally had to tell her that I didn't have the time for it. She is the sensitive type who is easily hurt, so, ever since then, she has acted very cool towards me, and hardly speaks. I must admit that I enjoy the freedom from these coffee breaks, and therefore hesitate to revive our friendship. However, our children play together and I would rather be on friendly terms with her. How can I accomplish this without getting back on those two-hour coffee breaks?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: You can't. Leave well enough alone. You don't know when you are well off.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: A second man has entered my life. I am a church woman, but if you will let me explain, perhaps you will find some compassion for me.

I think it was his eyes that first breached my reserve. Always beautiful, they sometimes appear gray and turbulent, like mountain lakes whipped to anger by a passing storm. His hair, rivaling the beauty of his eyes, has the windblown freshness of the open field. His physique is as perfect as his smile is disarming. And when he looks into my eyes, as he did tonight, I can see no end to this relationship. You see, Abby, he is my grandson, just one year old, and this is his first visit to our home. Aren't some women just plain —

LUCKY?

DEAR LUCKY: Yes, and I was getting ready to reply, "It will never work, forget him."!

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who says, "I am going to GET a bath." I keep telling him that he should say, "I am going to TAKE a bath." Who is right?

FASSIO

DEAR FASSIO: One who bathes himself TAKES a bath. If he is given a bath by someone else, he GETS a bath. Unless your friend is at an age where his mother is still bathing him, he is all wet.

• • • •

CONFIDENTIAL TO BETSY AT LOCKHEED: I think you are wise to wait. A man who has been divorced three times is a very, very, very poor risk.

• • • •

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

• • • •

Violinist Plans Concert at Bard College

Annandale-on-Hudson, N.Y.... Gerald Beal, violinist, will give a concert at Bard College on Monday, March 30, at 8:30 p. m. in Bard Hall. Mr. Beal will be assisted by John MacKay, pianist, and Aaron Shapinsky, cellist. The program will include selections from the works of Mozart, Franck, Kreisler, Szmanowski, and Wieniawski; and, a novel feature for a recital program, the Mendelssohn Piano Trio in D Minor, opus 49, one of the master's greatest, and yet rather neglected, chamber music works. The public is invited.

Mr. Beal received his musical education and violinistic training at the Juilliard School of Music as a pupil of Ivan Galamian; and also has studied with Emil Hauser, Professor of Music, Emeritus, Bard College. In 1958, he made his debut at Carnegie Hall and will give a recital there this coming April 2nd. Mr. Beal is a member of the American Symphony Orchestra under Leopold Stokowski, and other New York City chamber groups and recording ensembles.

John MacKay, a pupil of Beveridge Webster, holds a master's degree from Juilliard where he is teaching piano, and is one of the nation's finest young pianists. Aaron Shapinsky, who recently gave a very successful recital in Town Hall, is one of New York's best-known cellists.

Glenford Engine Company Auxiliary Has New Members

The Ladies Auxiliary of Glenford Engine Company No. 4 met at the firehouse the evening of March 18 for its regular monthly meeting. The new officers, elected in January, officiated in their new capacity. They are: president, Alice Preisendorfer; vice president, Doris Carle; secretary, Virginia Fuchs; treasurer, Marilyn Rice.

New members introduced and welcomed by the group were Florence Weber, Mary Lou North, and Barbara Ogden. Before settling down to a lengthy business meeting, there was a brief discussion of the event which replaced the February meeting. Fifteen members, on the evening of February 26, enjoyed a dinner at Kurta's Restaurant in Glenford. This event has been observed almost every year.

The major portion of the meeting was spent in planning future meeting programs and fund-raising affairs. At the April 15 meeting, one of the active Glenford firemen will demonstrate the use of the company's resuscitator and Scott Air-Pak.

A bake sale date was set for Wednesday, April 22. The time and place will be announced. Anyone who wishes to donate baked goods for this sale may contact one of the officers or any member.

Juanita DeGraff, Doris Carle, and Alice Preisendorfer will meet with a committee of firemen to formulate plans for the annual bazaar to be held in August. The ladies are planning at least four interesting tables or booths in addition to the sale of various hot and cold foods.

A copy of our new "fire coffee" information list will soon be given to each member. There will be a copy posted in the firehouse.

Upon reflection into the year 1963 the following items were found in our records: St. Valentine's Dance; two rummage and food sales; annual bazaar; two Thanksgiving food baskets and two Christmas food baskets were filled and distributed in this area; purchase of six cots and six wool blankets, which are stored in the firehouse for emergency use; new drapes were purchased and hung in the firehouse; a rosewood gavel was presented to firemen of Company No. 4; an upright piano had been donated to our company, and the services of a professional tuner were obtained.

On the evening of January 21 of this year, our auxiliary, with the joint participation of the West Hurley Auxiliary, served refreshments to the members of the Ulster County Firemen's Association who attended a regular monthly meeting in the West Hurley Firehouse.

Mrs. Mirel is a past member of the NFTS Board of Directors and served in its Department of Religion and Education as chairman of the NFTS Committee on Religious Schools.

She has been a member of the Executive Committee of District 3, the New York Eastern Canada and Southern Connecticut Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, and is now on its Board of Directors and has served as its Chairman of Religious Schools and Youth Activities. She has held various offices in her local Sisterhood, including that of President.

Mrs. Mirel has received an extensive training in education and in Jewish Studies and is Director of Temple Sinai Nursery School in Roslyn, Long Island.

The annual Donor Luncheon will be held Wednesday, April 29 aat the Nevele Hotel, Ellenville, where a day of golf, swimming and relaxation may be enjoyed by those attending. The Mmes. Alvin Motzkin and Arthur Motzkin are chairmen of this luncheon and reservations.

On Wednesday, May 6, new and prospective members of Temple Emanuel will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ewig. The Mmes. Martin Kantor and Julian Lohre, chairmen.

The third annual Antiques Show and Sale will be held in the Social Hall, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday May 12, 13 and 14. Mrs. David Gerbarg will serve as chairman. Luncheon, dinner and snacks will be served.

An installation dinner meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, June 10. Mrs. Charles Warshaw, chairman. The Sisterhood nominating committee has presented the slate of officers for next year. Mrs. Herbert Greenwald was named for president, Mrs. Robert Ronder, first vice president, Mrs. David Gerbarg, second vice president, Mrs. Arthur Kaufman, third vice president, Mrs. Stanley Wyman, fourth vice president, Mrs. George Goldfarb, recording secretary, Mrs. Harold Beller, financial secretary and Mrs. Herbert Kletske, treasurer, Mrs. Martin Kantor, corresponding secretary.

The audience participated with the Mmes. Harold Beller, Arthur Ewig and Julian Lohre in a Matchgame covering the Passover Seder.

A spring and summer millinery show was held. The Mmes. Goldfarb and Harold Beller were in charge of this portion of the program with Mrs. Herbert Kletske the musical accompanist. Sisterhood members who modeled the millinery finery were the Mmes. Irving Brower, Charles Jacobs, Martin Kantor, Arthur Motzkin, Haskell Naigles, Max Pasternack, Alfred D. Ronder, Herbert Siller, Harold Shorr, Paul Wendrow and Marguerite Zucker.

Hostesses for the evening were the Mmes. Harold Beller, Arthur Ewig, Charles Jacobs, Julian Lohre and Stanley Wyman.

A PARTY FOR MEN ONLY

Q: About a year ago my husband and a friend went into business. They have done remarkably well and as a good will gesture, they would like to give a cocktail party at a hotel for the executives of the firms with whom they do business. My husband thinks it would be a good idea if the other wife and I acted as hostesses. We would be the only women there. Would it be proper?

A: You and the other wife have no place at this party to which only men are to be invited.

Wedding Photographs

Q: I was a bridesmaid in a friend's wedding over a month ago and have not received a wedding picture. I always thought it was up to the bride to give each attendant a picture. Am I right? Would it be proper to ask her for one?

A: Because of their expense, a bride is not expected to give photographs to her attendants and it would not do to ask her for one. You may, however, ask her the name of the photographer and order one yourself.

Dinner Hostess Called To Telephone

Q: At a dinner party, should the hostess be called away from the table to answer the telephone, are the gentlemen at the table expected to rise when she leaves and again when she returns?

A: The man sitting on her right should rise to help her with her chair when she returns to the table, but with this exception the men all remain seated so as to minimize the disturbance.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Clothes of the Bridal Party." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Freeman.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are anwsered in this column.

Hadassah Activities Reviewed at Meeting; Hear Panel Members

The Kingston Chapter of Hadassah met on Monday evening, March 16. An opening statement by the chapter president, Mrs. Arthur Landesman, concerning the coming Festival of Passover was followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by Mrs. Alfred Zamm, recording secretary.

The Hadassah New and Nearly New Shop under the direction of Mrs. Aaron Bahl held one of its most successful sales. In her report Mrs. Bahl expressed gratitude for the many generous contributions made by city merchants, and for the use of an excellent store loaned to the organization by the Ulster County Savings Institution. Mrs. Bahl also thanked the many members who aided her in this vocational educational project by picking up merchandise and by working during the week of the sale. These included the Mmes. Pearl Adin, Rose Kuntz, Joseph Avis, Sidney Halpern, Arthur London, Oscar London, Murray Fletcher, Robert Yallum, Harry Speigal, Louis Beckenstein, Murray Weiss, William Buchbinder, George Starkman, Paul Johnson, Isadore Werbalowsky, Sam Basch.

Also the Mmes. Martin Katz, Richard Kalish, Arthur Landesman, Arthur Motzkin, Gerald Gruberg, Herbert Siller Carl Bernstein, Walter Suskind, Herbert Gertner, Greta Field, Leon Gray and Mrs. Arthur Kaufman.

Other reports were presented by Mrs. Joseph Horowitz, benefit book chairman, Mrs. Murray Weiss and Mrs. William Buchbinder, co-chairmen for the Jewish National Fund drive now in operation and Mrs. Alfred Horowitz, ads chairman.

Mrs. Robert Yallum and Mrs. Sidney Halpern, chairmen for the spring conference of the Lower New York State Region of Hadassah, explained conference plans to the chapter members. It is hoped that all members will attend many of the programs being planned for this event.

Mrs. Walter Suskind is the local conference chairman in charge of reservations.

After the business meeting, a program was presented by Mrs. George Starkman and Mrs. Sidney Treinkman. Participants in a provocative panel discussion were Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, Mrs. Alfred Horowitz and Raphael Klein. Co-ordinator and panel moderator for the evening was Mrs. Arnold Pinsley Refreshments were served by Mrs. Morris Berman and Mrs. Maurice Crystal.

The Board of the Kingston Chapter of Hadassah will hold its next meeting on April 6, at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Alfred Horowitz, Scudder Avenue. A brief course in leadership training will be given by Mrs. Morris Barer, regional area chairman. It is requested that all members attend this vital session.

The April 20 general meeting will feature the incoming regional president of Hadassah.

The slate of officers for the 1964-65 year will be presented by Mrs. George Starkman, nominating committee chairman at the April 20 meeting. Highlight of this important meeting will be the introduction to the chapter of Mrs. Leon Freedman, incoming president of the Lower New York State Region of Hadassah. Mrs. Freedman will address the membership on "Hadassah's Medical Organization . . . It's contributions to Israel and to the World."

Rollicking Comedy Planned by PTF Group At Rondout Valley; Opens on April 10

A departure from the usual annual supper benefit, is being planned by the Parents, Teachers and Friends organization at the Rondout Valley Central School. Each year the organization sponsors a benefit program which enables such projects as books for the school library, venetian blinds for classrooms, audio-visual aid equipment, and cash donations for school purposes.

This year's benefit will be a comedy written by Katherine Kavanaugh. It is "Adam's Evening," a farce in three acts. It will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 10 and 11 and is open to the public. Curtain will be at 8:15 p. m.

Among the featured players is Jason Goumas, teacher at the Marbletown School. He will portray the part of Dr. Fragoni, a foreign-born physician who is delighted with his successful practice and attractive wife.

Mr. Goumas has been teaching at the Marbletown School since September, 1955 where he taught seventh grade in the front hall due to a shortage of classrooms. He now teaches fourth grade.

A graduate of Kingston High School, he attended Penn State University and was graduated from State Teachers University in New Paltz in 1951 with a BS in education and a MS in education. He also holds an elementary supervisor's license as well as an elementary principal's license from the State Education Department.

Goumas is very active in civic affairs in Kingston having worked on the Cancer and Heart Fund Drives, Community Chest Drives, Junior Chamber of Commerce projects and the Miss New York State Pageant. He is a past secretary of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce. 1960 Miss New York State Pageant Publicity Director and presently secretary of Pageant, Inc. He is past president of the Rondout Valley Teachers Associataion, past vice-president of the Ulster County Teachers Association, member of NEA and the New York State Teachers Association. He also is a past secretary of the Ulster County Young Republican Club and presently is serving as assistant treasurer of that group.

Goumas is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Greek Orthodox Community of Kingston. He has been very active in sports in the Kingston area having been president of the Kingston City Softball League four years in a row, is now vice-president of the Hi-Lo Bowling League.

Previous dramatic credits include French-language plays at Kingston High School. At New Paltz, he played the leading role of Grandpa Vandewater in the 1949 spring production of the New Paltz Players production of "You Can't Take It With You" and the Interfraternity Revue of "Lil' Abner."

Arlene Paetow, who plays the part of the doctor's wife, is in real life the wife of William Paetow of High Falls. She attended Albany State Teachers College and was graduated in 1947.

Mrs. Paetow is the mother of three children. She is active in PTF and church work and is interested in music, reading and gardening. As Rosita she portrays the rather handsome young wife of Dr. Fragoni.

John Novi, will take the part of Elmer, a quaint looking individual who has a rather vague expression in his eyes when obsessed by his mania for suicide. Mr. Novi is a 1959 graduate of Kingston High School. He is employed as manager of Novi's Bakery and Restaurant in High Falls. He likes to play semi-classical and jazz tunes on the piano and enjoys collecting recordings for his hi-fi set.

THE CLOTHES POLL

Bare Facts on New Front

By HELEN HENNESSY,
Newspaper Enterprise Women's Editor

Ever since the garment industry grabbed its trusty scissors and cut the fronts out of dresses, foundation manufacturers have been faced with an unenviable dilemma.

Trying to design a bra that gives adequate support, yet remains invisible under the current wide, plunging necklines creates a construction nightmare.

Some of the new necklines plunge so deeply that unless the bra dips well past the breast bone, it can be seen at the least movement of the wearer.

One store buyer admitted that nothing will work unless a manufacturer can rig up two cups connected by bicycle wire—sort of like ear muffs.

There are bras on the market that can cope with any fashion that isn't actually slashed to the waist. These have a deep U-shaped wire connecting the cups. But if you're so uninhibited as to choose the more daring plunge you'll have to work out your own supporting solution with such handy household items as transparent or adhesive tape—flesh colored, of course.

Careful, though! These do-it-yourself projects have a way of breaking down while in use.

Before you shop for the deep plunge, buy the lowest-cut bra you can find and wear it on your shopping spree. If you reverse the procedure and buy the dress first, you may have to sew up the front before you can go to the ball—without a police escort to keep the crowds away.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Boy Scout News

The Port Ewen School auditorium was turned into a bird and animal sanctuary as Pack 26 Cub Scouts held their monthly pack meeting March 18.

The theme was Cub Scout Naturalists which was used at the March Roundtable. Birdhouses, feeders, animal track, leaf and nut plaster casts were made and displayed by the dens.

Cubmaster Fred Kirk welcomed cubs, parents and friends. He thanked all for a successful Blue and Gold banquet and also the 12 leaders from Pack 26 who were at the Council Pow-Wow. Ronald Latz Sr. was a leader in the games section. Elizabeth Larkin was handicraft section chairman. Ruth Latz, Louise Cornish and Bernice Pritchard were leaders at the wire jewelry section. Other leaders attending were Fred Kirk, Wilma Lemister, Regina Sass, Dorothy Bell, Frances Giles, Jacquelin Shelightner, and Doris West.

Cubs were given uniform inspection by the pack leaders while parents gathered with Cubmaster Kirk for the movie What Cub Scouting Is. The den mothers led guest children in quiet games. Parents rejoined the cubs and were led in the pledge to the flag by Cubmaster Kirk.

Opening ceremonies were conducted by Den 6—Bernice Pritchard, Denmother, Anita Granitto, Assistant Denmother, on the nature theme What A Cub Scout Needs to Grow.

The Cubs and audience participated in a skit Three Trees.

Den 3 — Louise Cornish, Denmother had a skit with a Cub Scout Train making the long pull through Cub Scouting.

Cubmaster Kirk and Awards Chairman Burt Ellis presented the following awards: Bobcat pins to Douglas Bell, Brain Shelightner, Wolf Silver Arrow to Kevin Johnson, and Robert Hayes. Bear Silver Arrow to Thomas Fisher (2). One year service star to Thomas Cornish, Jeffery Soura, William Mabie, Christopher Mabie, Robert Hayes. One-year service star to Louise Cornish as a Denmother. Webelos induction was conducted by Ronald Latz Sr., Webelos Leader and Webelos Den Chief Gary Churchill for Kevin Kirk, Kendall Windram and Wayne Lemister. Registration card for leadership was presented to Burt Ellis Sr.

Awards given for selling the most Scout Spectacular tickets went to Delton Pritchard and Martin Jordan who both sold 10 tickets each and Ronald Latz Jr. who sold 36 tickets putting him in first place over all boys of the district.

Announcement sheets were handed out with Friday, April 10 Leaders Committee meeting at Sylvester Brown's home in Connelly. New charter is to be made up. All leaders are urged to attend this meeting. Monday, April 20, rountable at Bethany Hall, Old Dutch Church, Kingston, 7:45 p. m. Wednesday, April 29, Pack meeting at the Port Ewen School, 7 p. m. Uniform inspection by the council. MacArthur Gets Japanese Notes

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Hayato Ideda and Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira sent a message to ailing Gen. Douglas MacArthur today expressing hopes for his early recovery.

They messaged the former commander in chief of allied occupation forces in Japan: "On behalf of the Japanese government and the people, we heartily hope you will quickly recover with the courage and resoluteness you have always shown in the past."

Middle Eastern Easter Egg Dye

A Middle Eastern tradition calls for the carrying of hard boiled eggs, dyed with beet juice, to church on Easter morning. After services, the congregation gathers outside the church in mutual congratulation of the happy day.

One greets another, "Christ is risen," and holds up a beautiful red egg. The other replies, "He is risen, indeed!" and taps the first egg with one of his until one egg cracks. The cracked egg goes to the one doing the cracking. At Easter dinner the game is played around the table.

While developing Lenten dishes using beets and hard boiled eggs, a leading company decided to experiment with beet juice as an Easter egg dye. They hoped to pass along the pretty custom. So far, no luck. They have boiled eggs in concentrated beet juice. They have soaked them in beet juice. They had added salt. They have added vinegar. Still the eggs come out a mottled brown instead of rich beet red. Perhaps some reader can explain the secret.

Here is a beet dyed hard boiled egg that does add color and zest to a lenten meal. Remove the shells. Halve lengthwise and remove yolks. Put whites in a bowl and cover with juice from pickled beets. Mash yolks. Mix with mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten, add to your taste seasoned salt, pepper, curry powder, Worcester, mustard. Twenty-four hours later drain whites, which will now be a rich purple, and stuff with golden seasoned egg yolks. A gala dish as a first course at dinner, or as part of a supper buffet.

Watch this column for a superb dessert which I acquired through the courtesy of a fine lady who resides in the Town of Olive. It will make a hit with your Easter dinner guests.

World's Fair Survival Tips

There's a new kind of survival kit around and it's worth looking into—you'll find all the equipment necessary to keep you at your best through a full day at the Fair. The kit has a do-it-yourself attraction since you begin with your own roomy pocketbook and add the items that make for your own brand of beauty.

A noted magazine leads the packing suggestions with a three-rule preface: organization, miniaturization, and, where possible, combination. Working in reverse order that might mean a combined comb and brush, a miniature vial of hair spray, a filing system of smaller bags and purses.

Important to remember here is that each item must count—no crowding your handbag with old letters, souvenir menus, momentoes from the last World's Fair. Now is the time to separate the essentials from the space fillers. You need lipstick, comb and brush, powder, tissue, wallet, and eye makeup. You should have blusher, fragrance, nail file, small scissors, sunglass case, and plastic rain hat. You must add all the utensils necessary to apply your cosmetics.

Surviving at the Fair simply takes a little know-how. If the combination of heat and hamburgers proves too much, try a fountain drink with slightly more syrup than carbonation, or some tea with lemon and sugar. If your hairdo's suffering from humidity, sprinkle cologne on cotton impaled on a brush and give your hair a vigorous workout. Then pull it up and back with a ribbon or headband.

Or, you can just relax, enjoy the sights and delay your beauty treatment until you get back home or to the comfort of your hotel room.

Ladybird Marvels At Space Rockets

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson says she has never seen anything comparable to the thundering, fire-belching display of rocket engines designed to take men to the moon.

Holding her fingers to her ears and wearing a white helmet, she witnessed Tuesday the static test-firing of first-stage Saturn and F1 engines that each produce 1.5 million pounds of thrust.

The President's wife, on an inspection tour of the Marshall Space Flight Center, declared the size and complexity of the marvelous machines of space would be impressive to any viewer "and I am no exception."

The first lady combined her inspection tour of the space center, a luncheon reunion with Alabama relatives and got in quite a lick of politicking in a 13-hour trip to the South.

She said her husband's long-time interest in space prompted her visit and it brought nostalgic reminders of childhood summers spent here.

She praised Alabama and the South, for their part in making America "a space-faring nation that will lead the world in space research and development for peaceful purposes."

Favors Cemetery Plan

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—A federal judge appears ready to approve a government plan for relocating an Indian cemetery that will be flooded when the Kinzua dam in Warren County is completed next fall.

Judge Joseph P. Willson said Tuesday after an all-day hearing in U.S. District Court that the government plan "was the only feasible one offered."

Cancer Research Aided by Grants Totaling $273,328

New cancer research grants totaling $273,328 have been made to scientists and institutions in upstate New York by the American Cancer Society, it was announced today by Richard W. Griggs, president of the Society's Ulster County Unit.

Nine of the grants, totaling $179,919, were made to scientists at Roswell Park Memorial Institute Buffalo. An Institutional Research grant in the amount of $31,000 went to the University of Rochester; a grant of $37,409 went to the Upstate Medical Center at the State University of New York in Syracuse and an Institutional Research grant of $25,000 went to Cornell University.

Funds for these and other American Cancer Society research grants are raised during the Society's annual Cancer Crusade in April.

Fail to Find Goya

LONDON (AP) — Judges of Britain's Royal Academy today finished scrutinizing 10,000 pictures entered for the academy's annual exhibition but failed to find the missing Goya portrait of the Duke of Wellington.

The Goya, which was bought for the nation for $392,000 in August, 1961, was stolen within a month from the National Gallery in Trafalgar Square. No trace of it has ever been found.

Sir Charles Wheeler, president of the academy, had suggested that the thieves return it "with no questions asked" by slipping it among the many pictures submitted for the academy's annual exhibition.

In 1539 the explorer Hernando de Soto described the Florida Everglades as "mysterious and impenetrable."

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Humans Are Vulnerable

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My daughter, 10, recently began to bite her fingernails. I cannot account for this habit as she has friends, is doing well in school and is not under any special stress that I can see. However, she has always been an excitable child and our relationship has not been an easy one. But with the psychiatric help I have had, it has been steadily improving over the past years. I know that what I need is increased understanding and if you can give me any . . .

ANSWER: Let's stop trying to account for the child's habit. Let's try to locate the stress that is driving you to try and break the habit.

Why is it so necessary to stop your daughter's nail-biting?

You blame yourself for it, don't you? Your feeling is, "Somehow, somewhere during these past weeks the bad, pushy, untrustworthy part of me slipped out of my control—and began to make such extravagant demands on this child of mine that she got nervous and started biting her nails." That's it, isn't it? That is the stress that is trying to drive you to break her habit.

You know that if you can stop her nail-biting, you can also silence your self-accusation — this self-accusation which condemns you for a mean, insensitive, pressuring mother every time this child raises her finger to her mouth and chews on a nail. By ending the nail-biting, you can end the self-reproach you feel every time you notice her stubby finger tips and wish they looked tapered and pretty.

There's no point in my going on about the effect of this self-accusation on your child. She feels it in you; she knows her nail-biting has aroused it; she responds to your tension with such anxiety that it has to be released in more nail-biting.

But let me remind you that we all damage our children just as our parents damaged us. It is only before they are born that we can keep them bathed in limpid, emollient love. The moment they're born, without intending to, we start sticking safety pins into them, transferring our colds to them, misjudging their actions and pushing them when we feel pushed.

Suppose pressure by you contributed to this nail-biting habit? So what? You're not an angel in heaven raising a cherub. You're a vulnerable human being raising another vulnerable one as well as you can. That's how it is on earth—and so far as I am concerned, just how it ought to be.

Monroe Defeats School

MONROE, N.Y. (AP) — A $2.5 million bond issue for a new junior high school was defeated Tuesday night by a vote of 626 to 512.

Voters of the Monroe-Woodbury Central School District turned down the proposal for the school that would have been built on a site donated by former Gov. Averell Harriman.

Directors to Air Pageant Plans Thursday Night

Additional plans for the Miss New York State Pageant, to be held here July 9, 10 and 11, will be made at the monthly meeting of the board of directors Thursday night. Each director is in charge of some phase of this major production and will report on progress to date and suggest other items for approval.

Plans for the appearance of Barbara Ann Gloede, the current Miss New York State, at the Lions Club Exposition here, April 14-18 at the State Armory also will be discussed. She will make the appearance through the cooperation of the Kingston Lions Club and the Pageant officials.

The Miss New York State Pageant is produced by Pageant, Inc., composed of a group of 12 volunteers; six appointed by the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce and six by the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce. Many more people assist in staging this big show which is a community effort to publicize the area on a state-wide and national basis. The 1964 Pageant will be the sixth one held in Kingston. The Pageant was originally brought to Kingston as a Junior Chamber of Commerce project, but has now been taken over as a project by the entire community.

YWCA PHYSICAL FITNESS CLASS—A new series of swim and gym classes sponsored by the YWCA for women and girls will begin Tuesday, April 7 for seven weeks. Classes are held at the YMCA pool and gym Tuesday and Thursday mornings and Friday nights. Student swimming is Friday afternoons for beginners and advanced. Mrs. Frank Tiano is the instructor. If enough women request it, steam baths may be arranged. Baby sitting is available at the YWCA Tuesday and Thursday mornings for preschool children. Fees and membership should be paid at the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue the week before classes start. This will be the last swim and gym session until fall.

Mental Health Office to Close On Good Friday

The Kingston office of the Ulster County Chapter of the Association for Mental Health will be closed Good Friday. It will reopen Tuesday, March 31, and during April will be open daily, Monday through Friday.

The association is a voluntary organization with a membership of some 400 persons in Ulster County who are interested in and concerned for the prevention of mental illness and the promotion of mental health. Its aim is to provide the community with educative and informative material concerning mental health and illness. Attempts to achieve these aims are made through seminars, workshops, volunteer services, and the distribution of mental health literature and mental health films. In addition, the association provides an informative service from its office, and is actively concerned to promote good treatment facilities for Ulster County.

Membership is open to anyone having an interest in mental health and related issues.

The association is supported entirely by the annual dues of members and by voluntary contributions and other fund-raising actvities. One quarter of this money goes to support the programs of the New York State Association for Mental Health and the National Association for Mental Health, of which the Ulster County Association is an affiliate. Five per cent of this goes to research into the causes and cures of mental illness.

Three-quarters of the funds raised remain in Ulster County, of which approximately 43 per cent goes into local education programs.

COMPUTER'S ON THE CURRICULUM—Almost up to their knees in data ground out by a high speed computer's printer, high school students Judi Kuptec and Jean Lesko begin some 1,000 hours of training in computer operation at Steel Valley Technical and Trade School, West Mifflin Borough, Pa. The school also hopes to start a course for unemployed adults.

Transfer Injured Teacher to N. Y., Hurt on Friday

A 36-year-old New York City teacher, injured critically in a Thruway accident last Friday, was transferred Tuesday night from Kingston Hospital to the Neurological Institute in New York by Doctor's Ambulance.

Lydia Bosanko, of 7111 West 190th Street, New York City, an instructor at the Presbyterian Medical Center in that city, was taken by ambulance at 7 p. m. yesterday. After the accident it was reported the woman suffered severe head injuries and possible fractures of the arm and broken pelvis.

Trooper J. B. Fox of the Thruway detail, said Miss Bosanko was driving her 1961 compact car north en route to visit relatives in Glens Falls, when the vehicle went out of control, crossed the superhighway and struck the bridge pier. She was taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance.

Crossed Addresses

HOLDREGE, Nev. (AP) — As ham radio operators often do, Dave Allerheiligen of Holdrege and Garth Kennedy of Lincoln, Neb., struck up an acquaintance via the air waves. Allergeiligen was intrigued when he discovered Kennedy lives on Holdrege Street because Allerheiligen lives on Lincoln Street in Holdrege.

'Staph' Infection Blamed for Illness From School Meal

Columbia County and State Health Department investigators as yet have not identified the person responsible for the food poisoning outbreak in some Hudson schools, last week but believe they may have identified the "weapon."

While the investigation is continuing, epidemiologists now believe it was the turkey pot pie.

It was explained that staphyloccus organisms which can cause gastro-intestinal illness have been found in the pot pie and in the cream topping of a gelatin dessert served in the school cafeterias last Thursday.

At least one person, possibly more, who became ill did not eat the gelatine dessert, a State Health Department spokesman said. Dr. G. Paul Kenyon, Columbia County health commissioner, said he feels the presence of "staph" in the gelatin topping may have been coincidental.

Those in charge of the inquiry would not speculate on how the organisms entered the pot pie, but it is known that food poisoning can occur when persons preparing or handling the food have "staph" infections. It was noted that if the food is then stored so that it is not quickly and effectively refrigerated, it can serve as a culture medium for the organism.

Health authorities are continuing laboratory analysis of specimens and interviews with persons concerned.

Socialist Labor Party To Meet on Weekend

The annual two day state convention of the New York Socialist Labor Party will take place this weekend at the Henry Hudson Hotel in New York City.

Socialist Labor Party delegates from Utica, Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Jamestown and other areas will attend, including Max Banks of Woodridge and Nathan Pressman of Ellenville.

Lawrence Gilfedder of Boston will be the fraternal delegate as the representative of the national Socialist Labor Party.

State candidates for the coming elections will be nominated. David Lippert, Rosendale, state secretary, will issue a detailed report covering Socialist Labor Party activities in New York during 1963.

Three of five family heads today have not completed high school, the Population Reference Bureau reports.

School Mardi Gras

NEW PALTZ — The New Paltz Central High School French Club will sponsor a Mardi Gras April 10. This will be a costume dance patterned after the Mardi Gras celebrations of New Orleans and some of the large European cities.

The dance will be held in the old gymnasium from 8 to 11 p. m. Every student must wear some type of costume in order to enter. A small admission fee will be charged.

Awards will be given to those who wear costumes showing the most originality and humor and to the best couple and best group. Entertainment is planned. There will be festive Mardi Gras decorations, and refreshments will be served.

Final plans were made for the Mardi Gras at the French Club meeting on March 11. Beth Hines is chairman of the Mardi Gras committee. Miss Judith Mosher is the French Club advisor.

Scholarship Candidate

Miss Linda Dyer, senior at New Paltz Central School, has been selected by the scholarship committee as a candidate for the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers Scholarship for teacher education.

The scholarships are available for top-ranking students who plan to enter a State University College and major in elementary or secondary education. The scholarships are in the amount of $1200, payable $300 a year for four years. The winners of the awards will be notified around June 1.

Miss Dyer is planning on attending the State University College at Cortland in the fall and major in secondary mathematics education.

She has been active in various extra-curriculur activities in high school. She was elected to the National Honor Society in her junior year. She was elected to represent the school at the Empire Girls State last year and was also honored by being chosen for the DAR school good citizen award. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dyer of Duzine Road, New Paltz.

Easter Egg Hunt

The New Paltz Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that it will hold its third annual Easter Egg Hunt at the Central School Athletic Field Sunday at 9:30 a. m.

The event will be open to all children from pre-school age to sixth grade.

Co-chairman, Irving Chaiet, has announced that the event will be held in two groups. There will be surprise awards for both the pre-school group and for the older children.

Capitol News In Brief

NO CHANGE: The House rejected by a 75-68 vote Tuesday a move led by silver state congressmen to provide $1.25 million for the coining of new silver dollars.

In sending the annual Treasury - Post Office appropriation bill to the floor last week the House Appropriations Committee rejected the Treasury's request to resume minting cartwheels. The committee said the Denver and Philadelphia mints should concentrate on badly-needed smaller coins.

The floor effort to provide funds for the first minting of silver dollars since 1935 was made before the bill was passed by a 326-20 roll call vote and sent to the Senate.

SATISFIED: Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said Tuesday Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has reassured him "with respect to our national defense capabilities."

Smathers had asked for an explanation of how a Cuban helicopter, hijacked by two defectors, managed to fly into Key West, Fla., last Friday apparently without detection.

McNamara called the Florida senator, sent him a letter and arranged a briefing Wednesday on the defense situation. Smathers said he now is confident "that this type of situation" will not recur.

SERVICE ACADEMIES: The Pentagon civil rights chief said Tuesday there are only 32 Negro cadets among the 7,000 men at the Army, Navy and Air Force academies because "lots of Negro youngsters just don't dream they have a chance."

But the official, Asst. Secretary of Defense Alfred B. Fitt, suggested that the planned expansion of the academies will present new opportunities for minority group youths.

Meanwhile, Fitt said, he has been trying to stimulate the interest of qualified Negroes, Puerto Ricans, Mexican-Americans and members of other minority groups—"people who traditionally have been left out of things."

Funeral Bill First

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Senate has voted final legislative approval of a bill requiring that funeral directors provide a written, itemized statement of arrangements and price before a funeral takes place.

Annual YMCA Good Friday Service Slated

The YMCA 10th annual Good Friday communion service will take place Friday 8 a. m. in the Y youth center as announced by executive secretary, Louis H. Schafer. Participants are requested to be present by 7:55 a. m.

The Rev. Reginald T. Edwards, pastor of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will be the leader. His topic will be In Quiet Places Apart. There are more members of the board of directors and trustees and key Y members registered to attend than in any past years. Secretary Schafer will make a special seating arrangement in the form of a cross so as to accommodate the large attendance.

The service starts promptly at 8 a. m. and concludes at 8:30. The service is one of fellowship, meditation and prayer along with the Sacrament of Holy Communion. Sam Scudder will present Easter music throughout the service and lead the hymns.

Raise Awaits Signature

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — A stroke of Gov. Rockefeller's pen was all that was needed today to enact his plan to raise state employes' pay by a total of $40-million a year.

The proposal won final legislative approval in the Senate last night. The raise will take effect Oct. 1 and will range from 7 to 11 per cent.

CASUAL DESPITE RED INFLUENCE—These two Havana women, militia girls for four hours a week, do guard duty outside a Havana factory. Despite the growing Russian influence in Cuba, there is an easy air about the way they do their jobs and they have no objections about smiling for the "capitalistic" West German photographer. Women like these are in evidence throughout Havana and take pride in the guard duty and rifle practice. (AP Wirephoto)

Giant Backfield Coach

'Sports Needed in Education,' Wright States at KHS Dinner

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

An athletic profession is most rewarding. I have been happy to use athletics as an instrument to gain a higher education. Be proud to be sitting here—you deserve it."

So said Harry Wright, newest member of the New York Football Giants coaching staff, to varsity letter winners of Kingston High School at last night's fifth annual banquet, held at the KHS cafeteria.

Blending his speech with some humorous tidbits, the former Notre Dame All-American told the more than 200 at the dinner that he had been most fortunate to have been associated with atheletics during most of his career.

"Sports is needed in an educational program. I sincerely hope it is never allowed to be taken away. With sports and athletics, you know that from Monday through Friday the athlete isn't allowed to cut corners, cheat or steal. He has to give his best at all times," the guest speaker said.

Wright, who succeeds Kyle Rote as offensive backfield coach of the Giants, said the new appointment is one of his great thrills.

Filmed Highlights

At the conclusion of his talk, the coach showed a half-hour film of highlights of the 1963 grid season in the National Football League. He then conducted a question and answer period. Among his answers to various questions were the following:

Y. A. Tittle of the Giants is one of the greatest quarterbacks in football history. However, it is hard to compare Tittle with John Unitas of the Baltimore Colts.

The Giants are seeking a speedy halfback and are willing to trade almost anyone if they can obtain such as Tim Brown of Philadelphia or Tom Moore of Green Bay.

Joe Don Looney of Oklahoma, the Giants' top draft pick last year, is being counted on as a fullback and figures to see a lot of action.

Dallas Is Improved

With the addition of Buddy Dial as split end and Tommy McDonald as flanker back, Dallas figures to be the most improved club in the Eastern Division of the NFL.

Glynn Griffing is a top pro prospect and should develop in the next year. He was hampered during 1963 because of his late arrival from the College All-Stars camp.

The frozen turf at Wrigley Field hampered the Giants in their title game against the Chicago Bears.

Joe Morrison and Frank Gifford are being counted as flanker backs this coming season, if the club can pick up a halfback. Aaron Thomas figures to be the starting tight end and Joe Walton back him up.

Allie Sherman has one of the greatest minds in football and is a top notch offensive grid coach.

Mayor John J. Schwenk gave the welcoming address. Other speakers included Dr. W. Wendell Hoover, Superintendent of Schools; David Kline, president, Board of Education; Dan H. Allen, principal, Kingston High School and Willard A. Burke, Athletic Director, who introduced the varsity letter winners.

M. Clifford Miller, Assistant Superintendent of Schools and Benson A. Krom, chairman, Athletic Committee of the Board of Education, were introduced.

Toastmaster Dick McCarthy, chairman of the annual event, introduced the coaches.

Assisting McCarthy on the committee were Burke, Al Blackwell, Ronnie Scheffel, Frank (Bing) Van Etten, Andrew J. Murphy III, James F. Gilpatric and John W. Johnson.

Guerin Is Happy With St. Louis

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Once disgruntled Richie Guerin has been like a kid with a new toy since he was traded to the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association.

But before he left the New York Knicks, he was ready to quit.

"Now it's great to be with a winner," he says. "And it will be good to be in the playoffs again."

The Hawks, San Francisco and Los Angeles are in the Western Division playoffs, while the Knicks finished in the Eastern Division cellar, as usual.

"I averaged more than 40 minutes and 20 points a game in seven years with New York," said the 31-year-old backcourt ace, 'but the club only made the playoffs once during that time."

Guerin, a graduate of Iona College, holds New York's single game record of 57 points and single season mark of 2,303.

"I still enjoyed playing basketball with the Knicks," he said, "but losing takes a lot out of you. Before I was traded I was going to quit after this season."

With the Hawks, the 6-foot-4 native of New York is averaging only 13 points and 30 minutes of play a game, but it's worth it.

"The personal glory was fine with the Knicks," he said, "but everyone wants to be with a winner."

Causey Wants Another Year Like '63 Season

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — "I'll take the same kind of year I had last year, but I'd like it spread around a little more evenly," said Wayne Causey, the Kansas City shortstop and former bonus baby who doesn't have to worry about his job for the first time in his 10-year career.

"I'd like to hit around .280 again," said Causey today, "but I could do without the kind of June I had last season. I began to think I'd never get straightened out and only wound up hitting .215 that month. That killed me."

Causey's slump—he had been well above .300 and was causing somewhat of a sensation around the American League—came as the surprising A's dropped out of the first division during the month and settled into eighth place, where they eventually finished.

Causey, however, regained his form and finished the season with a .280 average, showing some power with eight homers and 44 runs batted in while establishing himself as one of the top shortstops in the league. But it took 10 years.

"When I broke in I was 18. I had seen only high school pitching, and Baltimore couldn't farm me out, so I never got a chance to play and never got a chance to learn much," said Causey. "When they finally sent me down in 1957, I began to learn things I should have been learning all along.

"You just can't learn to hit in batting practice," he continued, "but in the minors I was playing regularly. That's when you get to learn how to adjust to pitching, how to adjust your bat to spray the ball around or hit to the opposite field."

The A's acquired Causey from the Orioles in 1961, and he was handed the third base job. But Causey still had problems.

Hank Bauer told me the third base job was mine if I could hit," said Causey, "but I injured my shoulder, Ed Charles beat me out and I couldn't get my job back. Then in 1962 Dick Howser broke his thumb and I got a chance at short. And Howser never got his job back."

Celts Work Hard And Win Often

BY BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP)—The balding man wreathed in cigar smoke looked like a shrub among giant redwood trees.

He put down the paper cup of champagne abruptly and announced: "Practice tomorrow morning, 10 sharp."

Coach Red Auerbach had let his Boston Celtics pause only a moment to celebrate the clinching of their eighth straight Eastern Division crown in the Na earlier this month.

"One thing I've learned with the Celtics is to never show compassion with a winner," Red says. "I run them ragged. I never let them get over - confident."

"He's the meanest, most cantankerous blankety-blank I've ever played for," says one player. "But I wouldn't play for anyone else. He's a dictator, yet none of us ever suffered wrongly at his hands."

In 13 previous years as Celtics' boss, Auerbach has guided six NBA champions and a runner-up. The athletes he drives are fond of victory as the man who still delights in luring self-styled handball and tennis experts into matches and trouncing them.

Auerbach contends all pros are ex-college stars used to being pampered so "you have to take a strong position so that they know you're the boss. Then you have to keep gently reminding them."

The Auerbach rule book calls for superb conditioning, no remarks about opponents which may backfire as ammunition later, no questioning of an order, no cliques.

While Auerbach needles his team in victory, he defends it staunchly in defeat, tolerates no attempt to single out a "goat." When red-hot Cincinnati pulled to within one-half game of the Celtics last month, Auerbach snapped at critics:

"Most people forget to give the opposition credit. We're not panicking."

Jungle Jim Loscutoff, about to retire after nine years, looks like he's ready for a fight at the impact of an elbow but Red says: "You have to keep him stirred up or he won't play ball for you."

Sussin-Staccio Pockets Leaders

Lance Sussin and Charles Staccio split their matches but their Kay's Dress team held the lead with 44.35 points after last night's action in the Buster Ferraro Junior Billiard League.

Highmount Stages Its Annual Costume Party and Carnival

Highmount Ski Center entertained a fair crowd last weekend. The warm weather had developed some bare spots on the slopes, and the hard patches here and there made the going better for the intermediate and expert than for the novice.

However, the crowd seemed to appreciate the vagaries of spring skiing conditions and, since there was cover over the entire area except for the lower novice slope, they enjoyed themselves for the most part.

A much larger crowd turned out on Sunday for the Highmount annual spring costume party and carnival. Two inches of snow had fallen during the night and the skiing conditions were much improved. The good conditions, the mild weather, and the gaily costumed skiers resulted in a happy, party-like mood. A considerable number of skiers were in costume, and the sight of an Indian Chief in full feather headress, or a clown or a Beatle whizzing by one on the slope, was strange, and sometimes a little startling. All manner of recognizeable costumes were seen, together with some highly imaginative and slightly weird creations — a pair of icicles, for example. Among the costumes noted were a couple dressed for the Sebring races at the turn of the century—linen dusters, goggles and all, a lady African explorer, the Deerslayer in raccoon cap and deer skins, and a Mongolian chieftan heavily draped in yak fur. One Ski Patrolman wore an interesting combination—a devil's costume topped by angel's wings and a halo, representing, as she said, both sides of her character.

Arrange Parties

Many club races were held on the well-known Rip Van Winkle Trail both Saturday and Sunday as it seemed to be one of the last remaining places in this area suitable for ski racing at this time of year. On Sunday a number of these clubs arranged separate parties in various locations about the lower area at Highmount, setting up outdoor grills and organizing club games and festivities for their groups.

The day ended with the annual Highmount Carnival Obstacle Race, open to all. This race, with its combination of narrow, twisting gates, its detours, low bridges and small jumps, placed a premium on suppleness, and the ability to ski deep-knee bent, or flat on one's back or face, rather than on racing skill as such. In any case, both racers and spectators seemed to enjoy this event thoroughly.

Six Set to Compete In Hockey Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Six Eastern college teams — including three from Upstate New York —will compete in the fourth Holiday Tournament at Madison Square Garden Dec. 21-23.

The teams, announced Tuesday by Asa Bushnell, Eastern College Athletic Conference commissioner, are Clarkson, defending tournament champion; Providence, 1964 ECAC champion; St. Lawrence, Brown, Cornell and Northeastern.

Hawks Place Five On Hockey Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Scrappy Stan Mikita, the individual scoring leader, and four other members of the Chicago Black Hawks were named today to The Associated Press National Hockey League All-Star team for the 1963-64 season.

Goalie Glenn Hall, defenseman Pierre Pilote, left winger Bobby Hull and right winger Ken Wharram were the other Chicago players chosen. Defenseman Tim Horton of the Toronto Maple Leafs rounded out the team.

Mikita, a center, led the NHL in total points with 89, two more than Hull, who led in goals with 43.

Saugerties LL Sets April 18 Registration

Saugerties Little League has announced registration for Saturday, April 18, from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. at the Saugerties municipal building.

The major league teams will be formed on May 8 and the minor league teams on May 15. The major league opens May 18 and the minor league May 25.

All boys must register, secretary Leonard Gilmore announced.

Title Contenders Very Enthusiastic

NEW YORK (AP)—All four contenders invited to participate in an elimination tournament to determine a challenger for heavyweight champion Cassius Clay are enthusiastic over the project, a spokesman for the New York State Athletic Commission said today.

"All four — Doug Jones, Eddie Machen, Cleveland Williams and Floyd Patterson—told us by telephone or wire that they were all for the tournament," the spokesman said.

"Jones, Williams and possibly Patterson will appear at the commission meeting Thursday," he added. "Machen is in California and said it was doubtful he would attend."

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

New York — (NEA) — The players of the National Basketball Association today confirmed what everybody in basketball now takes for granted — that Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals is The Greatest.

The Big O, completing his fourth year of professional play, was voted winner of the President's Trophy, emblematic of the most valuable player in the game. The electoral college is composed of all the men in the NBA, who are balloted by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Rolling up 60 first place votes out of a possible 85 (the Royals couldnt vote for their own man), Robertson polled the highest point total, 362, in the nine-year history of the award. He was named on all but one ballot. Votes are tabulated on a 5-3-1 point basis.

The Big O ended the reign of Boston's Bill Russell, who captured the cup the last three seasons and has won it four times.

The significance of Robertson's selection is that the Royals are challenging the tenure of the Boston Celtics as the finest team in basketball. They carried the Eastern Division race into the last week of the season.

Complete Player

Traditionally, the giants — Russell, Wilt Chamberlin, Bob Pettit—dominated the most valuable player vote. Except for Bob Cousy in 1957, no backcourt man even figured, until Oscar's ascendancy this year.

Robertson is no shrimp. He's 6-5, with 205 pounds so well distributed that Oscar doesn't look his height. He carries his size with classic grace. The playmaker of the Royals is the complete basketball player.

He had his best scoring year and finished second in the league to Chamberlain. He led the NBA in assists for the third time in four seasons. He was the most accurate shooter from the foul line. He led the Royals in almost every statistical phase, including minutes played.

A native of Indianapolis, Robertson reached baskeball maturity at the University of Cincinnati, where he was a three-year All-America, and stayed in the neighborhood for his pro career. At 25, he promises to be on top for a long time.

Green's Ballot

Chamberlain, who won the trophy as a rookie in 1960 but was virtually ignored last year, made a strong comeback as a team player for San Francisco to command second spot in the voting with 215 points, including 19 first places. Russell was third with 167.

How much the top three dominated the NBA this year can be gauged from the ballot of Johnny Green of the New York Knicks. He simply voted in "Big O, Big Bill and Big Wilt," and you knew whom he meant.

The trophy will be presented to Oscar Robertson at the league's showcase event, the All-Star Game next January, by President Walter Kennedy.

Montreal Choice For Stanley Cup

TORONTO (AP) — Oddsmakers in this hockey stronghold have installed the National League champion Montreal Canadiens as 8-5 betting favorites to end Toronto's two-year Stanley Cup reign.

The defending champion Maple Leafs, third in the regula season windup, open their best-of-seven-games semi final playoff series at Montreal Thursday night as 3-1 third choices. Second-place Chicago, which hosts fourth-place Detroit the same night in the other semifinal opener, is 2-1 to go all the way. The Red Wings are outsiders at 8-1.

Philly Defeats Royals to Tie NBA Playoffs

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Home is still sweet in the National Basketball Association. If you don't believe it, ask the Philadelphia 76ers, or the Cincinnati Royals.

Last Sunday, the 76ers and Royals opened the Eastern semifinal NBA playoffs — a best-of-five-game set — in Cincinnati and the Royals won by 25 points.

Tuesday night, the scen shifted to Philadelphia and with the home court advantage, the 76ers rapped the favored Royals 122-114.

The teams return to Cincinnati tonight for the third game with the fourth scheduled for Philadelphia Saturday night and the fifth, if necessary, back in Cincinnati.

76er Coach Dolph Schayes shouted, "great defense in the second half did it." He paid tribute to Hal Greer, the Philadelphia sharpshooter whose 15 points in the final quarter turned the tide.

Greer, who scored nine straight points to snap the 100-100 deadlock and send Philadelphia on to victory, scored 29 to lead the 76ers.

McMahon felt the game was won and lost by the referees' whistle. He was hot under the collar because his team shot better than 50 per cent from the field and lost.

The home court theory also will be put to the test in the Western semifinal playoffs tonight as St. Louis meets Los Angeles on the West Coast.

St. Louis, playing on its home floor, won the first two of its best-of-five series against the Lakers. The next two — if both are necessary — are in LA with the fifth game scheduled for St. Louis, if it goes that far.

Byrne Sets 'Y' Mark With 132-67 Decision

Byrne Chevrolet set a record in the A division of the YMCA Basketball league with a 132-67 thumping of Tony's Pizzeria last night at the Broadway court.

In the other attraction, Ray's Tackle Shop overwhelmed Sportsman Park, 102-61.

Joe Long tallied 42 points and Al Brown hit for 40 as the Byrne cagers had quarter totals of 24-30-38-40 in their lopsided triumph.

The Tackle Shop had four players in double figures, paced by Ron Miller's 32 points. Don Komosa rimmed 25 for Sportsman Park.

Ray's and Byrne will have a two game showdown series next week with the championship on the line.

Valek Backfield Coach at Army

WEST POINT — Jim Valek, who for the past four years has been end coach of the Army football team, was named backfield coach of the Black Knights for the coming season by head coach Paul Dietzel. He replaces Bill Doolittle, who recently became head football coach at Western Michigan University.

Valek is a product of Big Ten football, having played four years as a defensive end for the University of Illinois. In addition, he won all-Big Ten honors and was on the team that defeated UCLA in the 1947 Rose Bowl game. He has had 10 years of college coaching experience, which includes a tour as end mentor at Illinois for two years under Ray Eliot and Pete Elliott prior to coming to West Point. He earlier served four seasons on the University of Wichita staff.

Roosevelt Winner

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Alix Byrd scored a head triumph over Dick's Brother in the $3,000 Class B pace at Roosevelt Raceway Tuesday night.

The 9-year-old gelding driven by George Phalen covered the mile in 2:05 1-5 and returned $45.20 for his first win of the season in three starts. Alix Byrd is owned by the Baywood Stables of Brooklyn.

Favored Sussex Boy finished third.

Nicholson Set For Big Season With White Sox

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Six years ago major league scouts, check books wide open, flocked to Dave Nicholson for his signature. Last season American League pitchers, mouths watering, scurried to the mound for his next strikeout.

His signature was expensive and only one scout got it, but his strikeouts came cheaply and just about every pitcher who faced him got them. For he fanned a record 175 times, or once every 2.6 times at bat.

The 1964 season may not be any different for the Chicago White Sox' 24-year-old strikeout artist, but at least he's starting off the spring in an uncharacteristic manner.

His eighth-inning two-run triple that powered the White Sox to a 4-1 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday was his fifth hit ir the last four games.

The hits include two home runs and two triples and brought his average to .258 for the spring, which is considerably higher than his .210 lifetime mark.

Even more ominous for opposition hurlers, though, is his declining strikeout rate. In 31 appearances at the plate he has fanned five times, a rate of one every 6.2 times at bat.

Despite his ability to miss the ball more than he hits it, Nicholson is likely to remain in Chicago's outfield a long time. The White Sox recently placed a $750,000 price tag on him, or $4,285.71 a strikeout.

"Nicholson has the greatest potential of anyone playing today," said Manager Al Lopez. "He could bust out anytime."

The Frank Howard story, meanwhile, is nearing an end, at least for this spring. The Dodgers said Tuesday the huge outfielder, who had talked of retiring, will report to their Vero Beach, Fla., camp this Friday.

"He hasn't agreed to terms," General Manager Buzzie Bavasi said, "but we are offering him a raise and I don't think we will have any problem."

In exhibition action, the New York Mets nipped the New York Yankees 1-0 on Frank Thomas' eighth-inning single. Bob Gibson helped pitch St. Louis to a 12-3 victory over Kansas City.

San Francisco edged Cleveland 9-8 with the aid of Orlando Cepeda's three-run homer in the first. Rookie Rich Allen clubbed two home runs in Philadelphia's 7-1 triumph against Cincinnati.

Pittsburgh made four errors, which helped Milwaukee to a 3-1 victory. Washington won its third straight game 8-3 over Detroit. Camilo Pascual permitted just one hit in five innings as Rain canceled the game between Boston and the Los Angeles Angels.

Fair Street, Old Dutch, Hurley Church Winners

Three players potted 16 points each to pace Fair Street Reformed to an 80-16 rout of St. James Methodist in the Protestant Church Senior Basketball League last night. The trio included Brian Findholt, William Palen and Gary Ballou.

In other games, Old Dutch Church gained a 16-11 fourth quarter edge to beat Port Ewen Reformed, 49-45, and Hurley Reformed toppled Redeemer Lutheran, 44-28.

T. Brown paced Old Dutch with 15 points and Bill Ferguson led Port Ewen with 17.

Ellenville Loop Elects Wright

Clarence Wright has been elected president of the Ellenville Softball Association. Other line officers are: Ralph Nigro, vice president; Leo Cohen, recording secretary; Harold Stangel, corresponding secretary; and Anders Anderson, treasurer.

Named to the board of directors along with the officers were: Edward J. Kleinman, Bernard White and Vernon J. Kelder.

Opening date of play has been tentatively set for Monday, May 11, under the lights at Channel Master Stadium at 8:30 p. m.

The chief umpire again will be Leonard (Woody) Wood, assisted by a certified umpire from Walden.

OTBA Meeting

The Old Timers Baseball Association meeting has scheduled a meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Jake's Grill. President John J. McCardle urges a large attendance.

Snow in Dugout But Met Park Will Be Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — There's snow in the dugout and center field is a swamp, but the new home of the New York Mets is going to be ready for the baseball season.

Most of the 55,000 seats are already bolted in place in the five tiers of stands. The infield grass is growing. Bulldozers are churning in the outfield, filling in the mud puddles.

"We'll be ready. The parking lots, the escalators, the restaurants, the drinking fountains, the playing field—all ready by April 17," said Rick Praeger, a partner in the engineering and architectural firm that designed Shea Stadium.

And so in a little more than three weeks, baseball fans, those famous New York Mets — Choo Choo Coleman, Rod Kanehl, Larry Bearnarth, Amado Samuel, and all—will charge out to play in their new playground.

The result will be a combination of the worst baseball team in the National League — 10th twice and favored to be 10th again—and what appears to be the finest baseball stadium ever built.

Boy's Prank

Admits Fatal Shooting of Brother, 14

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, N. Y. (AP)—State Police said early today that a 12-year-old boy told them he had shot his 14-year-old brother to death by accident on Jan. 24, then dragged his body into a swamp where it was found Monday near his home in this Albany suburb.

William Zinzow was ordered to appear today in Albany County Family Court in the death of his brother, Dennis.

Two Played Hookey

Supervising Lt. Donald F. Brandon of the State Police Bureau of Criminal Investigation said Dennis Zinzow's death was caused by "a boy's prank. . . the result of playing with loaded firearms."

The victim was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Zinzow.

State Police said William told them that he and Dennis decided to play hookey from school on Jan. 24 to go squirrel hunting. After hunting without success, the boys decided to return home.

Troopers said William told them that he remained inside the house while Dennis went outside to feed the family's chickens. William told State Police investigators he picked up Dennis' .22-caliber rifle and aimed it towards his brother.

The rifle discharged accidentally, police said, and Dennis fell dead, a bullet through his head.

Body Found Monday

In a panic, the 12-year-old dragged the body 75 yards to the swamp and hid it in a hollow, troopers said.

The body was found in a creek Monday by Dennis' 15-year-old brother, Gerald, who had searched the swamp many times since his brother vanished

State Police laboratory experts examined the body and found what appeared to be a bullet hole. X-rays revealed bullet fragments inside the skull.

Fulton Man Victim

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Wallace Dusler, 64, of Fulton died today in St. Joseph's Hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday night when he was struck by an automobile on a street in downtown Baldwinsville.

State Makes Survey

Efficiency Lauded At CP Center Here

The State of New York Department of Social Welfare in a recent survey of the treatment Center of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County at 400 Broadway, praised the efficiency of the center and its "excellent work."

Expansion Favored

The Department representative noted that because of the area for which it provides services and the continuing increase in patients treated and services provided definitely shows a community need and the present facilities are not adequate and expanded facilities are required.

Edward deGroff, president of the Board of Directors, also told the directors at a recent board meeting that the name "CP Center" is misleading — deGroff quoted figures which disclosed that of the 411 cases handled at the center in 1963, only 70 were cerebral palsied.

Plans were launched for the annual fund-raising campaign and the committee has scheduled an April meeting to further discuss the drive. It also was announced that deGroff will attend meetings sponsored by Community Chest on the advisability of retaining a professional agency which would conduct a survey of community services, an evaluation of Community Chest, its member agencies, suplication of services, fund raising, building needs, etc. The Center is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

New members of the board of directors introduced at this meeting included Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ballan and Max Rudd of Ellenville, George Moylan of Rosendale, Matthew Hasbrouck Jr. of Stone Ridge, Mrs. Arthur Motzkin and Paul N. Prentice of Kingston.

174 Children Enrolled

The report of Mrs. Charlotte Peck, director of the Center, said 174 children are presendy enrolled in the therapy program—and 1040 treatments were given during the past two months.

Mrs. Gerald Sumber, personnel and policy chairman, announced that Miss Maxine Agnew, a graduate of Genessee College is a new full time staff member of the Speech-Hearing Department.

Plans are underway for a special booth at the forthcoming Lions Exposition which will visually portray the many facets of the services offered by the CP Center.

Some 400 persons attended last Sunday night's show and dance at Homowack Lodge in Spring Glen for the benefit of United Cerebral Palsy of Ulster County, Inc. A group of members of the CP board also attended the gala event.

Cases in Police Court Here Today

A charge of speeding, dating back to last Sept. 11, against Michael Perry, 38, of 36 Prince Street, was dismissed in city court today.

Trial of another dealing with lack of an operator's license, was completed, and Special City Judge Bernard A. Feeney Jr., delayed his decision to April 8. Attorney Francis Martocci appeared for Perry and Robert A. MacKinnon for the district attorney's office. The speeding charges was dropped for lack of available testimony.

William Johnson, 22, of 74 Franklin Street, booked on three charges dating back to August 1963, was sentenced. He was fined $20 on one dealing with the driving of an unregistered vehicle, and $10 on one charging lack of an operator's license. On another charging no proof of insurance, he was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail.

Maureen Rafferty, 23, of 305 East Chester Street, charged with a stop sign violation after a two-car mishap Tuesday at TenBroeck Avenue and Downs Street, was fined $5. She drove the one car, and the other, was operated by Peter G. Letus, 23, of River Road, Ulster Park. Barbara Cardinale, 19, of 88 Farrelly Street, reported an injured right hand and was treated at the Benedictine Hospital. Officers Charles Diers and Gerald Tierney investigated.

Dad Won't Appeal

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — George Mouton, sentenced on charges of slugging a high school principal in a dispute over his son's haircut, has abandoned plans to appeal.

Mouton had announced that he would appeal his conviction.

City Judge Ward Tilly fined the service station operator $100 and sentenced him to 10 days in jail Tuesday.

Mouton's son, Glenn, 15, was sent home last week because his hair did not conform to New Iberia High School regulations for an approved length. His father slugged John McGraw, the principal.

DeWitt Street in Use

DeWitt street, closed to traffic Tuesday for repair of a manhole, was reopened today. It was first expected that the street would remain closed until Friday morning, but the work was completed sooner than expected.

Port Ewen Paper Drive

Members of Boy Scout Troop 26 will conduct a paper drive in the Port Ewen area on Saturday.

Schick Withdraws Name From Demo Slate for DA Job

John J. Schick, a Kingston attorney who was nominated as Democratic candidate for district attorney by the party's unofficial convention last Saturday, has announced his withdrawal from the race.

In a letter delivered to Democratic County Chairman Aaron E. Klein today, Schick listed several reasons why he could not accept the designation.

Among the more compelling reasons he gave in the letter were his commitments to other candidates and heavy duties as chairman of the party's executive committee in the forthcoming campaign.

Appreciates Efforts

The letter to Klein said:

"I am deeply honored by the action of the unofficial Democratic convention in recommending me to the enrolled Democrats of Ulster County as a possible nominee for district attorney.

"You will recall that the Democratic convention so honored me in 1958 and I found the campaigning countywide an enriching and gratifying experience.

"I greatly appreciate the well intentioned efforts of those urging me to become a candidate this year, but I am determined to keep the commitments, previously made, by working diligently for our fine candidates, to some of whom I am indebted for the support and assistance rendered me in my 1958 campaign.

To Work for Ticket

"My course, therefore, is clear and I must again advise you that under existing circumstances I cannot be a candidate for county office this year."

"Kindly express my sincere appreciation to the delegates for their kind expressions of confidence and assure them I shall work incessantly for the election of all our fine candidates."

Chairman Klein, accepting Schick's withdrawal with regret, said the party's committee on vacancies will announce the name of a Democratic candidate in the next few days.

Tories Reject Step Down Call After Squeaker

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Conservative government rejected demands for its resignation on Tuesday night after a rebellion in party ranks brought it within one vote of defeat on its bill to abolish price-fixing.

With scores of Conservative members of the House of Commons abstaining to show their disapproval, the government squeaked by 204-203 to put down a Laborite attempt to weaken the highly controversial government bill.

Not Confidence Vote

"Resign! resign!" cried opposition Laborites after the government mustered only the one-vote margin to defeat an amendment to exempt drugs and medicine from the bill.

Technically the issue was not a major vote of confidence, and the government would not have been obliged to resign had it lost. But some Conservatives, aware of the strength of moral pressure in British politics, felt resignation would have been unavoidable if the government had lost the vote.

The bill would prohibit manufacturers dictating retail prices, an established way of British business life. With Britain's general election to be held some time before Nov. 5, many Conservatives fear they will lose the votes of the country's 300,000 small shopkeepers. These merchants see supermarkets and other large chains driving them out of business if prices are free to fluctuate competitively.

N. Y. Couple Killed In Texas Accident

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — A New York couple suffered fatal injuries Tuesday when their automobile skidded on a wet highway and rammed under a flatbed truck.

Mrs. Alice L. Schenck, 58, died in the crash, and her husband, Paul Schenck, 80, a few hours later at a hospital.

The accident occurred as the Schencks apparently were returning to their home in Lee Center, N.Y.

The truck driver escaped injury, police said.

Five Star Recovery

MacArthur Alert, Is Satisfactory

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following his own promise "'to do the very best I can," Gen. Douglas MacArthur was reported alert today and making satisfactory progress in recovery from the shock of two major operations in 17 days.

Col. Donald A. Campbell, executive officer of Walter Reed Army Medical Center, said this morning:

Alert, Conversing

"Gen. MacArthur continues to progress satisfactorily indicating a better than average post-operate course. He is alert and conversing."

Under questioning, Campbell said his language meant the 84-year-old general of the Army was doing better than the average of patients who have been through the same kind of experience.

The new report followed earlier word from doctors that while the outlook is still "guarded," MacArthur was better than we had any right to hope for."

"There is good reason to hope progress will continue favorably," they had reported earlier.

However, U.S. Army Surgeon General Leonard D. Heaton said he could not say when the general would pass his crisis. The plans were to keep him in the emergency - equipped recovery room of the Walter Reed Army Medical Center, probably for a few days.

No Long Hospitalization

When his condition warrants, the general will be returned to his suite of rooms in the Ward 8 section, reserved by the Army for its most important patients. Sometime after his return, he will be allowed visitors.

A long hospitalization is not contemplated at present.

MacArthur, who holds the five-star rank of general of the Army, was in the recovery room soon after surgery when ward personnel heard him say: "I am going to do the very best I can."

MacArthur was recovering from a gall bladder operation March 6 and the jaundice which had brought him to the hospital was improving.

Early Monday morning doctors noted signs of severe internal bleeding in the digestive tract. Other than the bleeding, his condition was good, Heaton said.

They diagnosed the site of the bleeding as the esophagus, the tube which conveys food to the stomach.

No Further Bleeding

The doctors operated to remove the spleen and used the vein that carries blood from the spleen as a shunt to the kidneys. This apparently improved blood flow and lowered blood pressure in the bleeding veins.

Then they inserted a tube to tamp the bleeding area and stem the flow of blood. This tube was removed at noon Tuesday and six hours later doctors said there had been no further bleeding.

Blame Williams For Inaction on County College

A statement criticizing the "lack of progress" towards a permanent Ulster County Community College building, was issued today by Saugerties Democratic Club.

The statement follows:

"Recently questions concerning the Community College were aired anew in the press and on radio. The Freeman in a feature article, and Harry Thayer and Nat Aaron on radio voiced their concern on the lack of progress towards the Ulster County Community College.

"We are becoming increasingly concerned with the inadequate explanations that have been offered to the interested members of our community on this and other important issues in this community.

"It seems that Mr. Williams and company tackle issues by either stating they will 'look into it,' and then do nothing, or ignore the issue completely.

"We along with Mr. Thayer and Mr. Aaron would like to know what is holding up the breaking of ground at the Stone Ridge site. Is it a water problem? Drainage?

"Isn't now the time to revaluate the decision on the choice of a site for our Community College?

"We in Saugerties hope that our supervisor Mr. Peter Williams will have a second chance to vote on a site and undo the error in judgment he displayed in voting against the wishes of his community."

W. Saugerties Rebekah Lodge Initiates Three

Three candidates were initiated by Mrs. Marie Post, noble grand of Queen of the Catskill Mountain, Rebekah Lodge 36 at a meeting last week.

Nellie Burton acted as vice grand; Anna Yakin, chaplain; Mary Patryk, past noble grand; Dorothy Welcome, warden and Maud Manning, conductor.

The candidates were Ida Mae Adams, Margaret Lannell Dunn and Theresa Wasserbach. Blanche Cotton thanked all that helped on the tableau and Grace Burnett and Nellie Burton for assisting.

Hanah Lewis, district deputy president of Ulster District No. 2, part of her staff and members of her Lodge, Queen Ulster 34 attended.

There will be a district meeting on Saturday, April 11 at 2:30 o'clock, at the IOOF Temple, Saugerties. Past noble grands are requested to attend.

Desk officers, Katherine Higgins, Mary Patryk and Lillian Compitello, will be sent to a secretarial school on April 18 at Oneonta.

The Noble Grand has given notice that all meetings now will start at 8 o'clock.

Entertaining of past noble grands has been changed to the second meeting in April.

The roast beef supper in set for May 9. The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will plan this dinner together.

Refreshment committee for the next meeting will be Anne Fastert, Laura Schoonmaker and Elizabeth Hommel.

200 Delinquent DogOwnersListed

Nearly 200 are listed as delinquent dog owners, and to this date have not secured a 1964 license tag for their dogs.

In accordance with the law, summonses will be served to those who fail to secure licenses before the summonses are issued.

Licenses may be secured at the town clerk's office, Main Street, Saugerties.

This will serve as the final warning.

480 in Essay Contest

In an account of the VFW German-Irish Nite features for April 4, it was inadvertently reported that 80 students participated in the Loyalty Day essay contest. Actually 480 students from grades four through high school completed.

Monday Club Meets

The history of Robert's Rules of Order was presented at this week's meeting of Saugerties Monday Club by Mrs. Robert Emery. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph H. Rainear Jr.

The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Emery, Spaulding Lane, on March 30.

Williams Scores Dems for Using 'Big Lie' Tactics

Supervisor Peter M. Williams, chairman of Ulster County Board of Supervisors in a statement today hit back at Democratic charges that he voted for the Stone Ridge site for Ulster County Community College.

He charged that this "big lie" was used during the election campaign and has been used and repeated. In the accompanying statement issued by Saugerties Democratic Club, the last paragraph infers that Supervisor Williams and other supervisors voted for the permanent site of the college.

The statement follows:

"I have been continually accused of voting for the Stone Ridge site for the Ulster County Community College, despite my endeavors for selection of the Saugerties site, which is public record.

"This 'big lie' has been used in the last election campaign in which I was elected Supervisor and several times after that by uninformed individuals.

"Again in an article today by Saugerties Democratic Club, the 'big lie' was used.

"To set the record straight, neither I nor any Supervisor voted for the Community College site.

"That choice was made entirely by the Ulster County Community College Board of Trustees headed by Kenneth Davenport, President. The choice after selection by them was approved by the trustees of the State University.

"The only vote I as a supervisor or any other supervisor participated in regarding the county college was for an appropriation of $8,000 on March 14, 1963 for test borings, engineering surveys and preliminary work in connection with site development. A well was drilled on the site with this money.

"Since the vote of the trustees and endorsement by the state placed the selection of the site beyond a point of no return, it would be needlessly vindictive for me to oppose an appropriation for exploration of site.

"I hope this lays to rest the 'big lie'."

100-MILE HIKERS IN TEST—A contingent of Boy Scouts representing four Saugerties troops pause midway during a 20-mile test hike at Shultis Corners Saturday. They will participate in a 100-mile hike during April 3 to 5 from New York City to Saugerties as a tribute to the memory of the late President John F. Kennedy. It is expected that 10 to 12 scouts will participate. Those participating in the final 20-mile test hike include (l-r) front, David Van Benschoten, Robert Stafford, Steven Gardner, Michael Martin; rear, David Lewis, Terry DelMonte, Edward Pavlinik, John Winchell, and Robert E. Gardner, assistant scoutmaster of Troop 130, one of the leaders in charge. Not shown are Allen Gardner, Branden Carroll, Chris Anderson, and Dennis Mollander.

Local Resident, Friend, CutRecord Gospel in Song

TERRY McLAUGHLIN

A Saugerties young man and a fellow student he met in college recently cut two sides of a record album entitled, I Have Found Him, a gospel presentation in song recorded on a Century label.

The Saugerties resident is Terry McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon McLaughlin of Saugerties-Woodstock Road. He graduated from Saugerties High School in 1961 where he participated in band, choir and the boys quartet. Young McLaughlin is now attending Houghton College in Houghton.

His singing partner is Harry Thomas, who is also attending Houghton. He hails from Secane, Pa.

In earlier years, Young McLaughlin was part of a trio, two of his three younger sisters comprising the other two trio members.

From November 1962 until Houghton ended regular sessions in May 1963, the two gospel singers presented programs in Western New York and Northwestern Pennsylvania. With the exception of regular school vacations, they sang every weekend except one during the seven month period.

One of the 15 songs in the album is Rest in His Promises, written by the McLaughlin youth's mother.

The title selection was written by the two gospel singers and another, Give Your Heart to Jesus was arranged by the two.

The boys received financial support for their endeavor from Thomas Greening, a building contractor of West Saugerties.

The album has been on sale in record shops for some weeks and is available locally at Offerman's Record and Gift Shop, Partition Street.

Theta Rho Girls Plan for Rally

Tonda Theta Rho Girls 26 continued discussions of plans for their rally and other projects planned for the future at a meeting of the group last week.

Caryl Fyllingen presided due to the illness of Linda Paradise, president.

Refreshment committee for the next meeting will include Gail Adams, Sue Ellen Knecht and Gail Meyer.

Reformed Church Sets Communion Service Thursday

A service of communion on Holy Thursday will be held at Saugerties Reformed Church at 8 p. m. The community is cordially invited. The service will be by candlelight with the members of the consistory, symbolic of the 12 disciples, seated at the table and reading portions of scripture depicting the events in the life of Christ leading to the crucifixion.

The choir will interpret the scripture readings with music. The first reading will be by Silas VanEtten with the choir singing "O Jesus" by Knecth-Husband. The following reading is entitled, "The Shadow of the Desertion" and will be read by Stanley Ohlsen. The baritone solo from "The Seven Last Words," entitled "God, My Father" will be sung by Nelson Burhans.

The scripture selection, "The Agony of the Soul" and will be read by Ralph Hayes. Miss Mildred Newkirk will sing the solo, "Christ, Were You Not Upon the Hill" by Hageman to interpret this scripture. William Kiernan will portray "The Unshared Vigil." The choir and soloist Nelson Burhans will sing the selection from the "The Crucifixion" by Stainer entitled "Could Ye Not Watch Over Me One Brief Hour."

"Here It Comes" will be interpreted by readings of Stuart Buchan. The choir will sing "Tis Midnight" by Bradbury.

Paul Modjeska will interpret the desire of Christ for the unity of His followers and the choir will sing the selection "Let All Natural Flesh," a French folk song in origin. As the final events in Christ's life approaches, "The Arrest at the Gate" will be interpreted by Walter Karch in scripture reading and the choir will sing the selection, "The Cross of Christ" by Romme.

The final reading is entitled, "The Shadow of the Cross" and will be read by George Turner. The choir and soloist will interpret this by singing, "When I Survey the Wonderous Cross" by Mason.

Officiating at the communion service will be the Rev. Orville Jay Hine, minister. Assisting in the serving of the Communion are James Abbott, William Ziegler, James Christiana and Courtland VanEtten.

Town Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Corvina and three sons of the Bronx, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Stiso, spent Palm Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Stiso, Pine Grove.

Misse Hilda Van Vlierden called on the Jehle's on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yakin were also callers.

The production group are hard at work for the Centerville Fire Co. Auxiliary banquet, which will take place on April 1, at the Flamingo.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Wawarsing OES Fetes District Grand Matron

ELLENVILLE — At the recent meeting of the Wawarsing Chapter 253, Order of the Eastern Star held at the Undercroft in the Episcopal Church, Market Street, Ellenville, District Deputy Grand Matron, Stella R. Harp, of New Paltz, and District Grand Lecturer John South, made their official visit to the chapter.

The meeting was opened with greetings to Worthy Matron Clara Eck, by Worthy Patron Earl Eck. After officers had taken their stations Worthy Matron Eck welcomed the officers, members of the chapter, and the many visitors from neighborhood chapters throughout the Greene-Ulster District. Approximately 135 attended to pay tribute to Mrs. Harp in her official capacity.

At the beginning of the meeting, District Deputy Grand Matron Stella R. Harp and District Grand Lecturer John South were officially presented by Conductress Gertrude Phillips and Associate Conductress Dorothy Billquist. The guests of honor were then officially greeted by Worthy Matron Eck and Worthy Patron Eck and they were ushered to seats in the East, after which a business meeting in short form was conducted.

Introduced by the Worthy Matron, District Deputy Grand Matron Harp then deliveed her address with the greeting and official message from the Grand Matron of the State of New York, Most Worthy Charlotte C. Smith.

Worthy Patron Earl Eck introduced District Grand Lecturer, John South, who in turn brought the greetings from the Grand Patron of the Eastern Star of the State of New York, Most Worthy Ellwood V. Franks. He pointed out several ritualistic decorum matters to always observe at meetings of all chapters throughout the district. In closing, he thanked Associate Conductress Dorothy Billquist for her presentation and concluded with general thank you to all of the other officers of the Chapter.

The entertainment program was led by Chairman, Gladys Geary, assisted by Past Worthy Matron, Emma Matthews, who composed and wrote a special degree for the occasion entitled, A Journey to the Emerald Isle. District Deputy Stella R. Harp was conducted to each of the line officers for each of their individual gifts and symbols of the degree. Mrs. Matthews had written special lyrics to the songs My Wild Irish Rose and Irish Eyes Are Smiling both of which were sung by Mrs. Geary accompanied on the piano by Past District Grand Matron, Leila Furman.

Several songs were presented by the Ellenville Central School Chorus under the direction of Marcus Kalipolites, school choir director and instructor in music. They sang Irish Love Song, Smoke Gets in Your Eyes, Cherub Song and Grand Night for Singing.

After resumption of the business meeting, Chapter gifts were presented to Mrs. Harp, Mr. South and Worthy Matron Clara Ek. All were accepted with appropriate thank yous from the recipients.

District Deputy Grand Matron, Stella R. Harp, then officially presented and introduced Past Grand Officers, Past Matrons and Patrons, the current Matrons and Patrons, all of whom had journeyed from chapters throughout the Counties of Ulster, Greene and other counties and out of state jurisdictions.

Worthy Matron Clara Eck also presented Master John F. Geary of the Wawarsing Lodge, No. 582, Free and Accepted Masons.

Refreshments followed the meeting. In keeping with the colors and theme of St. Patrick's Day, under the supervision of Warder, Frances Eck, the tables were appropriately decorated.

The next regular meeting of the Chapter will be held Monday, April 6 at 8 p. m. After the business meeting officials from the New York Telephone Company will give an illustrated lecture with slides on highlights of the New York World's Fair.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, which has drastically affected so many facets of American life, has had almost no influence of womens' fashions.

Two decades ago, a movie dress designer named Adrian with a big assist from Joan Crawford — almost overnight changed the shape of womens' shoulders from sloping and natural to padded and square. Marlene Dietrich — may she be forgiven — was largely responsible for giving women courage to try their first slacks.

But even in television's salad days when Faye Emerson's daring necklines drew considerable comment, there was no great vogue for the revealing decolletage.

Restraint and conservatism are television's watchwords. An actress permitted to be the class of fashion could do real damage to a series.

Interesting clothes could—and probably would—divert attention from the plot. Loretta Young, who was probably television's most stylish actress, wore her smartest gowns only when she whirled through the door on her way to the opening commercial.

In the second place, an actress who wears very short skirts or an elaborate hairdo can date a series as indelibly as a Stutz Bearcat or a racoon coat. This, in turn, may interfere with the rerun sales in subsequent seasons.

The clothes give-away in most television series, curiously, is usually found in mens' clothes—in the width of the jacket lapels and of the hat brims—the narrower they are, the more recently the series was made.

Recommended tonight: "Suspense," premiere, CBS, 8:30-9 (EST)—Sebastian Cabot is host on a new series of programs, starting with a thriller about a bomb scare in a hospital.

Whites Outvote Negroes

CHICAGO (AP)—Voting registration by Chicago Negroes nearly equals that of Chicago whites, but whites outvote Negroes by a margin of almost 3-2, a Chicago Urban League report disclosed Tuesday.

The report theorized that Negro abstention from the polls reflects indifference and passive political protest, an expression that "the voter considers he has no alternatives on the ballot."

Confidence in Hoffa

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—The Teamsters Union has given its president, James R. Hoffa, a confidence vote and authorized its members to contribute funds for his appeal against a federal jury-tampering conviction.

The decisions were reached Tuesday at the closing session of a quarterly executive board meeting.

Hoffa, who presided over the closed session, said both resolutions passed unanimously.

Long-Range Regrets

Satellite Carries Ikeda's Talk on Envoy's Stabbing

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda, in the first live telecast from Japan to the United States, expressed his his country's "deepest regrets" today for a deranged Japanese youth's knife attack Tuesday on U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer.

"On behalf of the people of Japan, I express my deepest regrets for the stabbing of Mr. Reischauer by a Japanese youth," the gray-haired premier said in Japanese.

Ambassador Gaining

Reischauer was reported recovering and his doctor said the wound in his right thigh should be healed in about two weeks.

The ambassador also had been scheduled to appear on the eight - minute program, which went to the United States via the Relay 2 communications satellite.

Instead, U.S. Minister John Emmerson read a message from Reischauer in which he said he wanted to emphasize that the "unfortunate incident —or any such irresponsible incident—could have no possible effect on our great partnership."

Ikeda expressed hope that the success of the telecast would "further promote the friendly ties" between the United States and Japan. A two-way telecast between the United States and Japan is scheduled Friday, and the Japanese hope to be able to televise the Tokyo Olympics in October to the world via satellite.

Live Scenic Shots

The telecast today included a number of scenic shots that were transmitted live from Tokyo. The remarks by Ikeda and Emmerson had been taped in advance, however.

Aide Resigns

Ikeda accepted the resignation of Japan's state minister for public safety, Takashi Hayakawa, who bowed out in a traditional Japanese gesture of atonement for the incident Tuesday which shocked the nation.

Reischauer, 53, was reported in good spirits as he recuperated at Toranomon Hospital from a 3¼-inch-deep knife wound in his right thigh. His doctor said he was "making a smooth recovery."

In Excellent Spirits

Embassy press attache Nathaniel Thayer told newsmen he found the ambassador in excellent spirits "joking with the nurses." Reischauer told him he had received so much Japanese blood in transfusions "that I feel I've become a mixed-blood child."

Reischauer was born in Japan, speaks Japanese fluently and has a Japanese wife.

Police continued to question Norikazu Shiotani, 19, who stabbed Reischauer as the ambassador emerged from the embassy chancery on his way to a luncheon appointment.

The youth may be charged with bodily assault or even attempted murder. Bodily assault carries a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison. There is no prison maximum for attempted murder, but it does not carry the death sentence.

Police said Shiotani has a history of mental aberrations. He told them he attacked Reischauer to call the world's attention to the plight of Japanese with poor sight. Shiotani is nearsighted.

Fishing Boat Tips Over

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A public charter fishing boat overturned today while approaching an Atlantic Ocean inlet near Palm Beach, Fla. First reports to the Miami Coast Guard said three persons died, six were missing and 11 were picked up by rescue craft.

Fears were expressed that the missing persons were trapped under the 65-foot hull of the fishing boat Two Georges.

The information was radioed to Miami Coast Guard search and rescue headquarters from the scene, off Boynton Inlet, where the boat tipped over inbound.

A Coast Guard rescue boat was dispatched from Lake Worth and three helicopters were sent from Miami, 70 miles south, after another boat radioed the Coast Guard that the Two Georges had overturned.

Ploss Picked Up On Parole Charge

John W. Ploss, 21, who gave his address as 608 Broadway, was picked up here Tuesday by Parole Officer John J. Keeley and Officer George Barringer, and booked for violation of parole.

Ploss was convicted in Bergen County, N. J. in 1962 after the reported mugging of a man at his home in northern New Jersey. Police said four other young men were involved.

Ploss was sentenced to a reformatory at Bordenton, N. J., and was paroled several months ago. He was placed last September in the jurisdiction of the State Division of Parole office at Poughkeepsie. It will be determined later whether he is to be sent back to New Jersey or continue under the jurisdiction of the New York State Division of Parole.

ROBERT A. LOVETT

Named Winner Of Thayer Award By Alumni Group

WEST POINT—Former U. S. Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett has been named the 1964 recipient of the Sylvanus Thayer Award by the U. S. Military Academy's Association of Graduates, it was announced this week.

Presentation ceremonies will take place May 2 at West Point, when the Corps of Cadets will conduct a Brigade Review in honor of Lovett.

"As a devoted servant of the American people, spanning more than 30 years and three wars, Lovett has met the criteria for the Thayer Award," Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves (Ret.), association president declared.

The Sylvanus Thayer Award is given annually to a distinguished U. S. citizen whose service and accomplishments in the national interest exemplify outstanding devotion to the ideals expressed in the West Point motto, "Duty, Honor, Country."

Lovett served as Assistant Secretary of War for Air under President Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1940-45; as Under Secretary of State under President Harry S. Truman from 1947-49, and as U. S. Secretary of Defense under President Truman from 1951-53. During World War I he served as a Navy pilot in France rising to the rank of Lt. Commander. He is presently a partner in a private banking concern in New York City. (Brown Brothers Harriman and Company).

Previous recipients of the award include the late Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence (1958), noted nuclear physicist and inventor of the cyclotron; the late John Foster Dulles (1959), former Secretary of State; Henry Cabot Lodge (1960), ambassador to South Viet Nam; former President Dwight D. Eisenhower (1961); General Douglas MacArthur ((1962), and John J. McCloy (1963), presidential disarmament advisor.

No Cause Verdict

In the first case to go to the jury at the March term of Supreme court, the jury Tuesday returned a no cause verdict in an action brought by Arthur E. Gilliland Jr., against Robert L. Johnson and another. The action grew out of an automobile accident. Roy L. Featherstone appeared for plaintiff. During the term Justice Louis G. Bruhn has disposed of more than 60 cases through adjustment or settlements. It is expected the grand jury will hand up its report next Monday.

Old Way Good Enough

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Although this is an electronic age, employes at Levy Bros. know it's quitting time when an old-fashioned dinner bell rings throughout the store. When the store was built, no buzzer system or other communications device was installed. The proprietors simply went out and bought the bell. Now Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson rings it daily in front of a microphone.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and savings-and-loan holding companies were strong in a recovery stock market early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Gains of key stocks ran from fractions to a point or better. A wide assortment of losers was scattered throughout the list.

The market was hesitant and mixed in early trading but gradually moved ahead. Buying crept in after three days of "correction" of a sustained advance to a string of record peaks.

Wide gains were made by some specially situated issues.

Among those were Bullock's, the big Pacific Coast retail organization, which bounded ahead about 8 points on news of a proposed merger with Federated Department Stores, which eased.

Motors, rubbers, mail order-retails, chemicals, building materials and drugs were generally higher. Rails, oils and nonferrous metals were mixed.

The savings-and-loans were strong following a news article which said they are likely to keep growing fast in spite of government restraints.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.11 at 812.54.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 300.3, with industrials up .2, rails off .2 and utilities off .1.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds declined. U.S. government bonds were slightly higher.

GEORGE W. TAMKE

Is Named Whalen Aide, Served at WTH Since 1962

The promotion of George W. Tamke to assistant general manager of the IBM Data Systems Division plant at Kingston was announced Tuesday by Richard J. Whalen, general manager of the Data Systems Division plant at Kingston.

Joined Corp. in 1948

In his new assignment Tamke will have primary responsibility for the manufacturing, industrial engineering, procurement, production control and quality control functions at the Data Systems Division manufacturing plant at Kingston.

Tamke joined IBM in September, 1948 in accounting machine wiring at the Poughkeepsie plant. In October, 1952 he became manager of cardatype assembly, and was named technical assistant to the Poughkeepsie plant superintendent one month later. In 1954, he became manager of electronic calculator assembly. The following year, he was promoted to project manager of data processing machine assembly, and to superintendent of that area in March, 1958. In late 1958, he was named procurement manager of electronic components manufacturing.

Served in Tokyo Office

In 1959, Tamke joined the IBM World Trade Corporation at Tokyo, Japan, as manager of manufacturing for the Asia- Pacific area. Two years later, he was promoted to director of manufacturing for the Pacific areas. He was named manager of advanced manufacturing technology at World Trade Headquarters in New York City in 1962, a post he has held until his present promotion.

An active separatist movement has persisted in the Welsh peninsula ever since Henry III welded it to England in 1536.

SPACE BEACON—The Beacon Explorer is unusual because it will be in touch with earth while in orbit by the use of light beams. The Beacon project will gather information on that part of the atmosphere known as the ionosphere. Its findings determined from radio impulses will be collected in 33 countries of the world. The newly invented laser beam will be flashed at the satel lite. Prisms in the cone (top photo) will bounce the beam back to the source, allowing precise measurements of the satellite's position in space. Picture at bottom shows cone's fused quartz prisms in detail.

Dist. Group Will Select Trio April 6

Final interviews and selection of three candidates for the Board of Education of the Kingston School District (Consolidated) will be on the agenda for a meeting of the Non-partisan Nominating Committee, April 6, 8 p. m. at the George Washington School.

Three board members will be elected at the district election on May 5.

The committee already has interviewed nine potential candidates.

The financial committee of the Non-partisan group at a meeting Monday urged public support. Donations may be sent to members of the committee: N. Jansen Fowler, Mrs. Frederic Holcomb Jr., Mrs. Vincent Connelly, Douw Meyers Jr., and Reupen Gillian.

The aims of the non-partisan committee are to seek out, support at the polls the most able and best qualified people to the Board of Education.

Consider a Living Trust to Manage Children's Fund

Q) "I have just inherited $20,000. With this I would like to establish a trust fund for my children. Please explain what a trust fund is, where may I buy one, and how safe it is in the future. Will I be able to draw from it myself, even if it is set up for my children?" T.L.

A) What you are considering is called a living trust. Most such trusts provide for a bank as trustee, and you can have your lawyer write up the trust agreement so that you could withdraw funds from it if it ever became necessary.

You don't buy a trust—you turn the funds over to your bank (or some other fiduciary) to handle on an annual fee basis.

A trust under these circumstances is very safe indeed.

Your very first step is to see your lawyer, who must draw up your trust agreement and who will tell you better than I can its benefits or shortcomings.

Q. "I propose to keep some funds in the bank, some in Governments, and some in secure stocks. Perhaps you would explain the advantages and disadvantages of long-term Treasury bonds as compared with savings bonds." A.E.

A) The main advantage in holding a long-term Treasury issue is that you get a higher yield than on a savings bond.

A series E bond is as liquid as any Treasury security, for it is redeemable at any time after two months of holding.

An H bond is redeemable on one month's notice after six months from issue date.

The big advantage that savings bonds have over Treasuries is that they cannot fluctuate, since they are always redeemable at face value plus accrued interest. Treasuries, on the other hand, can decline in price on any rise in money rates.

A major advantage in holding series E bonds is that you can defer reporting your interest for income tax purposes until the bonds are cashed or finally mature.

Freed in Murder Case, Indicted In Extortion Try

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Three men, including an ex-convict who was acquitted of a murder charge three weeks ago, have been indicted in connection with an alleged extortion attempt. Authorities say a fourth man has turned state's evidence in the case.

The ex-convict, Alfred R. Mancuso, 31, of Rochester, was indicted Tuesday by a Monroe County grand jury which also indicted Thomas E. Taylor, 24, of Rochester, and Benny Morganti, 33, of Syracuse.

They and Andrew A. Jackson, 35, of Rochester, allegedly tried to extort money from Abraham Hamza, 48, in connection with a horse race bet. Hamza is a vending - machine distributor here.

Jackson turned state's evidence before the grand jury Tuesday, Dist. Atty. John C. Little said.

Mancuso was found innocent March 4 of a charge of first-degree murder in the shooting of Benjamin Oken, 62, during an attempted holdup at Oken's paper company Oct. 25. Several days after his acquittal, Mancuso was married.

If approved, the agreement would be between the cooperative and W. E. Howell Associates Inc., of Lexington, Mass., and would cover a 1964 Insured Weather Improvement program. Dr. W. E. Howell, more than a decade ago did cloud seeding in the area as a means of bringing rain to fill New York City's drougth-stricken reservoirs.

The program, as proposed for this year, would involve several Mid-Hudson Valley counties. The service would provide a 24-hour watch service, seven days a week with radar surveillance of the area and its approaches, at least 80 silver iodide generoators, plus flares, two airplanes equipped for direct cloud seeding, and air-to-ground radio for pilot guidance.

Checks of interested members are held at the Red Hook bank for return, if the program does not get started.

Several area counties have had cloud-seeding projects in recent years.

Housing . . . .

the Pentagon said at the time, was to obtain "necessary information for the formulation of future policy."

A total of 62 base areas turned up with such good records in the first reports made last November that the commanders were relieved of the responsibility of reporting again on May 1.

Although the names of these bases were not disclosed, Fitt said some were in Texas and Oklahoma.

Harrell Hearing April 1

Moses Harrell, 27, of 57 Van-Buren Street, charged recently with third degree assault, pleaded innocent in city court today and hearing was put over to April 1. The charge was lodged by Bernice Watson, of 2 Post Street. Attorney Charles J. Saccoman appeared with Harrell.

Bill Freeing

tences for drug peddlers convicted two or more times. The minimum term for users, now six months, would be increased to nine for third offenders and to 11 months for subsequent convictions. The bills went to the Assembly.

Movies For Minors — Assemblyman Luigi R. Marano, R-Kings County, sent back to committee and thus ended consideration of legislation intended to strengthen bars against children viewing motion pictures unfit for their years. He said the motion picture industry had promised to help police present statutes.

Police Holidays — The Senate gave final legislative approval to a bill that would provide two more paid holidays for regular mnicipal policemen, making a total of eight, effective next Jan. 1. Columbus Day would be added and both Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, instead of either, would be paid holidays.

X Ray — The Assembly also passed and sent to Rockefeller a bill to provide for licensing and reglation in the field of X-ray technology. The vote was 80-65.

Workmen's Compensation — By a bare majority of the required vote, 76-67, the Assembly passed and sent to the Senate a measure that would restrict payments of workmen's disability benefits to those persons who had been on a payroll within four weeks. The amendment to the law resulted from court rulings that workmen on long leaves of absences without pay could collect insurance benefits.

Theaters—The Assembly completed final approval and sent to the governor a bill, introduced by the attorney general, to compel theater and producers of live shows to keep accurate financial records. The bill was one of a series put forward after an investigation of Broadway's theater practices.

Defrosters — Every automobile and truck built after Oct. 1, 1964 and registered in this state would have to be equippped with a defroster under a bill now before Gov. Rockefeller. The bill was given final legislative approval Tuesday night by the Senate.

Johnson Hopeful

going to be considered," he said. "That would be a logical place to include this program."

The late President John F. Kennedy tried to move the proposal through the House last year but encountered formidable opposition from Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee. Kennedy had been assured of the votes for Senate passage if the House acted.

There has been no outward sign that Mills has softened his opposition to the program. If Millls remains strongly opposed it, Johnson will need all of his political persuasiveness to get the committee to override the chairman.

Unless he can get Mills to go along, politicians think Johnson would accomplish a near-miracle by getting any bill passed before the November election.

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS

The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employes engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employes in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y. 10452 WYandotte 2-1235.

TOKYO (AP)—Prince Yoshi, Emperor Hirohito's youngest son, will marry Miss Hanako Tsugaru on Sept. 30 — shortly before the Tokyo Olympics, the Imperial Household Agency announced today. The prince, 28, and the sports-loving Miss Hanako, 23, are to be formally engaged April 14.

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson's choice for ambassador to Denmark, Mrs. Katherine Elkus White, says she is delighted the President is appointing women to high posts in government.

The mother ot two children and a grandmother of six returned Tuesday from a Paris meeting of the International Federation of University Women.

LONDON (AP) — The dowager grandmother of King Baudouin of the Belgians, Queen Elisabeth, has arrived in London "for reasons of health." A Belgian Embassy spokesman wouldn't give any details about what brought the 87 - year-old queen here from Brussels Tuesday.

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's so alive and it never sleeps," is the latest description of New York City. The comment comes from America's Junior Miss of 1964, Linda Felber, 18, of Colfax, Wash., who spent her first full day in New York Tuesday. She told newsmen she eventually hoped to go into theater or work in anthropology.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It took Jackie Loughery, a former Miss U.S.A., less than four minutes to get a divorce from Jack Webb along with $99,000 alimony.

The shapely actress complained that Webb was married to his work as a television actor, producer and director. This was the same complaint Webb's first two wives, Julie London, and Dorothy Towne, used to get divorces from him.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his family won't have to worry about finding a place to ski Easter weekend. He was unable to get reservations at Sun Valley, Idaho, but Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, sent the attorney general this telegram Tuesday: "Invite all the Kennedy's to come to Utah. Our snow exceeds 100 inches in depth, topped by new powder. Can assure excellent accommodations in Salt Lake City."

Stormy Weather Ices Up Midwest, Is Headed East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather moved into the Midwest today, causing hazardous driving in a four-state area, after early spring winds, snow and rain pounded the West for two days.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the storm should reach the East Coast by tonight or Thursday.

The Weather Bureau issued hazardous driving warnings for south central and eastern Kansas, northern Missouri, southeastern Iowa and west central Illinois. A persistent and sometimes heavy rain froze on highways as temperatures dropped.

Topeka, Kan., reported a thunderstorm which started Tuesday dropped sleet, freezing rain and hail. Hail described as the size of golf balls fell in Kansas City, Mo.

Snow fell in the central Plains and was expected to intensify as it moves into southern Iowa.

Unseasonably cold arctic air covering the north central states battled warm south winds sweeping in from the Gulf of Mexico. Showers and rain resulted through the lower and middle Mississippi Valley and northeast to Michigan.

Snow began tapering off in the mountains of Colorado, but still fell lightly. Flagstaff, Ariz., lay under 21 inches of snow. Schools were closed in the area and highways were clogged with drifted snow within a 40-mile radius.

Three highway deaths in separate accidents in Colorado were blamed on snow-slicked highways and roads.

The Weather Bureau said a heavy disturbance was indicated for the Southern and Gulf states tonight and Thursday.

Temperatures remained extremely cold in the west and north central area and dropped steadily in the Midwest.

Minot, N.D., reported —12 and Cutbank, Mont., —10. Great Falls, Mont., recorded a —9 reading. In South Dakota, Watertown was —2 and Aberdeen —3. Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis., reported 3 above.

Archbishop Mum

LONDON (AP) — The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, listened in silence Tuesday night as the Labor party leader in the House of Lords accused the Church of England of turning increasingly towards Rome.

Earl Alexander of Hillsborough, the opposition leader in the upper house, opposed approval of a measure passed by the church assembly to amend an old law prescribing that church altars must be made of wood and must be movable. Most Anglican altars are of stone and never moved.

Lord Alexander, who is connected with the United Kingdom of Protestant Churches, said: "There can be no possible doubt that these changes are being made step by step in order that the church may move further Romewards in its policies."

The measure was approved, with only Lord Alexander dissenting.

Broome Survey Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Binghamton - Broome County metropolitan area will be surveyed for preparation of a transportation plan under a $177,290 federal grant added to $88,646 in state funds.

The federal grant to the New York State Department of Commerce was announced Tuesday by the Urban Renewal Administration.

Results of the work will be presented in form of reports, maps, charts and other graphic material.

Pierre Ponders Ballot Troubles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pierre Salinger is wondering aloud whether partisan politics are responsible for his troubles in getting his name on the California primary ballot for U.S. senator.

A legal wrangle over Salinger's eligibility as a Democratic candidate was taken to court Tuesday. His attorneys asked the State Supreme Court to order the state to place his name on the ballot in the June 2 primary.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, a Republican, forced the issue into court Tuesday by rejecting the former presidential press secretary's candidacy.

Jordan said there was no proof that Salinger was either a resident of California or a Democrat.

"I just wonder," Salinger said, "if it isn't because of the Republican feeling that I would be the most difficult candidate to defeat in November.

"I can't understand why Jordan changed his mind 48 hours after he said he thought I would qualify as a candidate."

Jordan had been quoted prior to Salinger's filing for nomination, that he would place his name on the ballot.

Salinger had not lived in California since 1955. He is a registered voter in Virginia.

The other two Democrats Salinger will face—if he gets his name on the ballot — are incumbent Sen. Clair Engle and State Controller Alan Cranston.

Faces Life Term

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Willie Smith, 69, has been convicted of first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying of another man and faces what a judge says will be a sentence of life imprisonment.

An Erie County court jury decided Tuesday night that Smith killed Curtiss Cooper, 42, after the men, from Buffalo, argued over approximately $40 last Aug. 1.

Dairy Imports Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that 14,774,000 pounds of dairy products were imported during the eight-month period ended Feb. 29.

Import quotas for these products for the year ending June 30 total 31,520,000 pounds. Cheese made up 12,874,000 pounds during the period. Other imports included 448,023 pounds of butter, 6,000 pounds of dried whole milk, 1,208,518 pounds of dried skim milk, and 238,072 pounds of dried butter milk.

For Injuries

Award Bedridden Man $220,000; $25,000 a Year

NEW YORK (AP) — A man paralyzed in a construction accident has won a settlement of $220,000 outright and $25,000 a year for life—all tax-free.

The money will be paid to Querino Giancola, 38, by Webb & Knapp Construction Corp. and University Center Inc., which were constructing the Kips Bay Plaza Apartments on the east side when Giancola was injured in 1960.

The companies were charged with negligence after a plank broke and Giancola fell one story to the building foundation. His neck was broken and he suffered other injuries, and lost the use of both legs. He has been bedridden since the accident and requires constant medical attention.

Giancola and his wife, who have no children, did not tell newsmen about their plans for the future. At the time of the accident, Giancola was earning $127 a week.

Ghana won independence in 1957.

Tear Gas Stops Korean Students

SEOUL (AP) — Troops used tear gas today to block thousands of students marching on President Chung Hee Park's mansion to protest concessions to Japan in Tokyo talks seeking to normalize Japanese-Korean relations.

Several Injured

An army lieutenant and several soldiers were injured when the shouting mob tried to force its way toward Park's hillside mansion. The president was believed inside.

Steel-helmeted combat troops armed with rifles fired tear gas grenades into one surging crowd. The students replied with a barrage of rocks.

About 2,000 students from Han-Yang University jammed the area and stood within arm's length of the troops, who were called out against demonstrators for the first time since Park became civilian president last December.

Another 2,000 students marched on the capitol building and sent in two representatives to Premier Choi Doo-sun with a set of questions about the Tokyo talks.

Earlier today several thousand students were blocked by riot police about 200 yards from Park's residence. Home Minister Um Min - yung conferred briefly with the leaders and led two into the presidential mansion where they saw Lee Hurak, the president's chief secretary.

The students said later they explained their demands and Lee promised to set up a meeting between Park and student leaders this week.

More than 10,000 students joined in the demonstrations, which were held for the second straight day to denounce Park's handling of the Tokyo talks and to demand that they be suspended. Similar demonstrations were staged in Pusan and Taegu, Korea's second and third largest cities.

Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: The amount of fire insurance on our house hasn't been changed for a number of years although the value of the house has almost doubled. Is this increase in value automatically taken care of by the policy or should we increase our insurance?

ANSWER: Increase your insurance and don't wait even until tomorrow to do it. Your insurance protects you only up to the face value of your policy.
